

Blackwood on Bridge— Bewildering Example of Muzzy Play

Every Bid Deserves
An Exclamation

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

EVERY ONE of Mr. Muzzy's bids on today's hand richly deserves an exclamation point. This is an interesting, if bewildering, example of the Muzzy system in action.

After Mr. Champion's two-club overcall, Mr. Muzzy made the amazing decision to pass his fine hand. Mr. Abel also passed and Miss Brash went into a huddle.

She was very close to a minimum bid and she almost let the two-club bid stand. Her natural

North dealer
Neither side vulnerable
MISS BRASH
S-3 10 3
H-10 9 4 2
D-10 9 8 7 6
C-10 9 8 7 6

MR. ABEL MR. CHAMPION
S-3 6
H-10 9 4 2
D-10 9 8 7 6
C-10 9 8 7 6

MR. MUZZY
S-3 6
H-10 9 4 2
D-10 9 8 7 6
C-10 9 8 7 6

The bidding:
NORTH EAST SOUTH WEST
1 D 2 C Pass Pass
2 Dbl. Pass 4 N T Pass
3 D Pass 5 N T Pass
4 S H Pass 6 S All Pass

optimism prevailed, however, and she gave it one more try, doubling for a takeout.

Mr. Champion was quite disappointed. He had hoped to buy the contract himself. Now, he crossed his fingers and hoped his opponents wouldn't land in a game bid. (They didn't).

Mr. Muzzy's bid on the second round was a bomb shell. "Four no trump," he called. He couldn't bid over two clubs and yet here he was trying for a slam.

Miss Brash showed her one ace and then Mr. Muzzy called five no trump. Now he was apparently trying for a grand slam!

Learning that his partner had two kings, he "conservatively" put the hand into six spades, a suit not previously mentioned during the bidding.

Mr. Abel opened the seven of clubs and Mr. Muzzy won with the ace. He ruffed a club in dummy, then laid down dummy's ace, king, queen of hearts, discarding the five of diamonds on the third heart.

Then the fourth heart was led from the board Mr. Champion ruffed with the eight of spades. But Mr. Muzzy overruffed with the nine and trumped his last club with dummy's 10 of spades. Next he led dummy's last trump and cashed his ace and king. As you see, this dropped Mr. Abel's queen. Mr. Muzzy spread the rest of the hand, conceding a diamond trick and making his slam.

Nearly Out of Mind

Mr. Champion was practically out of his mind. He pointed out all of the lucky breaks Mr. Muzzy got.

"What kind of crazy stuff is this?" Mr. Champion demanded. "You can't come in over my two club bid and how next minute you turn up in a spade slam."

"It says in the books," replied Mr. Muzzy primly, "that when my partner opens the bidding first or second hand, she is obligated to bid again."

"Oh NO!" Mr. Champion wailed. "That's when the partner of the opening bidder responds—and then only."

"I play it that way when ANYBODY responds," Mr. Muzzy insisted. "And kindly put down my score while you're still able to hold that pencil."

Send questions on bridge to Mr. Blackwood, The Indianapolis Times, Indianapolis 9.

Mrs. Shlemon to Show Persian Handicraft

By MARJORIE TURE

LOOT FROM THE land of the Arabian Nights will come to Indianapolis Nov. 7.

Bringing the exotic examples of Persian handicrafts will be Mrs. Julia Shlemon.

Mrs. Shlemon will give an illustrated talk at 2:30 p. m. Nov. 7 in Block's Auditorium and will be in the store's jewelry department through Nov. 12.

The speaker was born in Rezaieh, Iran. She was educated both in her native land and in the United States. Now an American citizen she has spent many years studying both the history of ancient Persia and the progress of modern Iran.

'Daughter of Iran'
Mrs. Shlemon, who has received the name of Iran-Dokht (daughter of Iran) from Prince M. Pahlavi, speaks with force and color about the arts of the Near East.

She'll have for show gold, silver and enamel jewelry, rugs, antique woodwork, needlework and silk prints. And some of the jewelry pieces are for sale.

Mrs. Shlemon is unique in that she is one of the few educated Persian born women to take a place in public life and she was the first Persian woman to give lectures in the United States.

Sense of Humor
Completely emancipated, she has an American sense of humor, exhibiting a lively interest in such typical events as the Atlantic City beauty contests.

She's become adjusted to the idea of women in swimming suits, though the women she knew in her school days showed no more than a pair of eyes when they were on the streets.

She still has the old veils for costumes and to add oriental flavor to her lectures.

Send questions on gardening to Mrs. Smith, The Indianapolis Times, Indianapolis 9.

DR. ANSWERS—

Question: Should a woman who is pregnant travel? My husband wants me to go to New York with him and the doctor says to travel at my own risk.

