

Flying Saucer Sky Watch Set At South Bend

By United Press
SOUTH BEND, Aug. 2—A mass sky watch, billed as the biggest organized search of its kind, looks tonight for the "flying saucers" which reportedly have been buzzing through Indiana skies.

The South Bend Tribune and its radio station, WSBT, will sponsor the two-hour saucer search. Efforts of volunteer sky watchers, Air Force radar teams, astronomers and police will be co-ordinated.

The radio station will interrupt programs to broadcast alerts of sightings as listeners may look skyward in attempts to pin down the reports. In this manner Air Force officials hope to obtain thorough reports on any flying object sighted.

Objects described as "glowing disks" have most recently been sighted in the central portion of the state.

At Logansport, three persons told police they saw "glowing" objects in the sky yesterday. All said the objects traveled eastward.

Police Get Reports
Columbus Policeman Clarence Arbuckle answered numerous telephone calls from persons reporting strange lights in the sky.

One woman urged him to go outside and look, explaining she couldn't "because I'm in my nightgown."

Mr. Arbuckle said he saw "something queer."

"It wasn't a falling star and it wasn't an airplane. I'm sure," he said. "It looked like a light bulb headed north, going fast."

Hillary Vick, Vincennes, reported he saw an object resembling a saucer zigzagging across the sky at high speed in daylight yesterday. Mr. Vick said it was silvery in color and was visible for 20 seconds.

At Mt. Vernon Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Allen said they watched a strange skyborne object for 20 minutes. They described it as greenish, later turning to red, and sporting a red tail as it disappeared.

Blood-Stained Car Clue To Girl's Butcher-Killer
By United Press
EL RENO, Okla., Aug. 2—Authorities investigating the decapitation-slaying of a young woman put out an alarm today to men seen driving a blood-stained car, and women in this area were afraid that a "butcher-killer" was on the loose.

Canadian County Sheriff Tiny Royce said the girl's body, found three days ago, was mutilated in the same manner as the dismembered body of Mrs. Lois Depew, 34-year-old Oklahoma City waitress, who was found Mar. 13.

"The slayer in each case made an unsuccessful attempt to cut off the women's feet," Sheriff Royce said. "I can't say there is a definite link between the two killings, but we are checking that possibility."

The girl's body was found Wednesday. It had the letters R-A-T carved across the abdomen. Her head had been cut off and removed.

Have License Number
A service station attendant near where the body was found, reported servicing a car driven by two young men. He said the car had blood stains on the right front fender.

Desperadoes Wanted Boat

By United Press
MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 2—Boatyard Manager Emil C. Freund said today that last May two "very quiet, easy-going" men commissioned him to outfit a 60-foot boat for a long ocean voyage.

Mr. Freund learned a few days ago his customers were two of the nation's 10 most wanted criminals—George A. Heroux and G. A. Puff.

The desperadoes were captured last week. Heroux in a Miami suburb and Puff in New York City after a gun battle during which an FBI agent was killed.

Mr. Freund said Heroux and Puff came here several times while the repairs were made on the boat.

"The boat would have been completely self-sufficient except in fuel and water and doubling the tank capacity had taken care of that pretty well," Mr. Freund said. "A good-sized family could live on it very comfortably for an indefinite time."

Mr. Freund said he will try to get the title to the boat or find someone willing to pay the repair bill. But he said he believes he will lose several thousand dollars.

The boatyard manager said he never realized he was dealing with dangerous criminals. "They seemed like very nice people—very quiet, easy-going and very gentlemanly," he said.

Dirksen Says He'll Work for Ike Now

DENVER, Aug. 2 (UP)—Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R., Ill.), who nominated Sen. Robert A. Taft and touched off an angry scene at the Republican National Convention, today pledged himself to work "with vigor" for Dwight D. Eisenhower's election.

Sen. Dirksen said here last night he would "be a little less than human" if he did not feel frustrated and disappointed by Gen. Eisenhower's selection over Sen. Taft for the GOP presidential nomination.

"But the wounds are healed in the healing process of time," he said. "We are all Republicans and have a common goal."

The Illinois Senator will be remembered for a convention speech in which he shook his finger at Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and told the Eisenhower supporter, "You took us down the road to defeat in 1944 and 1948."

Sen. Dirksen was among a score of high-ranking Republicans who came to the Eisenhower headquarters here for a series of conferences on campaign plans and strategy.

The Army said a separate and even more liberal promotion system has been established for Korea.

'Flying River' Seen, But It's Only a Mirage

By United Press
CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Aug. 2—The University of Illinois, which usually confines its whoopers to the football field, reported today observers at the university airport saw—"on radar"—a "Flying River" several nights ago.

The university's explanation was simple: Observers at the state water survey's radar station at the airport, according to Meteorologist Glenn E. Stout, were using their radar to study weather.

The water survey pioneered in the use of radar, the university explained, and has been tracking rainstorms since 1948.

"Many unexpected things have been seen, among them images like the recently reported 'flying saucers,' but a 'flying river' is something new," said the university.

"Radar is tricked like the eye, and the 'flying river' for which an observer called a water survey meteorologist to the University of Illinois airport several nights ago, is one of the most unusual of the phenomena."

Threatens NLRB Suit in Strike At Allis-Chalmers

TERRE HAUTE, Aug. 2 (UP)—The 12-week-old strike of CIO United Auto Workers at Allis-Chalmers Corp. jet engine plant took a new twist last night when a union official threatened to file an unfair labor practice charges against the company.

Frank Barte, international district representative for the CIO-UAW, said he would file charges with the National Labor Relations Board Monday unless the company bargains in good faith to end the strike.

Barte claimed the company was "giving the union the run-around."

"The union has lowered its wage demands twice but the company hasn't made a concession," he said.

Barte said a day-long meeting with State Labor Commissioner Thomas E. Hutson, Federal Labor Conciliator Arthur Ingles, and the company ended last night in another stalemate. Earlier, Mr. Hutson expressed hope of settling the dispute during the week end.

Some tension was eased at the strike scene, however, when John Martin, Paris, Ill., was released from the hospital. Martin suffered a critical knife wound Monday in a picket-line battle with a rival union.
