Dr. Cavert Has A Big Job

Holds Secretarial Post With Council of Churches

By EMMA RIVERS MILNER

Times Church Editor

"DON'T CALL HIM 'the Protestant Pope.'"

A Protestant official, nationally-known and deserving of great respect, so instructed me.

"Well, if the Protestants had a pope, this man would be their pope, wouldn't he?" I persisted.

"Yes," the answer came back.

But now, of course, I will not call Dr. Samuel McCrea

Cavert, "the Protestant Pope." I will say, simply, that he holds the position of executive secretary of the new National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.

THE COUNCIL elected Episcopal Bishop Henry Sherrill to the office of first president at its organizational convention in December. But Dr. Cavert was made the administrative head with full-time duties.

He goes all over the country giving aid and advice to congregations through their state and city councils of churches. He comes here to confer with his longtime warm friend, Dr. Howard J.

Baumgartel, executive secretary of the Indianapolis Church Federation.

DR. BAUMGARTEL and others in the know tell you that Dr.

Cavert for 30 years exploited his great understanding of the human mind and heart in his work with the Federal Council of Churches.

He can fit himself into any group from whatever walk of life they come.

From time to time, he tucks his brief case under his arm and goes to Washington when the President calls for him, has done it under various administrations.

And he feels free to ask for an interview when he wishes to talk over something with the President.

On the other hand, Dr. Cavert traveled all over Europe conversing in French or German with the humblest folk finding out what they thought about the World

Council of Churches then in the making. He, more than any other individual person, seemed to be given credit for the institution of that global, interdenominational body.

THIS GRACIOUS, quiet gentleman with the spiritual face who presses you with his sincerity

Protestant bigwigs, accordingly, trust him, like him, accept his guidance. Those who have watched him function say he can restore order and Christian goodwill to the most difficult situation.

For he possesses the knowledge to interpret one denomination to another, different nationalities to each other.

Sixty-three years have passed over Dr. Cavert's head. But in appearance he is ageless, might be 50, 55, 60. He is spare of build, of medium height and when I met him, was wearing clerical dress.

But I am told he does not always thus stamp himself as a clergyman.

He is known as a Bible scholar, a theologian, writes off and on magazines and speaks for the polish and facility of an English classic author.

TOO MANY duties claim Dr.

Cavert to allow much time for hobbies. But he does find relaxation in detective and mystery tales.

An up-state New York farm gave him to the world. As a grammar school boy, he studied

Greek under a small town pastor, won honors in high school and college. He was trained to the Presbyterian ministry and taught systematic theology for a time after ordination. He is married and the father of one daughter.

Glancing back over this, it seems a very complimentary column. But in honesty and fairness, how could I write otherwise about such a man? He gives his unusual mind, all of himself, daily to the service of God.

North Side Church Plans Expansion

Broadway Methodist Sets $500,000 Project

The Broadway Methodist Church will expand its present buildings at Fall Creek and Broadway at a cost of $500,000 to meet the needs of a fast-growing congregation.

Parke A. Cooling, president of the church, said the goal of the present campaign is $300,000. The sum will be applied to the overall total of $500,000, the balance to be raised at a later date.

Gifts will be solicited from May 1 to 25. Pledges to cover a period of 150 weeks will be accepted. Arthur G. Wilson is vice chairman of the campaign. He and Mr. Cooling will be assisted by 17 church members as chairmen and vice chairmen of sub-committees. Dr. Robert B. Pierce is church pastor.
