Clip today's set. Paste on a single sheet of paper each two pictures you think are twins. DON'T SEND IN ANY PICTURES UNTIL YOU HAVE ALL 50 SETS OF TWINS.

Ten more pictures will be published in The Sunday Times next Sunday . . . and 10 more will be published each Sunday until the last set appears Dec. 31.

You may submit any number of entries. Friends and members of your family may help prepare your entries.

If you match the most correct sets of all the entries received, you will get the first prize of $500. The other 52 prizes will be awarded in the order of the number of correct sets of twins submitted.

Winners will receive their cash prizes from The Times as soon as the judges complete their selection of the best entries. Be Sure to Read the Rules.

THE RULES:

1—The Indianapolis Times will award $1000 in cash to winners of the Match the Twins Contest. Prizes are: First, $500; Second, $100; Third, $50; 20 awards of $10 each; 30 awards of $5 each.

2—The contest is open to all residents of Indiana except employees of The Times and their families. Only one prize will be awarded to any one person.

3—The contest opened Sunday, Oct. 29, 1950. Ten individual pictures are being published in The Sunday Times for 10 consecutive Sundays. The total will be 100 individual pictures, or 50 sets of twins.

4—Each person pictured will be the twin of another person whose picture will be published at some time during the contest. Some twins may be pictured on the same day, while others will not. Participants are to match each picture of a twin with the picture of the other twin.

5—Paste or in some way securely fasten each matching pair of twin pictures on a single sheet of paper. All 50 sheets are to be fastened together. Print your name and address on each sheet.

6—DO NOT SEND IN YOUR ENTRY UNTIL ALL PICTURES HAVE BEEN PUBLISHED. The final set will appear in The Sunday Times on Sunday, Dec. 31. With this final set will appear a master score sheet on which you will enter the numbers of your matching twins.

7—Accuracy in matching twins will be the chief consideration in judging the 53 winners. The person accurately matching the most twins wins first prize; next best gets second prize, and so forth. If two or more participants tie for prizes, they will be given an additional group of pictures to match and be asked to write a short statement about The Times.

8—After all pictures have been published, mail entries to Twins Contest, The Times, 214 W. Maryland St. All entries must be postmarked before midnight, Jan. 10, 1951. Entries must be mailed with first class postage fully paid.

9—In entering the contest, the participant agrees to accept the decisions of the judges as final and understands that The Times cannot return entries.
