TERM IN PRISON FOR SHERRICK

Motion for New Trial for Indiana Ex-Official Is Denied—Sentence Pronounced.

Indianapolis, March 29.—Former Auditor David E. Sherrick, recently convicted of embezzling $120,000 of state funds, was sentenced to not less than two and not more than twenty-one years in the state prison. Special Judge McCullough, before pronouncing sentence, heard testimony to show that one of the jurors in the trial was incompetent because of statements made before he was drawn, and overruled a motion for a new trial. Sherrick stood while Judge McCullough slowly said the words that sent him to the penitentiary, his jaw set and hard.

PUTS IT TO THE TEST

New York Supreme Court to Decide the Legality of Political Contributions.

GEO. W. PERKINS UNDER ARREST

Habeas Corpus Writ Is Ready and the Case Goes Higher.

Prisoner Gives All the Information Necessary for the Case, and Does Not Claim Immunity Under the Law.

New York, March 29.—On a charge that his connection with the contribution of $48,702.50 from the funds of the New York Life Insurance company to Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer of the Republican national committee in the campaign of 1904, constituted grand larceny in the first degree, George W. Perkins, a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., and until recently first vice president of the New York Life Insurance company, was arrested on a warrant issued by City Magistrate Moss. When a detective went to serve the warrant upon Perkins he found that a writ of habeas corpus had already been obtained from Justice Greenbaum, of the statesupreme court, and the matter was immediately taken out of the magistrate's hands.

Perkins Is Under Parole.

Perkins appeared before Justice Greenbaum, and at the request of his counsel, the hearing in the case was adjourned until tomorrow. Perkins was paroled in the custody of his personal attorney, Lewis A. Delafield. The warrant for Perkins' arrest was applied for Tuesday by District Attorney Jerome. Magistrate Moss would not act, however, until affidavits were filed in the case. These were presented to him yesterday. They were signed by Darwin P. Kingsley, vice president of the New York Life; Edmund P. Randolph, treasurer of the company, and Thos. A. Buckner, also a vice president.

He Admits All the Facts.

Perkins' counsel admitted to Justice Greenbaum that Perkins had advanced the sum named to Bliss upon the request of the late John A. McCall, president of the New York Life. He was afterward reimbursed through the action of the company's finance committee. It was contended that McCall had executive authority to order the payment, and that if any crime was committed it was participated in by every member of the finance committee present when the matter was acted upon.

GOES TO THE SUPREME COURT

Perkins Surprised at the Charge—Justice O'Sullivan Active.

The affidavits on which Magistrate Moss acted in issuing the warrant for Perkins' arrest were forwarded to the supreme court on a writ of certiorari. The statement sworn to by Vice President Kingsley gives some of the details of the meeting of the New York Life's finance committee in December, 1904, when President McCall appeared and stated that Perkins had advanced certain large sums of money to Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer of the Republican national committee, pursuant to McCall's agreement to contribute $50,000 for use in the presidential campaign of 1904.

District Attorney Jerome has made public correspondence between himself and Perkins which showed that upon the district attorney's request for information, and without promise of any immunity whatsoever, Perkins had supplied Jerome with all the facts connected with the 1904 campaign contribution. In concluding his letter on the subject Perkins wrote: "When I made the advances mentioned, and when I was reimbursed therefor, it never occurred to me that there could be any question as to the propriety of such expenditure, which I believed to be for the benefit of the company. It has come to me as a total surprise that the legality of such payments should be questioned."

Despite the action of Jerome in applying for a warrant for Perkins and thus taking the matter to the higher courts of the state Judge O'Sullivan, in the court of special sessions, again addressed the grand jury which is considering life insurance matters, and instructed it that it was its duty to continue the investigation to the end. He told the grand jurors it was their right to demand that the district attorney subpoena witnesses to be examined before them in any matter they may have under consideration.

About All Hadley Wants.

New York, March 26.—In the examination of Rogers, of the Standard Oil company, in the Missouri ousting case little was got out of Rogers, but the counsel for the Standard Oil said that for the "purpose of this litigation" the Standard Oil would admit that the stock of the Waters-Pierce, Republic and Standard Oil of Indiana was held for the Standard Oil company of New Jersey. Attorney General Hadley, of Missouri, says this makes out his case.

Russian Peasants Are Ugly.

Poltava, Russia, March 29.—The peasants on the Bouronka estate, belonging to Princess Cantacuzene (mother of Prince Cantacuzene, who married Miss Grant, daughter of Brigadier General F. D. Grant, U. FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Uses For Common Salt.

