Navy Silent On Hunt for Mystery Sub

Craft Called
'Definitely Not
One of Ours'

AVALON, Apr. 3 (UP)—The Navy threw a shroud of secrecy today around its search for a mysterious submarine reported sighted in the vicinity where a convicted traitor disappeared in the Pacific Ocean.

The modern-type submarine was spotted yesterday by four Coast Guardsmen at the Point Arguello Light Station about 300 miles north of here. Lookouts at a Coast Guard lifeboat station nearby also saw the craft.

It "definitely was not one of ours," the Coast Guardsmen said.

The supposed overseas vessel was sighted about 150 miles northwest of the spot where a man believed to be wealthy Detroit import Theodore Donay, 51, disappeared from a rented motorboat.

Mr. Donay was convicted in 1943 as a traitor for aiding Hans Peter Krug, an escaped Nazi prisoner of war. He was released last year after serving 6½ years in federal prison.

Boat Found Adrift

Donay rented the boat here yesterday and told boathouse attendants he would be back in an hour before piloting it out of Catalina Island Harbor. The boat was found adrift 10 hours later in the open sea.

Five hours and 20 minutes
after the motorboat was found,
the Coast Guardsmen reported
sighting the submarine.

Avalon Police said the man identified as Donay had purchased 10 feet of galvanized chain, 10
spools of soft soldering wire and a pair of pliers before he left the harbor.

Naval intelligence officers refused to talk about the reported submarine and made no attempt publicly to link it with Donay's disappearance.

Fog Forces Return

Homicide officers listed Donay simply as a missing person and possible suicide.

A Navy airplane criss-crossed the area methodically in search for the unidentified craft yesterday until fog forced it to return to its base. An officer said merely that results were "negative."

Civilian authorities also launched a search for Donay's body.

It was reported that naval intelligence officers were investigating the possibility that someone could have landed on the mainland from the sub. The Navy did not confirm this report, however.

Running Lights On

The Los Angeles FBI office said it had not been notified officially about the submarine but would investigate if there were any indications of sabotage similar to the wartime incidents when German saboteurs landed on the east coast via submarine.

Donay was identified as the man who went out in the motorboat by papers in a wallet he left with attendants.

Power of Christianity Not Realized, Minister Declares

Warms Greatest Current Danger Is Breakdown of Moral, Spiritual Forces

By EMMA MAYER MILNER Times Church Editor

Dr. Charles T. Leber, New York, caused Christians of many denominations to square their shoulders this afternoon and take a more cheerful view of our world today.

Dr. Leber, who heads the world-wide missionary effort of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., preached on "What Too Many People Don't Know" at noon in the First Baptist Church. He is sponsored here by the Indianapolis Church Federation and Dr. Howard J. Baumgartel, executive secretary.

"You church people don't begin to realize the tremendous strength and power of the Christian movement you support," is in essence what he told his congregation. He gave his hearers the heartening, reverse side of the world picture.

Minister's Statements

"Three things too many people don't know are:

"ONE: The universality and the invincibility of the world Christian church.

"TWO: The power of the Christian idea.

"THREE: The strength of the Christian faith.

"The greatest danger with which we are confronted today is the breakdown of the moral and spiritual forces," he continued.

"This is not so much due to evil which most people know, but to the fact that so many do not know the resources of righteousness and spiritual strength which we do have.

"Our need is that the church release this Christian knowledge which alone can overcome evil man and evil society."

Dr. Leber addressed the interdenominational Ministerial Association preceding his noonday sermon.

"Cinderella" opens at the Indiana Theater Wednesday.

Showers to Bring
Cooler Weather

Rain today will bring cooler weather to Indianapolis by late tonight.

The Weather Bureau said temperatures that fell to 54 early today would reach 58 this afternoon and slide to between 42 and 45 tonight. Showers today will become only occasional tonight and tomorrow. The mercury will climb to 50 tomorrow.
