Airflyte Theater TV Program On Way Out

Sponsor of Show Lays Blame For Closing on National Emergency

By R. K. SHULL

Airflyte Theater (WFBM-TV, 5:30 p. m., Saturdays) which is sponsored by the automobile which uses the same trade name will become a thing of the past as soon as the local station uses up its backlog of kinescope versions. Sponsor of the show claims the national emergency is the cause.

SERVES 'EM RIGHT

Ever been disgusted with the way a wornout pop tune will linger on "Your Hit Parade" for weeks after it's died a natural death in your locale? Well, the producers of that show are now being paid back 100-fold. Since the program is being videoed to some cities, the producers have to make up new sets each week for each of the songs. The longer the song lingers, the tougher it gets.

For example: "Harbor Lights" was on Your Hit Parade for 18 weeks, and the producers had to scrape up a new appropriate setting for each of the shows. Here are some of the treatments: Ship's crew next, waterfront, cafe, ship's wheelhouse, widow's walk, ferry-boat, tropical island Christmas, New Year's Eve ship's party, air liner over harbor, beached fishing boat, lighthouse, small boat, ship's log book, surrealist beach, shipwreck, and Dutch harbor scene.

"MISFIRE" Bert Parks (WFBM-TV, 2:30 p. m., Wednesdays) had the bright idea of videoing a chicken laying an egg.

Scheme was all set, with a pullet borrowed from Rutgers University. "It stood by ready to give the chicken a 'needle' which would produce an egg in exactly 15 minutes. At a given signal, the 'vet' inoculated the chicken and the cameramen prepared to televise the big event.

But the given signal, the "vet" inoculated the chicken and the cameramen prepared to televise the big event. But the given signal, the "vet" inoculated the chicken and the cameramen prepared to televise the big event.

STUDIO moguls at NBC are still kicking around the idea of switching Milton Berle to an alternate week set-up next season. Iona Massey, blonde beauty from Hungary, has a TV glamor-girl-interviewer series lined up, but can't seem to locate a sponsor.

GOING DOWN... Jack "Fat Man" Smart is trying to lose 45 pounds. So far he's shaved off 15.

Fr. A. Holleywood... Claudette Colbert is dicker for a radio situation comedy series. George Raft is filming a "Rocky Jordan" TV series, and one-time screen star Edmund Lowe is slated for a video crime weekly.

Hopalong... Bill Boyd has made his bow as a columnist with his syndicated "Hoppy Talk" in some newspapers.

Boyd's popularity can be gauged by the result of his mention that he wanted to buy a San Fernando Valley ranch. So far a dozen ranchers there have renamed their spreads the "Bar-20" to attract Boyd. "Bar-20" is the name of his mythical spread in the "Hopalong Cassidy" series.

On the Ball... Fourth of July is the date set by her doctor for Lucille Ball's help to arrive. Husband is bandleader Deal Arnaz.

Lucille is disappointed that her radio show, "My Favorite Husband," didn't garner any entertainment awards. "To my knowledge," contends the girl with the orange-colored hair, "I have the only radio show which has been a 'C' about 'The Thing' this season."

MORE NEW SHOWS

Frankie Laine and his missus, Nan Grey, are haggling with ABC for a daytime TV series. Marlene Dietrich's daughter, Maria Riva, said to have signed as star of a new tele series. Paulette Goddard may join the summer radio replacement lineup in a series titled "The Perils of Paulette."

DICK POWELL, the movie star turned radio private eye, defines a taxpayer as a government worker with no sick leaves, no holidays and no vacations.
