Dr. Gelston came to Butler in 1910 from the graduate school of the University of Michigan. Graduated from Michigan, he had taught there while doing advanced work. When he joined the Butler staff, the campus was in Irvington. He retired in 1947.

Studied in Rome

Dr. Gelston spent one year in Rome studying classical history and art. Under the presidency of Dr. Robert J. Ale, he was named professor of classical languages and archaeology and was awarded the honorary doctor of laws degree.

Dr. Gelston was chairman of several important faculty committees, including those on public occasions, scholarship and advanced standing. He was chairman of the university's athletic board for 25 years and a member of the administrative board several years.

Career of Golden Rule Ends for Mrs. Grady

A woman who made a career of the Golden Rule was mourned in her South Side neighborhood today.

Mrs. K. Rose Grady died Saturday in her home, 2623 Allen Ave., where she had lived for 23 or her 64 years.

A lifetime resident of Indianapolis, Mrs. Grady made a full-time career of being a good neighbor, helping the sick and tending the ill. She constantly visited the sick and the aged, taking them mementoes of her handiwork. A crocheter, Mrs. Grady made a hobby of unusual needle work, a fashioning framed pictures and crocheted flowers.

Nursed Mother, Husband

For 30 years Mrs. Grady nursed her mother, Mrs. Mary Anglick, one of the pioneers of Sacred Heart Church who died at the age of 80 in 1942. Shortly thereafter Mrs. Grady's husband, K. Leon Grady, was stricken and she nursed him until his death.

Mr. Grady, an inventor and chemist, originated the Grady Inks, an Indianapolis firm known for its ability to match or create unusual ink colorings.

Despite the illnesses in her own family, Mrs. Grady never failed to remember others in the neighborhood who were sick or lonely and made regular visits to all until her own recent illness.

Mrs. Grady is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Stanley Pyritz; her brother, William Anglick; stepdaughters, Mrs. Louis Schubert and Miss Cecilia Grady; two grandchildren and nine stepchildren.

Mass Tomorrow

Formerly an officer of the Christian Mothers' Society of Sacred Heart and a member of St. Catherine Siena Catholic Church, Mrs. Grady will have Requiem Mass at 9 a. m. tomorrow at St. Catherine's after services at 8:30 a. m. in Lauck Funeral Home. Burial will be in St. Joseph Cemetery.
