HAVOC IN NEW FORM

Cyclone and Rain Torrent Take Life and Wreck Property in the Southwest.

FOUR KILLED AT ONE POINT

Many Houses Also Are Demolished or Damaged by the Wind.

Floods Threaten Further Devastation—Michigan Forest Fires Abate, but East They Threaten Destruction.

Clayton, N. M., Oct. 20.—Four persons were killed near this town as the result of a tornado and rain torrent. Twenty other persons were more or less injured, three of whom it is believed will die. The dead are W. H. Haight and J. S. Fox and his wife and daughter. Among the injured are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bowen and their five children, Thomas Downs and John Byrne. The new Union County courthouse, which cost 40,000, was wrecked, and a score of houses was demolished or torn from their foundations. Telephone and telegraph wires were blown away and miles of poles leveled. Clayton was in utter darkness after the tornado until daylight. The water system was also put out of commission by the storm, and the town is without water.

Severe In Other Sections. The persons killed were home-owners residing several miles from Clayton. No one was killed in the town. The storm was severe in other sections. At Folsom, where nineteen persons were drowned last August, the Cimarron river rose to within a foot of high water mark, causing a panic among the people, who fled in terror to the hills. It is reported that many houses were wrecked and much damage done to outlying places inhabited by home-owners.

Two Tornadoes Hit This Town. Sharon Springs, Kan., Oct. 20.—Two separate tornadoes struck Sharon Springs and completely demolished three residences and injured a dozen people. It is thought that one will die. The tornadoes were about two hundred feet wide and traveled north.

Hit By a Rain Torrent. Lamar, Colo., Oct. 20.—A rain torrent struck this city, registering a fall of nearly four inches of rain. The Arkansas river, already a torrent, is rising rapidly, and the large bridge over this stream is momentarily in danger of being swept away. The approaches are already washed out and the water is surging a mile out of its banks on either side of the river. All of the irrigating systems north of the river are breaking and flooding valuable farm lands. Most of the crops, however, are past danger, and the loss will not be great. Train service is paralyzed.

HAVOC BY FOREST FIRES.

Abates in Michigan But Flames Rage Furiously in the East.

Alpena, Mich., Oct. 20.—Reports are received from all points north of here which were in peril from the forest fires to the effect that the danger seems to be largely over. Four of the seven bodies found between Rogers and Metz have been identified as those of the wife and three children of Herman Erke, whose cremation in a logging camp was reported. A young man named Walters, who was caught by the fire near Erke's camp, and who escaped death only by lying in a little ditch, is almost crazed by his sufferings and the horrors he endured.

Detroit, Oct. 20.—Cash subscriptions here for forest fire victims in northern Michigan, total $1,950. In addition there has been forwarded to the fire district from here two carloads of oats, two cars of baled hay and two cars of clothing and bedding and 135 stoves.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Forest fires are raging furiously in this state and threaten to assume large proportions than at any time this year, according to reports received from the Adirondacks. Rain is badly needed, but the most dangerous element is the high wind which is prevailing. The fires in the vicinity of Lake Placid are very threatening. A message received from Lake Placid says that the fire on Sad delback mountain is threatening the entire side of the lake. An appeal for help was received from Dannemora, where a fire is raging about two miles from Clinton prison.

North Adams, Mass., Oct. 20.—The Berkshire mountain region in western Massachusetts and the foothills of the Green mountain range in southern Vermont are covered with a thick smoke pall from fires which have burned over hundreds of acres of timber land. Some of the fires are assuming dangerous proportions. The most serious forest fire reported is east of Bennington, Vt., where hundreds of square miles of practically unbroken woodland are threatened by a blaze.

Dunkirk, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Forest fires broke out with renewed fury in Chautauque and Allegany counties and over the Pennsylvania line. The smoke became so dense that schools were closed and merchants did business by artificial light.

MICHIGAN'S FOREST-FIRE DEAD

Revised List is Presented—Some Reported Dead are Alive.

Say City, Mich., Oct. 20.—A dispatch to the Bay City Tribune from a staff correspondent at Alpena says: "The verified known death list resulting from the forest fires in Presque Isle and Alpena counties stands at forty-one, with several people still reported missing and a growing probability of severe loss of life in northern Pulawski and Krakow townships in Presque Isle county, the first indication of which came with the reporting of six dead bodies in Pulawski, including those of Mrs. Herman Erke and children. Two woodsmen have found the skeleton of Mrs. William D. Rose, living near Okequoec.

"At least sixty families were living near the shore of Lake Huron in the northern half of Pulawski and Krakow townships and practically nothing has been heard from them since the fires. At Grand Lake a farmer and wife and four children are known to have taken refuge in a boat and nothing has been heard from them since. A dozen school children, sent home by teachers, have not been heard from. Near Posen, Mr. and Mrs. Hines are still missing.

"Of those previously reported killed, the following were found in the woods or at their friends' homes: John Koneczny, who was reported dead with his wife and children in the gondola car at Metz; three Nowicki children and Mary Nowicki, their aunt; Anthony Wagner, Mrs. Anthony Wagner, Mrs. Charles Liebke, Mr. and Mrs. Pachinski, and five of the Dust children, only one of the latter being killed.

"Following is a revised list of the dead victims of the forest fires: William Barrett, brakeman, and Arthur Lee, fireman, Alpena; Mrs. John Koneczny and three children; Mrs. George Clecro and two children; Mrs. Emma Hardies and three children; John Nowicki and wife; Henry Kempf, wife and two children; Robert Wagner; Dust girl, three-years-old; Mrs. Anna Sentelella and four children; Metz; Mrs. John Hezerski and three children; Rogers; Cree; Seavert; Wolf Creek; Mrs. Tillie Erke and four children; John Samp, Pulawski; Leon Bush, Posen; Mrs. William Rose, Okequoec; unidentified man; unidentified body, believed to be a child, found in burned gondola car at Metz.