Answer: There is apparently some risk in traveling, especially during the early months of pregnancy. Some women have no difficulty but others, especially those who have a history of easy miscarriages, can get into trouble. Each case has to be decided by itself on the basis of the importance of the trip.

Question: Please tell me why I always have cold feet and hands, summer and winter.

Answer: I don't know. Some people merely seem to be this way without any adequate explanation.

Send questions on bridge to Mr. Blackwood, The Indianapolis Times, Indianapolis 9.

DR. ANSWERS—

Question: Should a woman who is pregnant travel? My husband wants me to go to New York with him and the doctor says to travel at my own risk.

Answer: There is apparently some risk in traveling, especially during the early months of pregnancy. Some women have no difficulty but others, especially those who have a history of easy miscarriages, can get into trouble. Each case has to be decided by itself on the basis of the importance of the trip.

Question: Please tell me why I always have cold feet and hands, summer and winter.

Answer: I don't know. Some people merely seem to be this way without any adequate explanation.

Send questions on bridge to Mr. Blackwood, The Indianapolis Times, Indianapolis 9.

DR. ANSWERS—

Question: Should a woman who is pregnant travel? My husband wants me to go to New York with him and the doctor says to travel at my own risk.

Answer: There is apparently some risk in traveling, especially during the early months of pregnancy. Some women have no difficulty but others, especially those who have a history of easy miscarriages, can get into trouble. Each case has to be decided by itself on the basis of the importance of the trip.

Question: Please tell me why I always have cold feet and hands, summer and winter.

Answer: I don't know. Some people merely seem to be this way without any adequate explanation.

Send questions on bridge to Mr. Blackwood, The Indianapolis Times, Indianapolis 9.

DR. ANSWERS—

Question: Should a woman who is pregnant travel? My husband wants me to go to New York with him and the doctor says to travel at my own risk.

Answer: There is apparently some risk in traveling, especially during the early months of pregnancy. Some women have no difficulty but others, especially those who have a history of easy miscarriages, can get into trouble. Each case has to be decided by itself on the basis of the importance of the trip.

Question: Please tell me why I always have cold feet and hands, summer and winter.

Answer: I don't know. Some people merely seem to be this way without any adequate explanation.

Send questions on bridge to Mr. Blackwood, The Indianapolis Times, Indianapolis 9.

DR. ANSWERS—

Question: Should a woman who is pregnant travel? My husband wants me to go to New York with him and the doctor says to travel at my own risk.

Answer: There is apparently some risk in traveling, especially during the early months of pregnancy. Some women have no difficulty but others, especially those who have a history of easy miscarriages, can get into trouble. Each case has to be decided by itself on the basis of the importance of the trip.

Question: Please tell me why I always have cold feet and hands, summer and winter.

Answer: I don't know. Some people merely seem to be this way without any adequate explanation.

Send questions on bridge to Mr. Blackwood, The Indianapolis Times, Indianapolis 9.

DR. ANSWERS—

Question: Should a woman who is pregnant travel? My husband wants me to go to New York with him and the doctor says to travel at my own risk.

Answer: There is apparently some risk in traveling, especially during the early months of pregnancy. Some women have no difficulty but others, especially those who have a history of easy miscarriages, can get into trouble. Each case has to be decided by itself on the basis of the importance of the trip.

Question: Please tell me why I always have cold feet and hands, summer and winter.

Answer: I don't know. Some people merely seem to be this way without any adequate explanation.

Send questions on bridge to Mr. Blackwood, The Indianapolis Times, Indianapolis 9.

DR. ANSWERS—

Question: Should a woman who is pregnant travel? My husband wants me to go to New York with him and the doctor says to travel at my own risk.

Answer: There is apparently some risk in traveling, especially during the early months of pregnancy. Some women have no difficulty but others, especially those who have a history of easy miscarriages, can get into trouble. Each case has to be decided by itself on the basis of the importance of the trip.

Question: Please tell me why I always have cold feet and hands, summer and winter.

Answer: I don't know. Some people merely seem to be this way without any adequate explanation.

Send questions on bridge to Mr. Blackwood, The Indianapolis Times, Indianapolis 9.

DR. ANSWERS—

Question: Should a woman who is pregnant travel? My husband wants me to go to New York with him and the doctor says to travel at my own risk.

Answer: There is apparently some risk in traveling, especially during the early months of pregnancy. Some women have no difficulty but others, especially those who have a history of easy miscarriages, can get into trouble. Each case has to be decided by itself on the basis of the importance of the trip.

Question: Please tell me why I always have cold feet and hands, summer and winter.

Answer: I don't know. Some people merely seem to be this way without any adequate explanation.

Send questions on bridge to Mr. Blackwood, The Indianapolis Times, Indianapolis 9.

DR. ANSWERS—

Question: Should a woman who is pregnant travel? My husband wants me to go to New York with him and the doctor says to travel at my own risk.

