

62d YEAR—NUMBER 19

The Indianapolis Times

FORECAST: Fair tonight. Tomorrow, increasing cloudiness and warmer with rain in afternoon or night. Low tonight 30, high tomorrow 52.

SATURDAY, MARCH 31, 1951

Entered as Second-Class Matter at Postoffice Indianapolis, Indiana, Issued Daily.

FINAL
HOME

PRICE FIVE CENTS

'Painless' Dentistry—

Harassed Reporter Gets the Last Laugh

City Editor's
Order Obedied

By IRVING LEIBOWITZ

NO ONE has to convince me that city editors are screwy people.

"Go get your teeth drilled," he says.

Now I don't like to visit the dentist on my own time and having some cavity excavator poke his drill down my mouth for a story isn't what they taught me to expect in journalism school.

"What's the pitch?" I asked, wondering how long a guy sits on the city desk without blowing his lid.

Says he:

"It's all in the interest of science. One of Our Fair City dentists latched onto one of those painless drills. Go find out how it feels."

Here's a tooth by tooth account of what happened.

I WALKED into the Hume Mansur office of Dr. Elliott Hirsch.

"This isn't going to hurt a bit," he said.

I heard that story before but I let him nudge me into the chair. What a way to make a living, I kept thinking.

ALL THE WHILE the doc worked, he kept up a steady chatter about his new machine that makes drilling painless. He told me about Dr. Robert B. Black of Corpus Christi, Tex., who invented the machine, and about how dentists have to take a special course at the Indiana University Dental School before they are allowed to use it.

He said the machine operated on the principle of sand blasting, powered by carbon dioxide with aluminum oxide to cut.

Some 25 Bookies May Lose Phone Service Here Tonight

Fairchild Plans to Give List to Bell And Make Official Request for Ban

By JOHN V. WILSON

Telephone service to some 25 bookie joints here may be shut off by midnight.

Striking at the heart of the horse betting operations, Prosecutor Frank Fairchild plans to submit a list of known bookie spots today to Indiana Bell Telephone Co.

The prosecutor said the list would be accompanied with an official request for an immediate phone service ban.

Bell officials said the request would receive prompt action. Service could be disconnected either from the central office or on the premises.

Squads Tour Joints

Mr. Fairchild said this morning the number of horse books to be affected was not yet known. However, his investigators were to submit a complete list by noon.

Police vice squads toured some 20 joints Thursday and yesterday. Police were accompanied by prosecutor's investigators.

A telephone company spokesman said service could be cut off the same day the order was received.

He said the normal procedure is to remove the telephones from the premises. If servicemen are refused admittance, service will be shut off from the central office.

Action at Parley

Action to remove telephones from known spots was started Monday at a conference of Mayor Bay, Police Chief Rouls and Mr. Fairchild with Indiana Bell officials.

Mr. Fairchild said his new anti-gambling law formulated after efforts to enact an anti-lottery law failed in the legislature.

However, bookies have at least two other methods of obtaining

BEFORE HE finished explaining the mechanism, my tooth was drilled.

While he prepared the filling, he said that the new machine was "radically different" than the old fashioned method of drilling.

But he cautioned me about its limitations.

"Of course, I'm tickled to death about the machine," he said. "But it is not a cure-all."

I was feeling pretty good by this time, experiencing no pain and happy that the assignment turned out okay.

FRANKLY, I'm still not too happy about going to the dentist. The doc told me the machine can be used for most drilling but that he is keeping his old drill—"for special jobs."

One professor at the Indiana University Dental School, Dr. L. Rush Bailey, said lots of dentists are taking the special course.

One thing I'm certain about. This machine is going to make a truth of that old bromide "this is not going to hurt."

U.S. Tank Guns Chop Up Reds In Wild Dash Across Parallel

U. S. Crime Watch OK'd By Kefauver

But Senator Is Against Committee Extension

WASHINGTON, Mar. 31 (UP)—Chairman Estes Kefauver agreed with the Senate Crime Committee's two Republican members today that the government should keep an eye on underworld activities throughout the nation.

But the Tennessee Democrat repeated his strong opposition to an extension of the present crime committee.

"I'm not for it," he said.

His statement left him far apart from the views of the group's GOP members, Sens. Charles W. Tobey (N.H.) and Alexander Wiley (Wis.), who announced yesterday that they will propose an extension of the committee to next Jan. 15.

The new extension drive was announced as the Senate itself took a hand in the nationwide crackdown on crime which has followed in the wake of the committee's hearings.

