

'Little Mo' Can Add to Tennis Laurels Today

By United Press
HAVERFORD, Pa., July 19—Seventeen-year-old Maureen Connolly, who makes a practice of collecting tennis titles, was heavily-favored to defeat Mrs. Bunny Harshaw Vosters of Philadelphia today for the women's Pennsylvania and Eastern states crown.

A victory at Merion Cricket Club would give the "Little Mo" from San Diego, Cal., her third straight championship here and would add to the U. S. and Wimbledon titles she already owns.

Miss Connolly, although her game slipped a trifle, moved into the finals by defeating Lois Felix, Meriden, Conn., 6-1, 6-0, yesterday. She had been almost superb the day before as she captured four matches in little more than four hours.

Mrs. Vosters, Philadelphia and Middle states queen, entered the final bracket with a 6-0, 6-4 triumph over Marta Barnet, she southpaw from Miami, Fla.

PLAY IN THE men's Pennsylvania tournament on the same court went into the semifinals with defending champion Vix Seixas and second-seeded Straight Clark of Pasadena, Cal., still in the running despite stubborn opposition yesterday.

Philadelphia's Seixas, No. 1 amateur in the U. S. and a Davis Cup player, ousted Fred Hagist of San Francisco, Cal., 13-11, 6-4, while Clark disposed of Bill Vogt of Philadelphia, 10-8, 6-4.

Sidney Schwartz, Long Beach, N. Y., scored a quarter-final upset when he tripped third-seeded Lorne Main of Montreal, Canada, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3. Hal Burrows, Charlottesville, Va., scored a 6-3, 6-4 decision over Pablo Eisenberg of Millburn, N. J., in the day's other match.

Hesler Meets Schafer in Golf Finals

By United Press
LAFAYETTE, Ind., July 19—Playing the course that was "home" to him for four years, Jack Hesler of Crawfordsville teed off against schoolboy Tom Schafer of South Bend today for the Indiana Amateur Golf championship.

Hesler, 23-year-old Purdue graduate last June, had by far the easiest time of the two finalists. Carding two-under par 34s twice on the front nine in Friday's semifinals, he disposed of Alan Holms, South Bend, 6 and 4.

HE FINISHED in a blaze of glory, chipping in a wedge shot from 80 yards on the 32d hole for an eagle three.

Schafer, 17-year-old South Bend Central senior competing in his first state amateur, was the giant-killer of the week-long links marathon when he edged six-foot-five Bob Myers, the 1950 champion, one-up in 38 holes.

Neither shotmaker was particularly impressive, and Myers especially had his troubles over the woods-studded Purdue south course. He only led once on the 32d hole—when his rival missed a three-foot putt. But Schafer came right back to win 34 and 35 before Myers took the next putt to tie the match into overtime.

Myers' second shot on the second extra hole hit a tree, and that sealed his fate.

There'll be a brand-new champion too, as the result of Schafer's overtime upset victory over towering Bob Myers of Indianapolis.

Kanter, Fageros Battle Today For Western Singles Crown

By JACK WELSH
Dark skies threatened the Western Tennis tournament today as one title—women's singles—was scheduled to be settled and the men complete semifinal rounds prior to crowning their champion tomorrow at Woodstock Country Club.

Chief lure beginning at 1 o'clock this afternoon is Anita Kanter of Modesto, Cal., seeded No. 1 in the country and heavy favorite to win the title this afternoon—if the weatherman lets the show go.

DICK SAVITT, the top-seeded male performer, has a chance to move into the finals Sunday when he plays fourth-ranked Gardner Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla., today in the upper bracket.

In the lower division, Billy Talbert of New York, the No. 2 man, seeking to become the first three-time winner in the history of the meet, will play second-seeded Art Larsen, tough southpaw from San Leandro, Cal.

Two matches are scheduled in the men's doubles starting at 5 o'clock and three more are to be played in the mixed doubles.

Yesterday's action was studded with grueling performances that saw many also-rans giving a good account of themselves.

Talbert came back after losing the first set 6-2 to Don Kaiser of Louisville and posted a 6-1, 6-2 victory over the last unseeded player to reach the semifinals.

KAISER, a promising 22-year-old University of Miami student, set a torrid pace in the first three sets. But the United States Davis Cup captain had to much court savvy for Don.

Talbert, sporting a crew cut,

Yesterday's Results

WOMEN'S SINGLES
Kanter (Modesto) defeated Joan Mercedas (Modesto) 6-3, 6-4.
Anita Kanter (Modesto) defeated Pat Stewart (Indianapolis) 6-1, 6-3.

