

Barbara Hill Will Become Bride Today

Vows to Be Read
In Anderson Church

Anderson, Nov. 5.—White chrysanthemums, ferns and cathedral candelabras will decorate the altar of the First Presbyterian Church for today's wedding of Miss Barbara Alford Hill and William Miller Kennedy. The Rev. George Taggart will read the single-ring vows at 4:30 p. m.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Alford Hill of this city and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Wilbur D. Kennedy, La Jolla, Cal.

The attendants will be gowned alike in dresses of coral velvet with matching caps. Mrs. Julia Sefton will be the matron of honor. The bridesmaids will be Mrs. William S. Zaring, Indianapolis, the bride's cousin; Mrs. Robert Westaway, Skillman, N. J.; Miss Barbara Wintinger, La Jolla, Cal.; and Miss Janet Baumgartner, Fond du Lac, Wis.

Leslie C. Krusen, Delanco, N. J., will be the best man. Ushers will include George and Warren Durin, Cedar Rapids, Ia., the bridegroom's cousin; William J. Alford III, Hackensack, N. J.; John C. Alford, Fairlawn, N. J.; and George E. Alford, New Haven, Conn., all cousins of the bride; William Trump, Milwaukee, Wis., and Robert Wintinger of La Jolla.

Reception in Club

The bride will be gowned in ivory silk satin. The dress will have a fitted bodice, appliqued with Alencon lace, long sleeves tapering at the wrist, a wide skirt and short train. Her full length illusion veil will fall from a matching lace cap. She will carry a valley lily and ivory rosebud nosegay caught into an antique handkerchief holder.

A reception will be held in the Anderson Country Club. Later the couple will fly to the west coast. They will be in Carmel-by-the-Sea. The bride will travel in a dark gray wool dressmaker suit trimmed in black velvet. Her accessories will be in black. They will live in San Francisco.

The bride attended Tudor Hall School, Indianapolis, and Smith College and was graduated from the Abbey Academy, Andover, Mass., and Northwestern University. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority. The bridegroom attended the University of Illinois and was graduated from the Wharton School of Finance, University of Pennsylvania. He belongs to Sigma Chi Fraternity.

For Women Blackwood on Bridge— Muzzy Makes Small Slam as Partner Dies Thousand Deaths

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

MOST PLAYERS would prefer to have a little more than Miss Brash had, for an immediate jump raise of partner's suit. But she thought she had plenty. In fact she probably considered her three club call a slight underbid.

Mr. Muzzy's bid of six clubs was surprisingly good. He was certainly entitled to believe there was a play for 12 tricks and this direct type of bidding sometimes makes it difficult for the opponents to get off to their best opening lead.

The bidding:
T-C Pass 3-C Pass
4-C All Pass

As it happened Mr. Abel had no problem. The queen from his solid diamond sequence was a natural. Mr. Muzzy won on the board with the ace of diamonds and proceeded to make his contract because of his innate love of a cross-ruff.

At the second trick he ruffed a diamond in his hand. Then he led a club to dummy's king, picking up all of the opposing trumps.

Already Ice-Cold
He led to his ace of hearts and ruffed a heart in dummy. He followed with dummy's last diamond which he ruffed. Then he trumped his last heart on the board. At this point with all red cards gone from both the closed hand and dummy, the contract is ice-cold against any defense.

Apparently Mr. Muzzy did not realize this, however, because when he led a small spade from the board at the eighth trick he remarked, "Well, partner, we've got to be lucky." He undoubtedly thought he was going to have to take two spade finesses and that the king or jack of spades would have to be on his right.

Mr. Muzzy finessed the 10 of spades which lost to the jack. Now Mr. Abel was in a hopeless position. Any return lead was suicide. A spade would run right into Mr. Muzzy's ace-queen. Actually Mr. Abel led back the king of hearts.

After considerable agonizing, during which Miss Brash died a thousand deaths, Mr. Muzzy trumped in dummy and discarded the queen of spades from his hand. Six clubs, bid and made! "Do I hear any comments on my play?" asked Mr. Muzzy proudly.

"Yes," deflated Mr. Abel, "you didn't know what you were doing."

Miss Toffolo Is Bride Of Dr. Dempsey

St. Francis Church
Scene of Ceremony

Miss Licia Toffolo and Dr. Eugene Kirby Dempsey exchanged vows at 9:30 a. m. today in the St. Francis de Sales Catholic Church. The Rev. Fr. Paul Utz officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Toffolo, 2909 E. 17th St., are the parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the nephew of Dr. William Kirby, Newark, N. J.

Miss Wanda Toffolo, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a damask rose satin gown made in Empire style. The lace bodice had small buttons down the back and cap sleeves. A bouffant hooped skirt fell into a cathedral train edged in scallops. The two-tiered fingertip veil of imported illusion fell from a satin and Venice lace half-hat studded with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis, roses and an orchid.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Russell Curry, Bloomington, Ind.; Miss Anne Marie Kirby, South Orange, N. J.; Miss Erna Santarossa and Miss Lorraine Ajamie, work-gowns of Lorraine "green" satin in the same style.

Wears White Satin
Best man was James Dempsey, Newark, N. J., brother of the bridegroom. The ushers were Fred Neff, South Orange, N. J.; Carlo Toffolo, Mario Santarossa and Luke Helmann.

The bride's gown was white satin and Point Venice lace studded with seed pearls. The molded bodice was accented with a Victorian lace collar. A bouffant hooped skirt fell into a cathedral train edged in scallops. The two-tiered fingertip veil of imported illusion fell from a satin and Venice lace half-hat studded with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis, roses and an orchid.

The wedding breakfast was in Whispering Winds. After tonight's reception at 7:30 o'clock in the Severin Hotel, the couple will leave for the south. The bride will travel in a gunmetal gray gabardine suit topped with a matching three-quarters length coat. They will make their home in Newark.

The bride was graduated from Marian College.

Dishing the Dirt

By MARGUERITE SMITH

Q—Why do chrysanthemums and azaleums have dried up leaves about two-thirds of the way up the stems. E. Washington St.

A—A variety of pests causes this leaf "rust." An asparagus (meadow) moth, a leaf fungus and a soil fungus—to mention just three. However, I'd tackle the trouble from a cultural angle. This fall, cut the stems back to ground level and remove them from the mud bed, burning if necessary. Then next spring, divide (or better, slip) these old plants and set them singly in properly prepared soil, so air can get to the leaves. Then never wet the foliage by sprinkling. Soak the soil instead during dry periods.

Luncheon Set

Members of the Irvington Unit, American Legion Auxiliary, will have a covered dish luncheon at 12:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Post Home.
