Kulka-Hollowell Vows To Be Read Tomorrow

DANVILLE, Sept. 8—An imported white embroidered silk gown will be worn by Miss Janet Hollowell for her 2:30 o'clock marriage tomorrow afternoon to John Allen Kulka in the Danville Methodist Church.

St. Andrew's Is Scene Of Wedding

ST. ANDREW'S Catholic Church was the scene yesterday morning of the marriage of Miss Eloise A. Muehlbacher and Bernard William Woerdeman.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Muehlbacher, 3534 N. Euclid Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Woerdeman, 1616 N. Rural St.

The Rev. Fr. Jude Woerdeman, brother of the bridegroom, performed the double-ring rite at 9 o'clock.

GOWNED IN bluish pink satin, the bride wore a bluish pink illusion veil held by an illusion headpiece accented with orange blossoms.

She carried a white prayer book topped with clusters centered with a white and pink orchid and roses.

Mrs. M. C. Mescall Jr. was matron of honor and Miss Barbara Reder and Miss Camille Woerdeman were bridesmaids.

Their taffeta gowns were pale green and dusty rose.

THE BRIDEGROOM was attended by James Taub, best man, and Mr. Mescall and Thomas F. Kell, ushers.

The wedding breakfast was held in Shepherd's Chicken Dinner Place and guests were received in the bride's home.

Mr. Woerdeman attended Butler University.

To add zip to frozen green beans, cook according to directions on package. Then drain, butter and add chopped chives.

Stick wooden picks through both slices to hold them in place. Sprinkle brown sugar over the top of the ham and stick with cloves.

Mrs. Richard E. Smith

Couple Exchanges Vows In Butler's Sweeney Chapel

AT 2:30 p. m. yesterday, Miss Dolores Allen and Richard Eugene Smith were married in Sweeney Chapel, Butler University.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Lee Allen, 1026 Windsor St., and Mr. and Mrs. Earl V. Smith, Valparaiso.

Miss Barbara Grannis came from Miami, Fla., to be maid of honor, and Miss Nancy Crowder, Sullivan, and Miss Barbara Cheson and Mrs. R. T. Allen were bridesmaids.

THEIR BALLERINA net over taffeta gowns ranged from pink to purple.

Mr. Smith was his son's best man and ushers included John Sievers, Valparaiso; William Schideler, Logansport, and Keith Bulen.

The bride's ice blue lace over nylon net gown was of ballerina length. It was styled with a portrait neckline, fitted bodice and apron-effect front.

HER ICE BLUE fingertip veil was caught to a flower halo. She carried a half crescent shaped bouquet of white mums, stephanotis and ivy.

A reception was held in the Warren Hotel. The couple will make their home in Valparaiso after Sept. 15.