Votes Contempt Counts

It voted contempt citations against twelve witnesses—including four underworld characters whom it previously listed among the leaders of interstate crime.

Cited by unanimous vote were underworld leader Frank Costello, gamblers Joe Adonis and Frank Erickson, and Jacob (Greasy Thumb) Guzik, described by the committee as the financial director of Chicago's notorious Capone syndicate.

The Senate also voted citations against Lou Rothkopf and Morris Kleinman, both of Cleveland, whose refusal to testify before television, newsmen and radio is expected to result in a court test of whether a witness can be forced to testify under these conditions.

Also cited were Stanley Cohen, San Francisco; Ralph J. O'Hara, Chicago; and William G. "Butsy" O'Brien—all linked in committee testimony with race wire service operations—and a John Doyle, Miami, and John Croft, Cincinnati—all connected by the investigators to various gambling operations in their home areas.

All Face Fines, Terms

All face a $1000 fine, a year in prison, or both for each contempt charge if convicted.

The Tobey-Wiley extension proposal was similar to a resolution drafted before the crime committee finally agreed to a 30-day extension for preparation of a final report.

Sen. Kefauver already has suggested formation of a federal crime commission to continue the committee's work and co-ordinate federal law enforcement activities.

Sen. Herbert R. O'Connor, (D. Md.), a committee member, said in a speech last night that the crackdown on crime must go on.

He said that narcotics is a field which the crime committee has left almost untouched.

He did not say definitely, however, that the committee should be extended to continue its investigation.

Plan for New Operators

Slaughterhouses who started business after Apr. 1, 1950, may determine the amount of cattle they may slaughter during this April by dividing the total live weight of cattle slaughtered in 1950 by the number of months in which they did slaughtering.

Remove Victim of an 80-Foot Plunge

UNCONSCIOUS WORKER RESCUED—Police and ambulance attendants are shown removing Robert Manuel from the top of a construction shack after an 80-foot fall.

2 Hurt, One Critically, As 8th Floor Scaffold Breaks

Man, 61, Escapes Serious Injury by Catching Crossbeam After Fall of Two Stories

Two Indianapolis construction workers are in General Hospital today, one in critical condition, after scaffolding collapsed on the eighth floor of the Indiana National Bank building yesterday.

Robert Manuel, 61, of 1127 N. Capitol Ave., plunged 80 feet, crashing through scaffolding on the sixth and fourth floors as he fell. His condition is critical.

Slaughterhouses Face Beef Quotas

OPS Aims to Curb Blackmarketing

A program designed to prevent blackmarketing and provide for normal sales and distribution of meat will be put into effect Monday by the Office of Price Stabilization.

According to the Indianapolis office of the OPS, slaughterers of cattle will be permitted to slaughter no more animals than they slaughtered during the April, 1950 period.

Quota on Swine

There will be no quota restrictions on calves, sheep, lamb and swine next month, OPS announced.

Slaughter quotas for all types of livestock were to have gone into effect Monday under original regulations issued Feb. 9.

Delays in obtaining forms for registration and other administrative difficulties made it impossible to start the entire program, however.

Plan for New Operators

Slaughterhouses who started business after Apr. 1, 1950, may determine the amount of cattle they may slaughter during this April by dividing the total live weight of cattle slaughtered in 1950 by the number of months in which they did slaughtering.

John Buckley, 61, of 5234 Rinehart Ave., fell two floors before catching a cross-beam and clinging desperately until rescued by fellow workers.

Unloading Piping

The men, employees of the William P. Junglaas Co., general contractors, were unloading a box of heavy piping from a construction elevator when the scaffolding collapsed, said William Hayes, construction foreman.

Neither Mr. Buckley nor the foreman could explain how the scaffolding happened to break.

Thousands of office workers and downtown shoppers watched in horror as Mr. Manuel crashed through the scaffolding on successive floors and landed on top of the construction office shack at about the second floor level.

Mr. Buckley, clinging to the cross-beam, kicked on a sixth floor window until he attracted the attention of fellow workers who pulled him inside.

Traffic was snarled as crowds jammed the streets when the police emergency cars and ambulances arrived at the scene. Police formed a barrier to keep the people back while Mr. Manuel was removed from atop the office shack.

"I Couldn't Watch"

Charles York, 44, construction engineer, was on top of the shack and said he looked up to see Mr. Manuel hurtling downwards towards him.

"I turned my head, I couldn't watch," Mr. York said.

Mr. Manuel landed a few feet from the engineer stood frozen with horror.

