

General Gets Second Star

A general gets promoted . . . Judge Cleon W. Mount of Tipton pins second star on Indiana's Brig. Gen. Jesse McIntosh during ceremonies last night at armory here. Gen. McIntosh, commander of the all-Hoosier 38th National Guard Division, was promoted to major general by the Army. Judge Mount, a retired Army colonel, has been pinning promotions on the Hoosier general since he first won his bars as a second lieutenant in 1923.

'My Bill Is Dead'— Wife Learns Her Hubby Is 100-Burglary Suspect

By BOB BOURNE

"My Bill is dead." The small, pretty brunet dabbed at her eyes as she talked. She had just learned that her husband, whom she knew as "kind and loving" had been arrested by police and FBI agents in connection with nearly 100 robberies and burglaries in northern Indiana. "It's just so hard to believe. I still think that maybe he will walk in that door and tell me that it is all a terrible mistake."

Mrs. Wilbur Wright, who had married her husband after a whirlwind romance here last June, was talking about a man the police know as Willie Rife. He was arrested yesterday in a room in the 2400 block in N. Park Ave.

"I can't help remembering," she sobbed, "how he used to bring me flowers and little things. We were so happy."

Posed As Salesman
"He always told me that he was a salesman for a juke box company, and that he made his calls during the night. He would leave home about 5:30 o'clock in the evening and be home again in the morning. He also said that he sold matchbooks as a side line."

Mrs. Wright frequently dabbed at her eyes with her handkerchief, as she told how she had come here three years ago to be with her first husband, how that marriage ended in tragedy, and how she met Wilbur Wright through a friend.

"After we were married, I took him home to Santa Fe, N. M., and introduced him to all my friends and my family. He was always neat and very polite. It is hard to imagine that he could have just been playing a game all that time."

Mrs. Wright first learned that her husband was wanted by authorities last week after he had narrowly escaped a trap. The trap was set up in Grant County, north of Marion. Law enforcement officers from Huntington, Marion, Grant and Wabash Counties, and state police took part in the chase.

Wrecks Car in Escape
Rife escaped after he wrecked a car and ran into nearby woods. The next day his picture appeared in a Marion newspaper.

Local friends of Rife, who knew nothing of his after-dark escapades, recognized the photo and showed it to Mrs. Wright.

"I was beside myself. I didn't know what to do. When he didn't come home, I came here to stay with friends."

"I took no part of him. As far as I'm concerned, my Bill is dead. Willie Rife is a man I have never known. I only knew Wilbur Wright. He was a nice man and that's the way I want to remember him."

"After dark, my Bill became Willie Rife. I never knew that man, and I don't want to," she sobbed.

"My Bill is dead."

15 Face Hearing Today In Dice Game Raid

Fifteen men were to face trial in Municipal Court today as the result of a dice game raid last night at the Friendly Billiard Parlor, 1212 N. Senate Ave.

William Hopkins, 45, of 318 11th St., was charged with keeping a gambling house and 14 others were slated for vagrancy. Police seized a revolver, ammunition and a book of policy tickets in the raid.
