

Ridgway and Clark Receive All-Round OK

WASHINGTON, Apr. 29 — Nearly everybody seemed pleased today with the high command switch that installed Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway as Supreme Allied Commander in Europe, and Gen. Mark W. Clark as United Nations Commander in the Far East.

The appointments drew praise from Congressmen of both parties, diplomatic and military leaders, and Western European statesmen.

A dissenting voice was raised by Rep. John M. Vorys of Ohio, chief Republican spokesman on foreign affairs in the House, who said President Truman "got the appointments backwards."

Mr. Vorys said Gen. Ridgway has done a fine job in the Far East but doesn't know much about European problems, while Gen. Clark has had wide experience in Europe and knows little about the Orient.

"So we're sending each man where he doesn't belong," Mr. Vorys concluded.

Red Blast Expected

Diplomatic sources predicted that Communist propagandists will unleash a tirade against Gen. Ridgway as the "war lord of Korea" and will try to depict his European assignment as "proof" that the Atlantic Pact Allies are plotting an attack on the Soviet Union.

The Defense Department had no definite word on when Gen. Ridgway will leave the Far East for Europe. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, whom he is succeeding, has resigned as Atlantic Pact commander effective June 1.

There was some speculation that President Truman may ask Congress for special legislation to promote Gen. Ridgway to the five-star rank of General of the Army, held by Gen. Eisenhower. As a four-star general, Ridgway will be outranked by Britain's Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, who is deputy commander in chief of the pact armies.

Diplomatic circles said the change from Gen. Ridgway to Gen. Clark in the Far East command will have no disrupting effect on the Korean truce talks, since they are being rather closely directed from Washington anyway.

Reds Ponder Allied Offer

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Apr. 29 — Communist truce negotiators were believed today to have received a United Nations compromise proposal for an "over-all solution" to the Korean armistice deadlock to Pyongyang, Peiping and perhaps Moscow for decision.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, head of the United Nations armistice delegation, handed the proposal to North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il yesterday.

The conference then was adjourned until the Communists are ready to reply. No word had been received from the Reds up to a late hour.

Today was the first day since Nov. 20 that there has been no armistice meeting.

Details of the United Nations proposal are secret.

UN Grenades Hurl

Red Thrusts Back

SEOUL, Korea, Apr. 29 (UP)—United Nations troops crouching in water-logged foxholes threw grenades to turn back two charges by groups of Chinese from 50 to 100 strong before dawn today.

The first charge came north of Kumhwa, where the enemy laid down a heavy artillery barrage, then tried to take advance United Nations positions. The Allies repulsed the Reds with hand grenades and small arms fire.

The other attack came south-east of Kumsong. It was turned back in the same manner.

The Eighth Army reported enemy "nuisance" attacks east of the Pukhan River and north and west of the Punchbowl. All were repulsed.

THIRD WOMAN THEME—A judge put an end to a domestic triangle yesterday as he sent Marilyn Hopper to Indiana Women's Prison. He ordered the 19-year-old "other woman's" boy friend, William Knapp, to become reconciled with his wife and family at 303 N. East St. The triangle came to Judge Scott McDonald's court after Mrs. Knapp charged her husband struck her because she refused to allow him to bring his Marilyn to live in their home.

Duluth Milk Supply Dried Up by Strike

DULUTH, Minn., Apr. 29 — Dairy workers seeking a five-day week and a one-year contract. The dairies held out for a two-year contract although they agreed to the five-day week.

Only a handful of small dairies remained to supply the needs of 250,000 residents of Duluth and Superior, Wis., after daylong negotiations yesterday ended in a stalemate on both scores.

"No acceptable compromise for the emergency distribution of milk was reached, nor seems likely in the immediate future," said Dr. Mario Fischer, Duluth city health director.

The strike was called Saturday over a contract dispute by the 50 years of my life," he said.

Pinned Traffic Victim Asks Leg Be Cut Off

"Cut my leg off if you can't get me out. My god, it hurts," Frank Griffey, 39, of 2430 N. Kenwood Ave., cried out in pain as deputy sheriffs tried to free him from the twisted wreckage of his car.

Using two wreckers, deputies worked frantically for an hour to pull the car apart so they could get the victim out.

Mr. Griffey lost control of his car in 8500 block S. Meridian St. early today, sheriff's deputies reported. The auto veered to the wrong side of the road and 300 feet farther along crashed into a concrete bridge abutment.

The motor was driven back through the car, pinning the driver's foot.

Mr. Griffey was taken to Robert Long Hospital where he is on the critical list.

Officers estimate the car must have been going between 70 and 80 mph.

Wait Identification

In another accident police today awaited positive fingerprint identification from Washington, D. C., of one of the three victims of a two-truck crash near Lebanon early yesterday. The victim died several hours later in General Hospital.