Hospital attaches said Mr. Manuel was suffering from multiple fractures and possible concussion. He had not regained consciousness early today.

Mr. Buckley was badly scratched and bruised but doctors did not consider his condition serious.

Woman Killed In Traffic Crash

An Indianapolis woman is dead today and a man is in General Hospital as the result of a traffic crash last night at U. S. 40 and Lyon Ave.

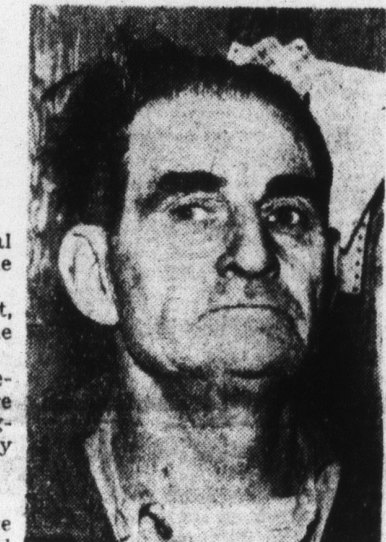

Mrs. Frances R. Taylor, 28, of 1215 N. Centennial St., a passenger in a car operated by Earl F. Maddox, 21, of 1440 N. Alabama St., was pronounced dead at the scene after the car rammed into the rear of another.

State police said a car driven by Wayne Osborn, 17, RR 3, halted to make a left turn and the Maddox car crashed into him. A passenger in the Osborn car, an injured knee.

Mr. Maddox, suffering serious head injuries, was reported in fair condition at General Hospital.

'Big 4' Cancels Meeting

PARIS, Mar. 31 (UP)—The Big Four Foreign Ministers deputies canceled their meeting scheduled for today. No reason for the cancellation was given. They are scheduled to meet Monday afternoon.

John Buckley

Ban on Aluminum Delayed 30 Days

U. S. May 'Relax' Curbs on Copper

WASHINGTON, Mar. 31 (UP)—

The government today postponed for 30 days an order banning aluminum in some 200 non-essential items and said it is considering "relaxing" its bans on the use of copper.

Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer reported that he expects a decision by Monday on postponing an order for a further cut in the use of rubber.

The "stay" on aluminum was issued in response to complaints by a Senate Small Business Subcommittee that the original order could drive many small fabricators out of business.

Key Items Covered

The order would take aluminum out of such items as cigarette lighters, ash trays, automobile hardware and trim, furniture, toys, jewelry and caskets.

Bans on the use of copper in hundreds of non-essential items already have been issued but NPA said it is studying the "possibility" of relaxing the present prohibition.

It said it will consider appeals by manufacturers who claim the ban works a hardship on them.

Postponement of the rubber order also was requested by a small business subcommittee of the Senate.

O'Dwyer Takes Off For Mexico City Post

NEW YORK, Mar. 31 (UP)—Ambassador William O'Dwyer took off for his Mexico City post in the private plane of the president of Mexico today, his two-week ordeal of question-answering at an end.

Senator Taft Talks Here Today

Sen. Robert A. Taft (R. O.) comes to Indianapolis today for a foreign policy speech at the Columbia Club's 62d anniversary beefsteak dinner.

Mr. Taft spoke at Cincinnati last night, saying that too fast a plunge into a defense economy would "almost certainly" bring inflation.

He meets this afternoon with Hoosier Republican leaders in an obvious effort to strengthen his popularity as a presidential candidate for 1952.

Lock Horns With Foe Above Seoul as Other Units Gain on Wide Arc

Big UN Force Due to Cross Within Few Days; Hint 180,000 Chinese Set for Counter-Push

By EARNST HOBERECHT

United Press Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Mar. 31—At least two American tank columns plunged across the 38th Parallel into Communist North Korea today.

Elements of two U. S. divisions carried the war back to the enemy homeland in the same area that Red China's New Year's Eve offensive smashed Allied lines on the Parallel exactly three months ago.

The American armored columns drove across the pre-war Communist frontier north and northeast of Seoul to close with the weakened but still unbeaten Communist armies.

They were four days behind their South Korean Allies, who lunged up the east of the coast and crossed the border in force last Tuesday. Two-day-old reports put the South Korean Capital Division 8½ miles north of the Parallel.

TOKYO, Mar. 31 (UP)—A routine practice alert at the U. S. Pacific base on Okinawa today touched off rumors of an enemy air attack. They were promptly denied by the Far East Air Force.

