part of another letter to the same, dated

Natchez, Oct. 12, 1817.

Two thirds of the inhabitants have left town, yet as many here as ever; so that the fere. is more fatal now than here.

The governor, by proclamation, convened the general assembly at Washington, on Monday instead of this place. After ing two senators to congress, adjourned to meet in this on the second Monday in ember next. Judge Leake & mas H. Williams, Esq. were en, both of the gentlemen well calculated to fill such a ation;—They are politicians he old school, and are honest independent men.

No permanent appointment judges has yet been made.
Ellis, lately from Virginia, Mr. J. Taylor have been ap-ted temporarily.

I suppose you scarcely ever such a spectacle as the city bits; empty streets—closed s—and a mute population, are confined mostly to their
ns. How long these things continue we cannot tell; while the children of Adam constantly passing from ang us."

EST FROM ENGLAND AND FRANCE.

New York, Oct. 22.
y the schr. Weymouth, Bect, 33, days from Liverpool, editors of the Mercantile adiser received at a late hour last ing the papers of that place the 17th, London to the 15th by the Maria Theresa, from re, French papers to the 13th no, all inclusive. They conno news of moment.

accounts from Ireland state the typhus fever had begun abside.

the prince regent was landed righton on the 13th, having at sea 4 days & three nights, ing which time he visited the of France.

rs. Cobbett, with her two and three daughters, sailed n Liverpool on the 16th, in Aurora for New York.

The papers speak of the universal revival of trade in all parts of kingdom, and particularly of rise of cotton and linen goods. aris papers to the 13th contain hing of interest. Desbands Chayoux, who plotted the ssination of Monsieur and son, been shot in the plain of Gren-

Lord Wellington had been non-ed in his prosecution of the ter of the Ghent Journal, and judged to pay the cost. It is the duke had appealed from decision.

FRANCE.
t is not Talleyrand, the former

Benevento under the Napoleon dynasty, who is appointed a cardinal and created archbishop of Paris. It is his uncle, formerly archbishop of Rheims, always a stauch Bourbonite, and now ninety years of age, who has returned to his country from which he was an exile for twenty years, and received this appointment.
This explanation is thought necessary to correct erroneous impressions which have gone abroad.

Paris papers announce that cardinal Talleyrand Perigord had been admitted to audiences to his majesty and royal family. His elevation gives him the right of sitting in the presence of the princes and princesses.

Executions for political offensces still take place in France.

A letter from Paris states that it has been decided that no diminution of the army of occupation will take place this year.

A person has appeared in France who styles himself Louis XVIII—the late dauphin. He appears to have gained some proselytes, & talks boldly of recovering his crown.
The mystery that hangs over the disappearance of the dauphin is said to favor his pretensions.

Niles' R.

Duke of Wellington.—A Brussels article of the 21st of August, says, " Yesterday the cause of the duke of Wellington against the editor of the East Flanders Gazette, was tried at Ghent, when the latter was condemned in a fine of 300 florins, one year's imprisonment, and to be deprived of his civil and political rights for five years."