State police tentatively identified the victim as Jack Watkins, 26, Encino, Cal., driver for the Red Ball Transit Co.

The other victims were identified earlier as William C. Berry, 36, 803 E. 14th St. and Mrs. Mildred Jean Marshall, 34, of 1432 College Ave. Mrs. Marshall died late yesterday.

Driver of the second truck, William Pollard, 22, Washington Court House, O., was reported in fair condition at Witham Hospital, Lebanon.

Five Injured

In the city, five persons were injured when the car in which they were riding crashed into a telephone pole late yesterday afternoon. Roxie Carroll, 31, 532 N. Elder Ave., driver of the car, reported her brakes went bad at E. 10th St. and Tibbs Ave.

The injured include Nattie Smothers, 7, of 720 N. Elder Ave.; Wanda Jean Carroll, 6, 532 N. Elder Ave.; Ellen McClellan, 30, of 350 N. Elder Ave.; Sandra Carroll, 8, of 532 N. Elder Ave. All were treated at General Hospital but not admitted.

In another accident in the city, a pedestrian was knocked down near the corner of Kentucky Ave. and Raymond St. early this morning.

Says Man Was in Road

Driver of the car, Austin N. Corochet, R. R. 3, told police he saw Quincy Samples, 37, of 3515 S. McClure Ave., standing in the road, waving his arms. He tried to swing to the side of the road to miss Mr. Samples, he said, but hit him with the left rear fender.

Mr. Samples is in General Hospital with a broken leg and cuts and bruises.

Delores Drummond, 3, of 718 S. Illinois St., ran into the side of a car near her home late yesterday afternoon. Richard Wachen, 34, of 216 Douglas St., was the driver. The girl was treated for bruises and released.

N. Y. Court Upholds Ban On Nudists Magazine

NEW YORK, Apr. 29 (UP)—A New York Supreme Court justice has upheld the ban against two nudists magazines on the ground they "attract attention by an appeal to the sexual impulses."

Justice Thomas L. J. Corcoran ruled yesterday that the sale of "Sunshine and Health" and "Sun and Health" contributed to juvenile delinquency and sex crimes.

Taft-Like Feud Gets Up Steam Here

By IRVING LEIBOWITZ

The Taft-Eisenhower feud erupted again today as Republican politicians prepared to flood Marion County with special lists of the pro-Taft and pro-Eisenhower delegates to the state convention June 7.

John Roysse, who heads the county Taft-for-President group, intends to have the list of pro-Taft delegates out in the precincts sometime this week.

The Eisenhower forces, led by County Clerk H. Dale Brown, are compiling their list of pro-Eisenhower delegates now.

Delegates to the state convention will be elected at the May 6 primary. They, in turn, help elect delegates to the National Convention in Chicago, July 7.

Rap Date Change

The Republican State Committee's unexpected switch in the state convention dates, moving it up from July 3 to June 7 produced a howl from Eisenhower forces in the state.

The pro-Like politicians claim the switch was aimed at heading off an Eisenhower campaign for Hoosier delegates.

This was sharply denied by Taft headquarters today. Lisle Wallace, campaign manager for Sen. Robert Taft in Indiana, said: "Gen. Eisenhower is scheduled to make his first address upon his return to the United States in Abilene, Kas., June 4. By that time every state except Indiana will have chosen its delegates to the Republican National Convention."

"It is difficult for me to understand why Indiana would be the one state that might need special campaign treatment by the General. He has campaigned in all other states by being absent in Paris."

Taft headquarters here pointed out why they termed "an interesting sidelight"—the popular primaries in seven states give Sen. Taft 1,703,222 votes and Gen. Eisenhower 1,561,025.

WITH THE U. S. 45th DIVISION IN KOREA, Apr. 29 (UP)—An Army private who corresponds with 25 pen pals received a request for some hand grenades from a small boy in New Jersey.

"He wanted to blow up the kid next door because he played his bugle too much," explained Pfc. Richard Lax of Duluth, Minn.

Organized this spring, the Council, composed of Indianapolis business leaders, will assist the Symphony in budgetary problems and fund-raising.

Denies Wrong-Doing In Accepting Gifts

DAYTON, O., Apr. 29 (UP)—Capt. Jerry Mitchell told an Air Force court martial yesterday he felt he "did nothing wrong" when he accepted gifts and favors from contractors while he served as a procurement officer.

The 31-year-old Charleston, W. Va., officer said that "there were no strings attached" to the gifts. He is accused of accepting about $116 worth of gifts while head of a unit at the base that handled some $141 million in contracts last year.

out why they termed "an interesting sidelight"—the popular primaries in seven states give Sen. Taft 1,703,222 votes and Gen. Eisenhower 1,561,025.
