

The Elite in Groceries

It might surprise you to learn how often we have to say, "Not quite good enough" to goods that are offered us.

But when the sifting process is over we think we have a right to call what is here, "The Elite of Groceries."

Would you like to associate with eatables that are exclusive?

You would find the experience pleasant, to say nothing of the other advantages.

Choose your own article to test us on.

Coffee or tea or any staple or anything that you wish.

Come here always expecting to get the top notch of goodness.

Miss Fairy Gish died at the home of her mother, Mrs. C. M. Gish of Milroy tp., Friday morning of consumption after an illness of two or three years duration, having been in California for her health but received no substantial benefits therefrom. She was past 22 years of age at the time of her death. The funeral was held Sunday at the family residence and interment in Crockett cemetery. It is understood that Mrs. Gish will now move to town where one of her sons is attending school.

What is announced as a "big political meeting" will be held here on Friday evening. Senator Hemphill will not be here, as first announced, probably for the reason that he is a "wet" statesman and has bit off all he can "chaw" in the south part of the state. George E. Ried of Pennsylvania has been substituted as the orator.

Mrs. I. B. Marion and daughter Lottie returned Saturday from a several months stay at Wall, So. Dak., where Mr. Marion has a land claim which he will prove up on in December. They will remain here for the present at least, and Miss Lottie entered school Monday. They do not like it very well out in that part of Dakota to reside, and it is likely that Britt will sell his claim before long and then he, too, will return to Rensselaer.

The Cincinnati-Chicago evening passenger train is almost invariably from an hour to an hour and a half late nowadays, and has been for some weeks. Whether it is the prospect of Bryan's election that causes this or that it encounters "every afternoon when passing through Indianapolis, we are unable to say. Perhaps some of our republican friends who are so well posted on these subjects may be able to explain the trouble.

John C. Carmichael was over at Morocco Saturday and Sunday visiting his old friend Joseph Kennedy. On Sunday he went out to the Gaff ranch to the scene of his early beginning as a farmer in what was then a barren waste. Some of the trees that he set out more than 30 years ago were still there, and the old well was still in existence—or the hole where he had had a well—and from which he had drank water that had brought on many an acute chill. Old times were very vividly recalled by this visit.

R. D. Thompson and A. E. Bolser fixed up the insurance on the soda fountain, gas engine and glass fixtures in the front part of the Little Gem bakery at $35, and the other insurance has not been adjusted but will be soon at about $300. The insurance on the building has not yet been settled and probably will not be until it is repaired so that the loss can be definitely ascertained. It will be some time before Mr. Bolser can get the building in shape to resume business.

Goodland Herald: Dr. C. M. Huston of Hamilton, O., W. C. Huston of Beechville, Ind., and Thomas Huston of Roselawn, Ind., were called to Goodland on account of the illness of their father, D. J. Huston. On September 16 John Toynoe, who owned and operated a general store at Foresman, sold out to J. A. Sprague, of Buffalo, Ind., who took possession. Mr. Toynoe moved to Goodland Wednesday and will occupy the home place with his father in the north part of town.

Little Miss Ruth McKinzie gave a party to 46 of her little boy and girl friends Saturday from 2 to 4:30 p. m. at her home on Milroy avenue. It was Miss Ruth's sixth birthday anniversary, and her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Brown, thought to make it memorable. Refreshments were served and a real good time was had. The little hostess acquitted herself very creditably and was voted by every one present as one of the best entertainers with whom they had ever had experience. All will look forward to more birthday anniversaries with many pleasant anticipations.

Jerome Andrus, whose trip to Michigan was told in these columns ten days ago, bought a 90 acre farm near Shelby, Oceana county. This farm is well improved, with good house and barn, which is cemented and will hold twenty horses or cattle, 100 apple trees, all bearing, and good fences. Potatoes on this farm will yield 125 bushels per acre, for which 65 cents is offered. The price paid was $5,400. This land is all beech and maple, and there is some of these trees still growing there. He will move there in February. John Andrus is still there and will remain for two weeks longer.

Guss Phillips, the actor, who is starting with a big company playing "The Wolf," visited his father, uncle Simon Phillips, here Sunday, leaving Monday morning for Aurora, Ill., to join his company. The company will be at Lafayette Nov. 10, and a large number of Guss' Rensselaer friends are planning to go down and see him in this play. The intention is to go down on the milk train in the evening and come back on a special train after the play, the Monon having agreed to run one back if seventy-five round trip tickets are sold, and it is now believed that double that number will be sold.

The Gem of the Valley acknowledged by all the best flour we they ever used, $1.40 a sack.

RICHES IN THE HERDS

Number and Value of High Class Cattle Owned in the Hoosier State.

SHORTHORNS MOST POPULAR

Whitecap Outlaws Threaten a Woman After Dismantling Her Home—Kids Smoking Pipes.

Indianapolis, Oct. 6.—Figures on the number and value of pure bred cattle in Indiana, just compiled by Mary Stubbs Moore, chief of the Indiana bureau of statistics, show that more money is invested in Shorthorns than in any other class. The total number of Shorthorns on hand June 1, 1907, was 7,564 and their total value $518,064. Herefords came second in the list the total number being 3,586 and the total value $290,992. Both Shorthorns and Herefords come in the class of beef cattle. The other brands of beef cattle and the number and value are: Aberdeen-Angus 3,035, value $197,570; Galloway 172, value $11,101; Polled Durhams 1,699, value $130,380.

Jerseys Lead for the Dairy. In the class of dairy cattle, the Jerseys have the greatest total valuation and are the largest in number. The number on June 1, 1907, was 3,192 and the value $19