Answer: There is apparently some risk in traveling, especially during the early months of pregnancy. Some women have no difficulty but others, especially those who have a history of easy miscarriages, can get into trouble. Each case has to be decided by itself on the basis of the importance of the trip.

Question: Please tell me why I always have cold feet and hands, summer and winter.

Answer: I don't know. Some people merely seem to be this way without any adequate explanation.

Send questions on bridge to Mr. Blackwood, The Indianapolis Times, Indianapolis 9.

DR. ANSWERS—

Question: Should a woman who is pregnant travel? My husband wants me to go to New York with him and the doctor says to travel at my own risk.

Answer: There is apparently some risk in traveling, especially during the early months of pregnancy. Some women have no difficulty but others, especially those who have a history of easy miscarriages, can get into trouble. Each case has to be decided by itself on the basis of the importance of the trip.

Question: Please tell me why I always have cold feet and hands, summer and winter.

Answer: I don't know. Some people merely seem to be this way without any adequate explanation.

Send questions on bridge to Mr. Blackwood, The Indianapolis Times, Indianapolis 9.

DR. ANSWERS—

Question: Should a woman who is pregnant travel? My husband wants me to go to New York with him and the doctor says to travel at my own risk.

Answer: There is apparently some risk in traveling, especially during the early months of pregnancy. Some women have no difficulty but others, especially those who have a history of easy miscarriages, can get into trouble. Each case has to be decided by itself on the basis of the importance of the trip.

Question: Please tell me why I always have cold feet and hands, summer and winter.

Answer: I don't know. Some people merely seem to be this way without any adequate explanation.

Send questions on bridge to Mr. Blackwood, The Indianapolis Times, Indianapolis 9.

DR. ANSWERS—

Question: Should a woman who is pregnant travel? My husband wants me to go to New York with him and the doctor says to travel at my own risk.

Answer: There is apparently some risk in traveling, especially during the early months of pregnancy. Some women have no difficulty but others, especially those who have a history of easy miscarriages, can get into trouble. Each case has to be decided by itself on the basis of the importance of the trip.

Question: Please tell me why I always have cold feet and hands, summer and winter.

Answer: I don't know. Some people merely seem to be this way without any adequate explanation.

Mrs. Julia Shlemon

Teen Problems— Hints on 'Don'ts' in a Movie

By JEAN

SIXTY PER CENT of a teen's dates are movie dates.

—maybe more. So-o, how's your movie etiquette?

When a boy invites a gal to the cinema, he naturally pays her way. But a guy needn't ante up for a ticket if he simply encounters a gal pal in the lobby. And no self-respecting Sue will expect him to!

A gal, of course, enters the theater ahead of her escort. Then when the usher approaches, the boy says, "Two, please," and the girl follows the official down the aisle, preceding her beau. Exiting, however, the escort leads the way up the aisle. (Odd, isn't it?)

INSIDE the theater, you can be seen and heard, you know, in spite of the dimness and apparent privacy. It's bad manners to giggle-gabble throughout the picture. It's definitely rude to broadcast would-be witty comments or to emit groans, moans or whistles. Maybe other people like the film, even if you do not!

Yoo-hooing to friends or frantic wig-wagging is baby behavior. And so is elbowing your neighbors or kneeling the back of the seat ahead.

Petting in the movies rates only snickers and titters! Why make yourself an object of amusement? The audience came to see the hero and heroine make love—not you!

Women Lead in Getting Sore Feet, Doctor Says

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

WASHINGTON—According to Dr. L. A. Walsh, a Wilmington, Del., chiropodist, there are 53 known ways to get sore feet and women excel in all 53.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

Plan Your Menus Well In Advance

Foresight Curbs
Waste of Food

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Staff Writer

If you plan your menus well in advance you can save money.

You cut down waste of food this way, you get full advantage of foods that are plentiful and therefore usually cheaper, and you can prevent monotony in your meals by making sure all the food will be eaten and enjoyed.

The following budget menus have been worked out by Frances Foley Gannon of New York City's Department of Markets with the assistance of dietitians.

Dinner: Breaded broiled chicken, mashed sweet potatoes, creamed Swiss chard, carrot relish, bread, butter or margarine, apple cake, coffee, milk.

Dinner: Poached eggs on corned beef hash, chopped cooked kale, mixed salad, bread, butter or margarine, chocolate pudding, coffee, milk.

Dinner: Old-fashioned goulash with vegetables, cabbage, apple and pineapple salad, bread, butter or margarine, quick rice pudding, coffee, milk.

Dinner: Onion pancakes with creamed dried beef, peas, whole parsleyed carrots, lettuce slaw, bread, butter or margarine, sugar crumb cake, coffee, milk.

Dinner: Individual meat and vegetable loaves, creamed potatoes, yellow turnips, bread, butter or margarine, fruit salad, hot raisin muffins, coffee, milk.