Put a pinch of salt in whites of eggs when heating them; also use it when whipping cream.

Place salt in oven under baking tins in order to prevent scorching of their contents.

Put salt in cold water when you wish to cool a dish.

Put salt in whitewash to make it stick.

Use salt for cleaning piano keys, knife handles and glass spotted by hard water.

Salt dissolved in alcohol will remove grease stains from clothing.

Use salt to remove ink stains from carpet when the ink is fresh.

Rub salt on prints before washing to set their color.

To make a candle burn all night put finely powdered salt on it until the salt reaches the black part of the wick. In this way a mild and steady light may be kept all through the night by a small piece of candle.

The Home Doctor.

Use Ipecacuanha as an emetic in sudden attacks of croup, bronchitis or whooping cough.

Slight bleeding from the lungs may be treated by giving twenty drops of liquid extract of witch hazel every two hours.

When anything gets into the eye it is a good plan to dip a clean feather in sweet almond oil, raise the lid and brush the feather across the eye surface toward the nose.

A sore throat should never be neglected, especially in the time of epidemics. A cleansing gargle is made by dissolving a heaped saltspoonful of salt and carbonate of soda mixed in equal quantities in half a tumbler of water.

Window Shade Holder.

An inventor has devised an entirely new idea in window shade holders, an illustration of which is herewith shown. The advantage of the device is that it can be changed to fit any ordinary window frame without destroying its future usefulness in case of change of residence with change in size of window frame. The body of this holder is made of a bar divided in the center, the two parts being adjustably attached to a grooved hinge by means of thumbscrews passed through slots in the hinge plates. On one side of the slots are projecting teeth or a roughened surface to prevent the bar from slipping by undue pressure. On the ends of the bars are pivoted metal heads, having roughened surfaces, which bear against the window frame when the holder is in place. Projecting from the ends of the bars are adjustable journals, to hold the shade roller, and they are held in place and regulated by thumbscrews. To put the holder in place in the window frame the bars are first adjusted so as to tighten it in the window frame. Then the heads are placed in the corners of the frame by holding the bar with both hands. By pressing upward the holder is immediately sprung firmly in place. Next the bearing journals for the shade roller are adjusted to fit the roller without having to cut it off or in any way marring the roller.

SPRINGS INTO POSITION.

To Remove Warts.

Potato water, the water in which potatoes are boiled, will remove warts, even the worst "seed warts" that ever come on the hands of children or grownups. Wash the hands two or three times a day in the potato water, using no soap or anything else, and let the water dry on the skin or bathe the spots affected every little while in the course of the day, keeping them constantly moistened with the potato water, and the warts will disappear in a short time.

Dyeing the Carpet.

Worn and faded brussels and velvet carpets may be made to look like new by redyeing. After the carpet has been cleaned and laid wipe it off with vinegar water and allow to dry. Prepare a good dye, selecting the predominant color in the carpet, and apply with a wide paint brush. All colors and shades will not absorb the dye alike, so that a design will remain and all worn places will be covered.

For a Troublesome Cough.

For a troublesome cough the following recipe will prove effectual: Half a pint of strained honey, mixed cold with the juice of a lemon and a tablespoonful of sweet oil. Take a teaspoonful when the cough is troublesome.

Cheap Disinfectant.

A very reasonable but efficacious disinfectant is made by dissolving one pound of green copperas in one quart of water. Pour down the drains.

The Pin cushion.

If you are using bran to stuff a pin cushion it is a wise precaution to bake it first.

RATE REGULATION.

How Railroads Are Controlled in Dominion of Canada.

That railroads can be controlled and unreasonable rates regulated is shown by the success of such a law in Canada. H. R. Emmerson, minister of railways and canals in Canada, has been touring the United States in his private car and in an interview at Kansas City said:

"In Canada a law was passed two years ago which is practically the same as that asked for by President Roosevelt. The plan is excellent in theory, and so far in Canada we have found it to be eminently practical. It is just and right."

Under this law the railroads do not claim their property is being confiscated, and what is being done in Canada, should be possible to do here without any injustice to the railroad corporations and with entire justice to the shippers and the traveling public. The bill reported by the Democrats in congress would, if the majority would adopt it, give the relief the people have so long demanded, but the probabilities now are that the Republicans will compromise with the railroads, and the legislation that congress will pass will be practically worthless.
