

Reds Budge To All UN Demands But Ban On Airfields

Allies Warn Agreement Is Necessary

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Jan. 9.—The Communists yielded to all United Nations demands on supervision of a truce today except the one that would bring final agreement—a ban on military airfield construction.

The United Nations Maj. Gen. Howard M. Turner promptly rejected the Red program.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's supreme headquarters in Tokyo backed up the Allied truce delegation with a "voice of the United Nations" that the Reds must agree to the airfield construction ban if they want an armistice.

The armistice subcommittee discussing an exchange of war prisoners also made no progress.

Both subcommittees will meet again at Panmunjom at 11 a. m. Thursday (8 p. m. today Indianapolis Time).

LICENSED—Sumner Welles, 59, former undersecretary of state, and former Austrian heiress Harriette Post von Jeszensky, 57, obtained a marriage license in New York. It's the third matrimonial venture for each.

Army Won't Need Fair Cattle Barns

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Rep. Charles B. Brownson, Indianapolis Republican, today announced he has definite assurance that the cattle barns at the Indiana State Fair Grounds will not be needed for temporary quarters for the Army Finance Center.

This guarantees non interference with the State Fair in that field this year, the Marion County Congressman said.

He conferred with Michael E. Kallet, assistant to Undersecretary of Army Archibald S. Alexander, who will meet with Gov. Schricker and the State Fair Board in Indianapolis tomorrow to determine what buildings will be used. The radio-TV and horse show halls have been suggested as being adequate, without the cattle barns, Mr. Brownson said. Acting on the Congressman's suggestion, Mr. Kallet promised that a survey will be made at once as to the possible use of the now vacated Canterbury College buildings at Danville. Since this is out 13 miles from Indianapolis, the Army Finance Center could commute until the $23,000,000 permanent building is ready for that cattle barns, Mr. Brownson said, at Ft. Harrison. Mr. X Makes No Mystery of Suit

CHICAGO, Jan. 9. (UP)—Mr. X was trying to collect $15,000 today in a damage suit against the U. S. government and Chicago Transit Authority.

Ben X, 62, Chicago, wants the damages in compensation for injuries he claims to have suffered in a collision between a bus and a mail truck.

He says X is his name, and not just his mark.

Mrs. Hoffman Dies at 83

Mrs. Martha Hoffman, a life-long resident of Hamilton County, died yesterday in Rest Haven Nursing Home here.

She was the mother of Miss Olive J. Hoffman, secretary to three editors of The Indianapolis Times from 1938 to 1946. Mother and daughter lived together west of Carmel.

Mrs. Hoffman was 83. She was Miss Martha Ellis before her marriage to Thomas H. Hoffman. Mr. Hoffman, a retired farmer and director of the Farmers State Bank in Zionsville, died Aug. 14, 1950.

Services will be at 2 p. m. tomorrow at Phillips Funeral Home, Zionsville. Burial will be in Carmel.

Surviving besides the daughter are a son, Karl Hoffman, living near Zionsville; a sister, Mrs. Pearl Eller, Miami, Fla., and a granddaughter, Mrs. Helen Turner, Carmel.

Woman Grocer Shoots At Bandit; Misses

A woman grocer shot at a robber who stole $50 from her last night.

But the bullet must have missed him.

Police were still looking for him today.

Mrs. Mary Light, 32, told police the man came into her store at 1502 E. 17th St. He asked for cheese and lunch meat but stole the money before she could fill his order.

She said she fired once at the 200-pound, 6-foot-plus robber as he fled along Sheldon St.

First Ohio Soldiers Arrive at Camp Polk

CAMP POLK, La., Jan. 9 (UP)—Advance units of Ohio's 37th Infantry Division were moving in here today to prepare for the outfit's full mobilization.

The main body of the division will start its movement to Camp Polk after Jan. 20 but the first group of 120 enlisted men and 40 officers arrived yesterday.

Bayt Flays Prosecuting Witness

Judge Phillip L. Bayt threatened to prosecute a prosecuting witness in Municipal Court 3, after the witness refused to testify yesterday.

"You people think you can use my court as a collecting agency, then drop charges against the defendant," Judge Bayt told the witness.

The Judge became angered after three cases in his court were dismissed for want of prosecution. In each case, the defendant had made a settlement with the prosecuting witness before time for trial.

In the case which Judge Bayt assailed, the defendant was charged with stealing $24 from the complainant. When the alleged thief repaid the money, the complainant refused to prosecute.

Later, Judge Bayt said he intended to force reluctant witnesses in such cases to testify. Then, if their story in court differs from the version they gave to the prosecutor to obtain the affidavit, the Judge can charge the witness with perjury.

U. S., Britain To Hold Line

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The United States and Great Britain have renewed their mutual pledges to hold the line against communism and work everywhere to "contain" Soviet aggression.

That is a general summary of the results of the conferences between President Truman and Prime Minister Winston Churchill. The talks ended last night.

The results will be made public in a communiqué this afternoon.

Mr. Churchill arranged to leave (at 1 p. m. Indianapolis time) for a private visit with his 81-year-old crony Bernard M. Baruch in New York, after hearing Mr. Truman deliver his state-of-the-union message to Congress.

But it was not "good-bye" to Mr. Churchill. He will be back next week after a visit to Canada. On Jan. 17, he will deliver an address to a joint session of Congress. He has been working on the important speech for more than a week.

Mine Section Foreman Killed by Slate Fall

SULLIVAN, Ind., Jan. 9 (UP)—Sherman Stokes, 49, Sullivan, a section foreman, was killed at the regent coal mine southeast of here yesterday by a slate fall. It was the second fatal accident at the regent mine in two days.

Chauncey Thomas, 61, Farmersburg, was killed Monday when he was struck by a trap door which was knocked open by a runaway car.

They Travel for Your Information!

This week is typical of what goes on behind the scenes at The Times, week-in and week-out, in an effort to keep Times readers the best informed in the land! If the local angle is sufficiently important a Times staffer is dispatched to augment the facilities of our far and wide reportorial services.

Because the local angle is important to Times readers, The Times always endeavors to present national and international events at the level of local interest.

Last week it was Washington—New York—Cleveland. This week it's Washington—New York—Korea—Chicago . . . Next week . . . ???

Here's an example of what we mean . . .

In Korea

Ed Kennedy, Times feature writer, is in Korea to see first hand how soldiers are receiving blood donated by Indianapolis residents in The Times "Minute Women" blood donor campaign.

In New York

Mrs. Betty Locher, Times fashion editor, is attending the Spring Fashion shows of the New York Dress Institute . . . reporting what smart women will be wearing this year.

In Chicago

Harold Hartley, Times business editor and writer of "Today In Business," is getting the "behind the scenes" story at the International Furniture Market at Chicago . . . the COMPLETE story of furniture to be available this spring and summer.

In Chicago

Mrs. Jean Spicklemire, Times Homes Editor, is in Chicago to bring Times' readers the woman's angle on the International Home Furnishings Market.

North--South--East--West

In Tokyo . . . Berlin . . . London . . . Alaska . . . In ALL corners of the world . . . In The Biggest Cities . . . In The Smallest Hamlets . . . Events AS THEY HAPPEN are reported to The Times by staff writers PLUS . . . A battery of Special Times Correspondents throughout Indiana and the Nation.