Other United Nations forces all along the 140-mile front across the Korean peninsula were expected to cross the frontier within the next few days.

The first American spearhead to enter North Korea in three months lunged up one of the two main Seoul-Pyongyang highways due north of the South Korean capital to the Hantan River, a half-mile north of the Parallel and 18½ miles above Uijongbu.

There was no immediate indication whether the Americans would halt and dig in along the river bank or push on toward Pyongyang, nearly 100 miles to the northwest.

The second column of tanks and infantry a dozen miles to the east jumped off at mid-day, fought off snipers and two concentrations of Communist rear-guards, and roared across the Parallel with its heavy guns blazing.

Red Resistance Light

Behind it, American infantrymen of the 24th Division moved up in strength to within 3½ miles of the Parallel against only token enemy resistance and occasional sniper fire.

The second American invasion of North Korea came less than six months after U. S. troops first crossed the Parallel Oct. 8, 1950. On that occasion, they kept going until at least one division reached the Manchurian frontier. Communist China's intervention sent the 8th Army reeling back to points more than 60 miles south of the parallel by January, however.

This time, however, U. S. Defense Secretary George C. Marshall said that Gen. Douglas MacArthur is not empowered to make a general advance toward the Manchurian frontier. Mr. Marshall added, however, that Gen. MacArthur could cross the 38th Parallel to assure the security of his forces.

On the Inside Of The Times

State Treasurer William Fortune has been called the "Henry Schrickler of the Republican Party." Political Writer Irving Leibowitz tells why in Hoosier Profile.

Dr. S. M. Cavert, executive secretary of the National Council of Churches, is the subject of today's Church News column by Emma Rivers Milner.

Henry Butler reviews the Shrine-Polk circus, which opened a 10-day stand last night at the Murat.

Other Features:

Amusements ..... 6.9
Books ..... 8
Bridge ..... 3
Butler ..... 6
Churches ..... 4.5
Crossword ..... 4
Editorials ..... 10
Forum ..... 10
Erskine Johnson ..... 3
Movies ..... 6.9
Frederick C. Othman ..... 10
Radio and Television ..... 8
Side Glances ..... 10
Society ..... 3
Spelling Bee ..... 6
Sports ..... 7
Women's ..... 3

LOCAL TEMPERATURES

6 a. m. ... 32 10 a. m. ... 38
7 a. m. ... 33 11 a. m. ... 40
8 a. m. ... 33 12 (Noon) ... 44
9 a. m. ... 36 1 p. m. ... 45

Latest humidity ..... 57%

Hint Russ 'Chutists Landed in Albania

LONDON, Mar. 31 (UP)—Unconfirmed press reports said today that Soviet paratroopers and fighter planes have landed in Albania to help fight anti-Communist guerrillas there.

The Paris leftist newspaper Combat quoted a Yugoslav official in Belgrade as saying that Russian planes arrived at Tirana, the Albanian capital and that paratroopers were dropped.

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express in London also reported from Belgrade that Russian planes were believed to have landed in or near Tirana.

"Other aircraft (from Italy) are said to have parachuted guerrilla groups which are now in action against the Moscow-run government in Tirana," the Express said.

Reports, none substantiated, from Albania in recent weeks have described growing opposition to the Communist regime. Albania, smallest and most inaccessible of the Soviet bloc nations, is cut off from Communist east Europe by Yugoslavia and Greece.

Drive on Anti-Red Guerrillas Reported

LONDON, Mar. 31 (UP)—Unconfirmed press reports said today that Soviet paratroopers and fighter planes have landed in Albania to help fight anti-Communist guerrillas there.

The Paris leftist newspaper Combat quoted a Yugoslav official in Belgrade as saying that Russian planes arrived at Tirana, the Albanian capital and that paratroopers were dropped.

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express in London also reported from Belgrade that Russian planes were believed to have landed in or near Tirana.

"Other aircraft (from Italy) are said to have parachuted guerrilla groups which are now in action against the Moscow-run government in Tirana," the Express said.

Reports, none substantiated, from Albania in recent weeks have described growing opposition to the Communist regime. Albania, smallest and most inaccessible of the Soviet bloc nations, is cut off from Communist east Europe by Yugoslavia and Greece.

