

It Happened Last Night—

Just Call Bing 'Hippy' PodnerCrosby Chooses Own Nickname
In Film With Hopalong Cassidy

By Earl Wilson

NEW YORK, Mar. 31—Bing Crosby (who arrives soon to tape five radio shows before proceeding to England to play golf, and to Rome for an audience with Pope Pius) has decided on a name for himself in the movie he will make with Hopalong Cassidy.

Hopalong's gun holster will, of course, bear the nickname, "Hippy."

Bing's holster will read: "Hippy."

A BIG Hollywood actor fainted when his wife divorced him, but, according to Jeff Clark, he was revived in no time.

ERROL FLYNN's trying hard to get his Princess di Ghica ("the Greek") into this country, but her papers have been held up.

Gertrude Niesen wore a Buster Brown blouse with a necklace up to her chin on the "Who Said That?" TV show Monday night. Kaye Ballard says any girl with a high neckline on TV now is an exhibitionist. . . . Nick Kenny is set to become the next disc jockey. . . . Ambassador (to Ireland) Garrett may be appointed to the Vatican.

George Jessel's new girl is Gloria Swanson. . . . Sarah Churchill goes to work for Monte Proser and Edward Dureya Dowling today (well, anyway, she starts rehearsing for an appearance on their Packard TV show).

I SAW Gary Cooper at the Copacabana where he's gone to see Larry Storch impersonate him—and Cooper liked it a lot. Storch also impersonates a drunken woman at a bar—who says, "I'm goin' home and swear off drinkin'." And believe me, I'm the one that can do it—why I've already done it thousands of times."

THE U. S. Employment Bureau got a letter (says Juliet Lowell) from a mother who worked nights and needed a baby-sitter because she had a son of 5 and a daughter.
