The I. O. O. F., and Rebekah lodges of Remington are preparing to observe the 89th anniversary of Odd Fellowship April 26. Services by Rev. Taylor of the Wolcott M. E. church will be held at the M. E. church at 10 a. m., to which the lodge members will march in a body. The public is also cordially invited to attend.

About 15 Remington people were summoned before the grand jury at Rensselaer Tuesday to give evidence in the Parker bank matter, and a like number were summoned over Wednesday. It seems to be the opinion of many here that Mr. Parker should be placed under heavier bonds than at present held, hence the desire for more indictments.

When over at Remington a few weeks ago, a number of people at that place were subscribing for the Rensselaer Democrat, and while they were not in sympathy with its political beliefs, yet they were after a paper that would give the facts of the forthcoming Parker trial without out fear or favor, or with any strings annexed, and being the best paper printed in the county anyway, they choose the Democrat.—Brook Reporter.

They might also profit by following The Democrat's political advice, and many of them are beginning to see it, too.

The Indianapolis News a few days ago had the following mention of the Richcreeks, well known here: "As far as Indiana is concerned, Mrs. Bertha Richcreek is not the wife of Seth M. Richcreek, the missing banker. A judgment by default in the suit of Harry Milligan, trustee in bankruptcy of the affairs of Seth M. Richcreek, against Mrs. Bertha Richcreek, was that the woman is not the wife of the missing banker. She is his niece. They were married in Wisconsin, but, under the judgment handed down yesterday afternoon, the marriage is declared invalid under the Indiana law. The suit was determined in favor of Milligan, giving him, as trustee, a clear title to the property of the old Richcreek bank, and to fifty-one pieces of property (mostly vacant lots) in this city. Mrs. Richcreek has for several months been living in New York City.

How to Avoid Appendicitis.

Most victims of appendicitis are those who are habitually constipated. The serious sickness of Frank Wallace of Kersey mentioned last week, resulted in his death Friday morning. He was buried Sunday at Wheatfield. The I. O. O. F. lodge of Wheatfield of which he was a member, assisted by a goodly number from Gifford lodge and other places, had charge of the funeral. The Rev. Vandercar delivered the discourse at the M. E. church. Frank joined the I. O. O. F. at Wheatfield in August, and was a member only about eight months. He was 26 years of age and leaves a wife and one child, father, mother, brother and sister and a host of friends to mourn his departure.

Now, Lonely Valley, we really did not know that Lucky Seven had a girl. We thought it was a boy she wanted, but taking your item the way you intended was surprised to hear that you noticed me close enough to give the dimensions of that smile. But the sadness in my heart, the shrinkage of that smile, you and George must answer for, for if you had not leased old Vanpatten it might have been different. But I always was a forgiving cuss, and if you will allow me to dig horeeradish in your back yard and slide down your cellar door, if I call after church and at all times when George is at home, I will willingly forgive you.
