to take such military action as may be necessary to enforce the decrees of the United Nations.

The ultimatum informed the North Korean government of the resolution adopted by the United Nations General Assembly Saturday and urged all North Koreans to co-operate in establishing a "united, independent, democratic government" in Korea.

The American push got under way as South Korean troops reached and perhaps entered the Communist east coast port of Wonsan, 80 miles north of the frontier.

American reconnaissance pilots reported that South Korean troops pushed into Wonsan, at 9 p. m., Indianapolis time, Sunday.

However, United Press War Correspondent Robert Bennyhoff reported from the front at 3:30 a. m. that the South Korean 3d Division was still a mile away from Wonsan at nightfall.

Chewed to Bits
The 1st United Nations Corps moved up to the frontier after slicing the enemy's army in Southern Korea to bits.

Besides the 1st Cavalry Division, the 1st Corps includes the U. S. 24th Division, the 1st South Korean Division and the British Commonwealth 27th Brigade.

The latter, including an Australian regiment, has been placed under control of the 1st Cavalry Division.

The British and Australian troops fell into line behind the 1st Cavalry Division and were expected to cross the 38th Parallel momentarily. The U. S. 24th and South Korean 1st Division were believed not far behind.

Howard quit school at Lawrence Central and joined the Army more than a year ago. He had just become 17, and he wanted to help support his mother and younger brothers and sisters.

"I almost always heard from him twice each week before," said Mrs. Warren.

750 Cattle Arrive For Dairy Show

World Exposition Off to Good Start

Simultaneously Bill Holland's Indianapolis Dare Devils presented an automobile thrill show in front of the grandstand.

Last night's presentation of the International Hippodrome Show in the Coliseum was well attended.

Top features today include cattle judging by 19 teams of 4-H Club boys and Future Farmers of America from as many states and International Red Poll Show judging both morning and afternoon.

Gov. Schricker's invitational milking contest was slated for 8 p. m. but early reports indicated the Indiana chief executive would be the lone contestant. Although he challenged governors from many dairying and cattle raising states, none accepted.

"Finest Ever Seen"
Special guest at the exposition today is Ray A. Turner, of Washington, D. C., national leader in the United States Department of Agriculture Extension Service in 4-H Club work.

"It is finest dairy and cattle exposition I have ever seen," the national expert said. "Indiana and Indianapolis should be happy and pleased that officials of the exposition picked this site. I have never seen more fine cattle assembled at one show. The judges face a hard job."

Mr. Turner is en route to Washington after attending a cattle show in Waterloo, Iowa. Most of the pure bred cattle in the Waterloo exhibition arrived here last night to enter the international contests.

Illinois Man Charged In Car Death of Hoosier

GRAYVILLE, Ill., Oct. 9 (UP)—A Grayville man was charged with reckless homicide today in the death of Glen Sanford, 51, Poseyville, Ind., who was fatally injured in a two-car collision three miles south of here.

Lawrence Loven, 27, was held in the White County jail. Mr. Sanford suffered a broken neck when Loven's auto struck a bridge abutment on Illinois No. 1 last night and swerved into the path of another auto.

Driver of the second car was Arthur Lightfoot, Norman, Ark. Grayville is 33 miles northwest of Evansville, Ind.

Brownson Blames War On Policy 'Bungling'

The war in Korea was the result of "corrupt and bungling foreign policy," declared Charles Brownson, GOP candidate for Congress, at a precinct meeting in the White County jail. Mr. Sanford was killed last night.

"War, which means controls, draft and casualties and threatened inflation, is the result of secret deals, intrigue and dictatorial diplomacy," he said. "The Democratic administration has consistently hidden the truth in order to put a healthy label on a sick foreign policy."

of men yesterday when the flywheel flew off. A flying piece from the shattered saw struck him. The flywheel then damaged a car, but none of the onlookers was injured.

Mr. Tooley died yesterday from injuries received in an accident Saturday at Illinois and South Sts.

A car driven north on Illinois by Mr. Tooley collided with one driven by Everett E. Bohmer, 39, R. R. 3, Osgood.

A truck driver, Mr. Tooley was a veteran of World War II and had lived most of his life in Indianapolis. Survivors are his wife, Juanita; his mother, Mrs. Edna Crabtree, and his father, Frank M. Tooley, all of Indianapolis. Services will be at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday in Shirley Brothers West Chapel. Burial will be in Floral Park Cemetery.

Robert Robertson, 22, also of 701 Manhattan, a passenger in Mr. Tooley's car is in fair condition at General Hospital.

Five other highway fatalities included in the week-end list occurred late Friday and early Saturday.

The driver of the car, William E. Goins, 21, also of Madison, was slightly injured.

State Police said Miss Geisler was crushed by the car which rolled over her after she either fell or attempted to jump from the car.

Crime Probe Hurting Lucas

the mobsters, and eyebrows have been lifted practically out of shape by officer Gilbert's acknowledgment that he is worth over $300,000. He's called the richest cop in the world. Mr. Gilbert says he has been "fortunate in his friendships."

Mr. Gilbert as chief cop heads the staff of State Attorney John Boyle. Mr. Boyle, the Kefauver committee disclosed, once took $2500 of hoodlum money for performing a legal chore for an outfit called Trans-American, which was trying to set up a racing wire service to buck the wire service run by James M. Ragen, who was shot to death in 1946.

None of which does Senator Lucas any good because he must draw votes from the sources where Tubbo Gilbert hopes to get them, too.

Nobody knows precisely how much the big crime story has hurt Scott-Lucas, or whether in a close race it might swing the balance against him. He still has four weeks in which to try to offset the damage.

COTTON CROP DROPS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (UP)—The Agriculture Department today estimated the nation's 1950 cotton production at 9,869,000 bales—one of the smallest crops of the century.

The suit is the first to come to trial of four similar cases now pending in Marion County courts.

Mr. Ruckelshaus said his evidence would show that Mr. Lewis' salary was not provided for in the constitution but would come under an interpretation of the constitution.

Mr. Lewis' attorney, Lynville G. Miller, said he would ask Judge Higgins to order the union to produce all back pay records pertaining to Mr. Lewis.

A Word of Explanation To Water Users

OUR Purification Department maintenance crews now are cleaning the large sedimentation basin at the White River plant. While this work is going on, a section of the filter plant will be out of service. This will explain why the basin of water, so familiar to all who travel West 16th Street, is temporarily empty.

During this time, water from our Fall Creek Purification Plant will be directed into the area normally served by the White River division.

This will cause a change of direction in the flow of water which in turn may result in some discoloration of water on the near North and East Sides of the city.

The water, however, will remain bacteriologically pure.

We regret any inconvenience we might be causing and ask for your continued understanding. When the new plant, the construction of which you may have noticed north of West 16th Street, is completed, this operation will no longer be necessary.
