

94th Annual Fair Opens Tomorrow

More Than Million Visitors Expected

(Continued From Page One)

feature for four days will be the Bob Hope show with the film and radio star appearing in person. The Cetlin & Wilson Midway Shows, already set up, is one of the biggest carnival attractions ever signed for a state fair. The Midway will be open daily from 11 a. m. until 1 a. m.

Thrill For Crowd

Irish Moran and his Hell Drivers will provide a thrill show before the grandstand nightly along with the State Fair Follies, a variety show to be presented on the big stage before the grand stand every night.

Tex Beneke's orchestra will provide music for the horse show in the Coliseum following the departure of the Bob Hope Show.

Biggest event before the grand stand tomorrow night will be the Boy Scout Jamboree with 5000 Hoosier scouts participating.

New Feature Listed

New feature this year at the fair will be the Atomic Energy Display which will occupy the entire Education Building.

A staff of trained guides will be on hand to take fair visitors through the exhibit arranged by Dr. David DeJarnett, director of the American Museum of Atomic Energy at Oak Ridge, Tenn. Additional exhibits will be provided by Purdue and Indiana Universities.

The large exhibit will demonstrate "as clearly as possible the mysteries of the atomic bomb and atomic energy," Dr. DeJarnett explained.

Livestock Move In

Today the cattle barns, swine barns and sheep shelters were beehives of activity as prize livestock from throughout the country moved in for tomorrow's grand opening.

Predominating in the agricultural exhibits were the entries of Hoosier 4-H Club boys and girls. First three days of the fair this year will be given to youth activities with the boys and girls of Hoosierland holding first place in judging, exhibits and entertainment.

Tomorrow has been designated "Youth Activity Day" and all children under 12 will be admitted to the grounds free.

Admission will be 60 cents for adults, 60 cents for each vehicle and 35 cents for children throughout the nine-day exposition.

% Smith Called 'Willy' By His Wife

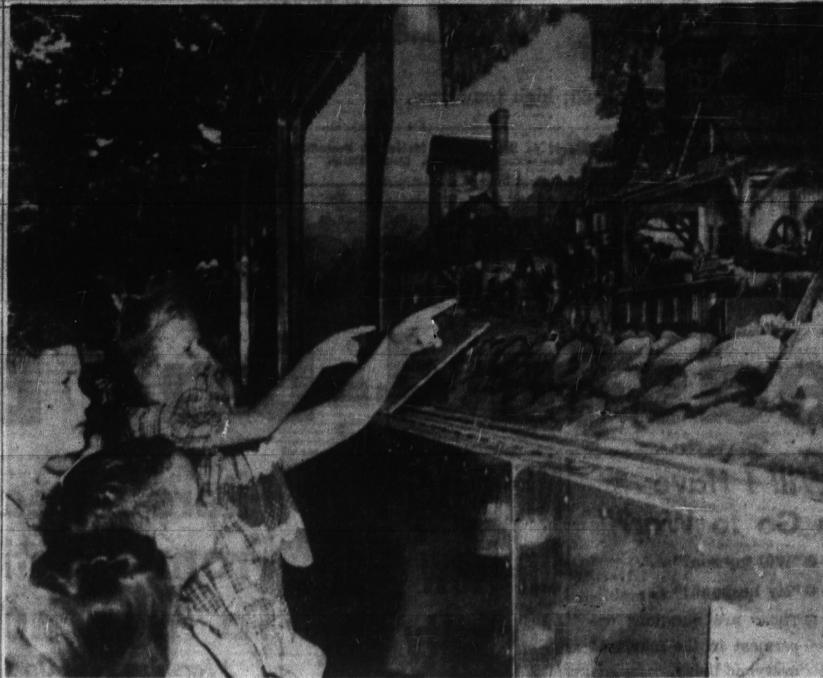

PEARSON, Ga. (UPI)—City Councilman Smith has a birth certificate to prove that his first name really is % (pronounced five-eighths).

At the time he was born Mr. Smith said, there were six Frank Smiths in Dupont, Ga., including his father.

His name (or fraction) was chosen by his father because it is easy to pronounce and write and because his father wanted to know one Smith who was easy to identify.

Mrs. % Smith calls her husband "Willy."

Children Are Given Preview of Fair Exhibit

A preview of a State Fair attraction was given yesterday to children at the General Protestant Orphans' Home, 1404 S. State Ave. They pointed with interest to the miniature saw mill, a part of Dick Dillon's "Working World Masterpiece" carried to the orphanage grounds in a 45-foot tractor trailer. Four special built semi-trailers carry the exhibit of 150 characters, 30 scenes and 30,000 working parts. Three disabled soldiers cut and carved the exhibit with pocket knives in eight years. Six stops were made in the city by the exhibit, part of Cetlin & Wilson World on Parade Midway.

9 Hoosiers on War Casualty List

(Continued From Page One) reported yesterday to have been transported to the Korean war zone, has been listed as wounded in action.

His mother, Mrs. Eva June Hughes, 5744 E. Michigan St., received a telegram from the Department of Defense notifying her of her son's fate. She left shortly afterwards for Detroit to visit a sister, friends here said today.

Pfc. Jones, who is 25, was stationed in Japan before being transferred to the war front.

Pfc. Cecil K. Cogland, son of Everett L. Kelly, Rites Arranged

Everett L. Kelly, retired grocer, died today in Methodist Hospital. Mr. Kelly, who was 60, resided at 30 Parkview Ave. He was born in Crawfordsville and had lived here for 26 years. He formerly operated a grocery at 2711 E. St. Clair St.

Mr. Kelly was a member of the Christian Church in Crawfordsville. He is survived by his wife, Ruth; a daughter, Mrs. Geraldine Pearson, Indianapolis; one grandson, and a brother, Ernest, Crawfordsville.

Funeral services will be at 1 p. m. Friday in the Harry W. Moore Peace Chapel. Burial will be in Pisgah Cemetery, Beckville, Ind.

Halleck to Defend Dr. E. A. Rumley

La Porte Native House Group Target

By DAN KIDNEY
Times Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (UPI)—Rep. Charles A. Halleck, Rensselaer Republican and dean of Hoosiers in Congress, today took upon himself the role of defender of Dr. Edward A. Rumley, native of La Porte, Ind.

A member of the 5th Cavalry Regiment, Pvt. Cogland attended Manual High School before his enlistment. He wrote home on July 26, from Korea. His brother, Sgt. John Cogland is an inactive member of the Marine Reserves.

A sister, Mrs. Vivian Boggs, resides at 133 S. McKim St.

Not to Be Sneezed at SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI)—Floyd B. Gerard, 42, sneezed so hard he broke a rib.

ALASKAN TIME BELTS

Although Alaskan standard time was fixed by a 1918 act of Congress, there are four belts in general use in the territory—

Pacific Standard, Yukon Standard, Alaskan Standard and Barreling Standard.

1 IN 10 STEERS 'PRIME'

One beef steer out of every 10,000 that are sent to market would have saved Dr. Rumley if they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which

against any attack on his (Dr. Rumley's) character as an ex-convict who served a sentence because he ran a German-financed newspaper in New York at the beginning of World War I.

"If they bring that in, I'll show how the government suppressed some important evidence which