QUARTER-FINALS
Billy Talbert (New York) defeated Don Kaiser (Louisville) 6-1, 6-2.
Art Larsen (San Leandro) defeated Grant Golden (Wilmette, Ill.) 6-3, 6-2.

MEN'S DOUBLES
Talbert-Gardner Mulloy (Miami) defeated Jim Reed (Santa Monica) and Bill Cranston (San Marino) 6-3, 6-2.
Don Kaiser (Louisville) and Grant Golden (Wilmette, Ill.) defeated Billy Talbert (New York) and Art Larsen (San Leandro) 6-3, 6-2.

MIXED DOUBLES
Chuck DeVore (Indianapolis) and Sara Mae Turner (Evans) defeated Don Kaiser (Louisville) and Grant Golden (Wilmette, Ill.) 6-3, 6-2.
Sammy Giammalva (Houston) and Paty (Monterey) defeated Karl Fageros (Miami) 6-3, 6-2.

Don managed to pressure Talbert in all sets, particularly when Talbert found some of his close service shots just wouldn't skim over the net.

Talbert, who had defeated Kaiser the two years ago, took the service with the score tied 2-1 in the third set. Billy took command in the second set and didn't allow his foe to win a single game during the last two sets.

Larsen, the 27-year-old national clay courts champion, was pushed an extra set before he eliminated Grant Golden, of Wilmette, Ill., 6-3, 6-2, 6-3. Golden stayed on the pace all the way and even in the third set trailed 4-3. Larsen never trailed his opponent.

MISS KANTER rolled along as expected in the women's class yesterday, beating 17-year-old Patty Stewart of Indianapolis, 6-1, 6-3. Miss Fageros earned her berth in the finals by beating Joan Mercedas of Modesto, Cal., 6-3, 6-4, in a hard fought match.

The latter was a mild surprise considering Miss Mercedas is seeded No. 2 in the women's division. Miss Fageros, who is ranked No. 3, has lost only 10 of 46 games in the Western meet.

Ford Frick Halts Sam Jones From Hurling for Tribe

BOSTON, July 19—Pitcher Sam Jones was prevented from pitching for the Cleveland Indians against the Boston Red Sox tonight after Baseball Commissioner Ford C. Frick rendered a decision on a "paper deal" involving the hurler.

The New York Yankees had protested Jones "return" to the American League after he had been "sent down" to Indianapolis to make way for another player being brought up from the minors. The Yankees contended he never left the parent club before being recalled.

FRICK TOLD that Jones couldn't play until 2:15 p. m. tomorrow and Manager Al Lopez said he would open the series here with veteran relief pitcher Lou Brissie (1-1).

Marshall Samuels, Indians publicity manager, said the Cleveland roster was "juggled" to meet the 25-player limit when First Baseman Bill Glyn reported from Sacramento yesterday. In a paper transaction, Jones was sent down to Indianapolis and then recalled today. Outfielder Dave Pope was optioned to Indianapolis to make room for Jones.

Samuels said the deal was made with the "full knowledge and consent" of League President Will Harridge.

The Yankees split a doubleheader with Cleveland Thursday but Jones did not play.

Piersall Awaits Baseball Fate After Suspension

BOSTON, July 19—Jim Piersall, baseball's problem child, waited today to learn whether he plays in Boston, Birmingham or parts unknown.

The clowning outfielder had another conference scheduled with Red Sox General Manager Joe Cronin who banished him to Birmingham several weeks ago for his antics with the parent club. Piersall bounced back yesterday on a three-day suspension for umpire baiting.

Piersall came north on a one-way plane ticket and with hopes of rejoining the Red Sox in time for the current series with the Cleveland Indians. The Sox were badly in need of an outfielder.

Cronin talked with Piersall yesterday but said the rookie's status was still up in the air. He mentioned the possibilities of putting Piersall back in a Boston uniform, returning him to the Southern Association or assigning him to another league. But he didn't say which choice he favored.

Piersall, who explains his frequent outbursts which include squirting water on home plate as "letting off steam," disclosed he recently paid a visit to a Birmingham nerve specialist.

"I told him my whole story and he gave me some pills and told me I could do what I wanted with them," he said. "So I threw them down the drain."

Only Two Games Played in AA Race

Only three games were scheduled in the American Association last night, and one of those was rained out.

The Louisville Colonels downed the number one Kansas City Blues, 3-1. The Colonels allowed the Blues their lone run in the ninth.

Minneapolis duplicated the pattern in its game with St. Paul by trimming the Saints, 3-1. St. Paul never could catch up with the Millers' two-run lead gained in the second inning.