LOCAL TEMPERATURES

6 a. m. ... 32 10 a. m. ... 38
7 a. m. ... 33 11 a. m. ... 40
8 a. m. ... 33 12 (Noon) ... 44
9 a. m. ... 36 1 p. m. ... 45

Latest humidity ..... 57%

Week-end Fine For Home Hunting

3400 Forest Manor Ave.

Attractive 3-room frame bungalow, newly decorated throughout, full basement, enclosed front porch, place oil heat, side drive, 1-car garage. Glass bath, good room arrangement with 7 closets. GL-998 WA-3057. FRANK PADGETT, INC., REALTORS

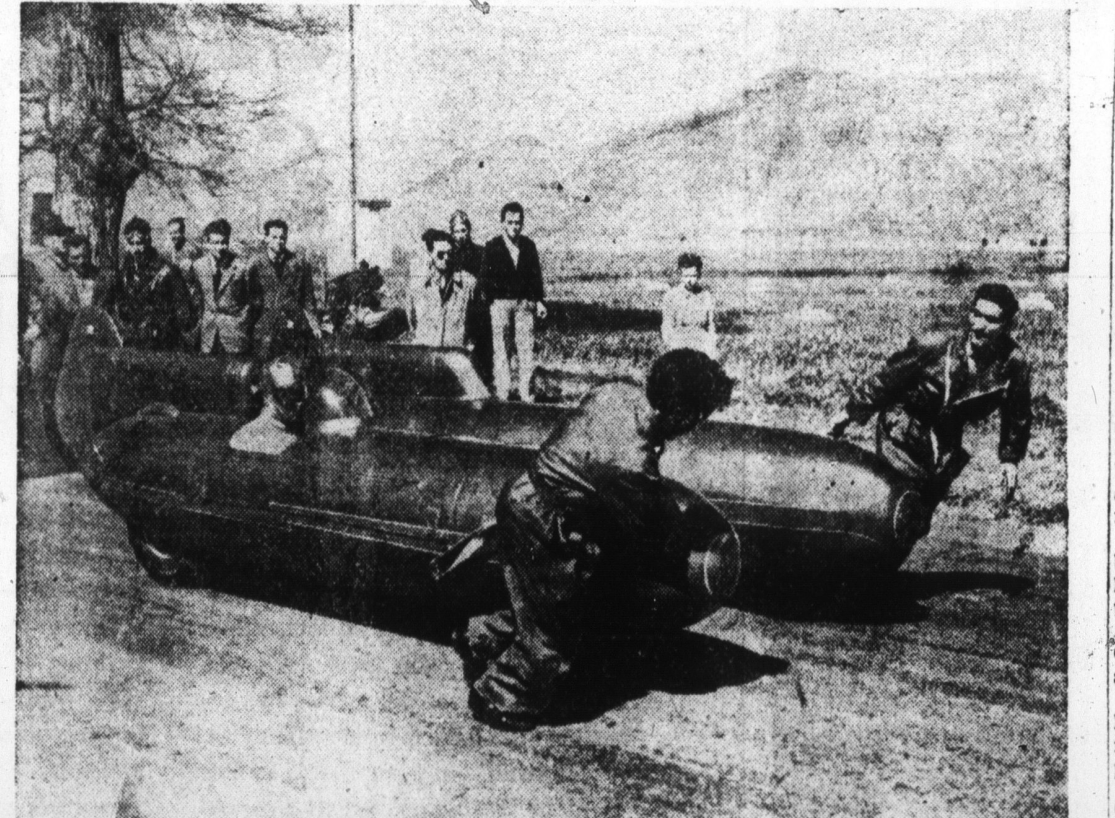

Don't pass up this weekend opportunity to personally inspect several homes which may be suitable for you and your family for many years to come.

Above is one of the many HUNDREDS of home values you will find offered For Sale in the real estate columns of today's Times.

In the Real Estate Section of The Times tomorrow you will find nearly 100% more real estate ads than in any other Indianapolis newspaper. There are singles, doubles, duplexes, suburban estates and farms of all description. DON'T MISS THEM!

If you do not now take The SUNDAY TIMES, you may PHONE RI-ley 5551 up to midnight tonight and your paper will be conveniently delivered to your doorstep first thing in the morning!

Crack Italian Race Car Won't Be in '500'

NOT A SPEEDWAY ENTRY—Italian Race Driver Piero Taruffi, who broke a class record at the Apian Raceway in Rome recently with 186.25 miles an hour in his Double-Torpedo, is not an entrant in this year's 500-Mile Race, according to an Indianapolis Motor Speedway announcement. Taruffi, who visited the Speedway last year, has not indicated his intention of entering. Speedway entries close Apr. 16. The Double-Torpedo houses the engine in one of its bodies while the other accommodates the driver and controls.