At Metz, Mrs. Fred Wagner is still living, though the physician who visited her declares that it is a miracle that life still exists in her charred body. Both feet are burned off, and almost her entire body is cooked brown. She is beyond recovery. Her husband is a raving maniac.

HOSTS OUT TO LISTEN

General Apathy, Who Has Been Prominent in the Political Fight, Disappears.

TAFT SPEAKS TO MULTITUDES

One Crowd So Big He Couldn't Make It Hear What He Said.

Baltimore, Oct. 20.—Hitting straight at his opponent, Bryan, with even more force than in the north, west or south, Judge Taft carried his campaign to the very doors of New York city, and gave a clear indication of the character of speeches he will make in the Empire State next week. Taft spent three hours in Newark, an hour in Elizabeth, an hour and twenty minutes in Trenton, an hour in Wilmington, and the entire evening in Baltimore. He encountered tremendous crowds, and enthusiastic spontaneous and ample. His extended efforts of the day were at Newark, Elizabeth and Baltimore. At Newark he gave attention to all the issues save labor. In his Elizabeth speech he dwelt solely on the labor question, and at night he combined the Newark and Elizabeth speeches.

Taft puts a child on the stand. The zest with which Delaware received the candidate resulted in curtailing the Wilmington speech to but a few lines. The crowd in the square opposite the public building, where the speakers' stand stood, was so jammed with people that it was with the greatest difficulty that Taft was gotten through, and when he reached the stand the pressure in the throng was so great that many women and children were removed in distress. One youngster was raised above the heads of the people near the stand, and Taft, reaching out, grasped the boy and placed him on the stand. Taft realized, and so stated, that his voice was such that he could not be heard by the crowd.

Would Like Delaware's Vote. "I can only say to you," he remarked, "that from what I have seen in New Jersey today, and what I have seen in Delaware today, and what I saw in the south and west in the last three weeks, I am going to be elected, and it would give me the greatest pride if in that electoral vote I could have the three from Delaware."

Real Issue as Seen by Taft.

"The real issue of the campaign is," said Taft at night, "whether you think the Republican party, by what it has done in the last twelve years, is entitled to your confidence. Even if it has done something to displease you, is it not much to be preferred to the Democratic party under any circumstances, considering the history of that party, and considering the peculiarities—to use no more offensive expression—of the leadership of that party?" Then he reviewed the history of the G. O. P. He declared combination of capital as necessary as the assembly of the different parts of a machine, but as the machine had to be regulated, so it was with capital. He vigorously attacked the specific Bryan policies and closed with a review of his own record as to union labor.

His Indiana Itinerary.

The Indiana itinerary of the candidate, which will be in operation next Thursday, is announced. He will speak on Thursday, Friday and Saturday in that state in the following towns: Lawrenceburg, Aurora, Osgood, North Vernon, Seymour, Brownstown, Mitchell, Bedford, Bloomington, Bloomfield, Linton, Terre Haute, Sullivan, Vincennes, Princeton, Evansville, Brazil, Greencastle, Crawfordsville, Lafayette, Frankfort, Kokomo, Greentown, Marion, Muncie, Anderson, Knightstown, Rushville, Shelbyville, Indianapolis, Greenfield, Richmond, Winchester, Portland, Decatur, Fort Wayne, Columbus City, Warsaw, Goshen, Elkhart, South Bend, LaPorte, Michigan City, Hammond, arriving at Chicago at 8 p. m. Saturday.

CHICAGO BURNS RED FIRE

Bryan Makes a Whirlwind Assault on "the Enemy" There.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Emerging from his special car at the Union station in this city at 7:30 p. m. yesterday, the Democratic presidential candidate found himself in a multitude of cheering Democrats who packed the station shed and on the street were so thick that it was almost impossible to clear a way through them so that Bryan could start on his "hi-ke" for the speeches scheduled for the evening. The County Democracy was his escort, and with sixty automobiles took the national leader to the place of his first speech, Pilsen Garden park, in the southwest section of the city.

As the candidate appeared there was continued cheering, which was taken up by the crowd in the street and ran along Canal street to Jackson boulevard, which was packed on both sides for blocks. Bryan rode in an auto at the head of the column and was kept busy doffing his hat to the applause that greeted him everywhere. From Canal street, all along the line of march, the street was ablaze with red fire, and Sharpest Issues in the Balkan Struggle May Be Settled by the Nations Themselves.

London, Oct. 20.—The latest phase of the Balkan difficulty points to the possibility of the most serious issues being settled by direct negotiation before the proposed international congress meets, leaving to the congress the work merely of ratifying and legalizing the arrangements already made. Confirmation is had from Vienna of the statement that negotiations have been opened between Turkey and Austria concerning Bosnia and Herzegovina, with fair prospect of success, while Constantinople dispatches are more hopeful that Turkey and Bulgaria will reach an understanding on the Oriental railroad and Rumelian tribute questions. The Bulgarian charge d'affaires, informed Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, that his government officially authorized him to give most positive assurances that Bulgaria would take every possible step to avoid war with Turkey.

En route to Chicago from St. Louis Bryan first went to East St. Louis where he addressed several thousand workmen, and it goes without saying that his subject was largely the injunction question and his remarks were enthusiastically received. He also made an address at Granite City and coming through the state made a number of rear platform speeches to crowds at stations. He spoke for thirty minutes also at Lincoln, Ill., on a platform near the station. Everywhere his reception was very gratifying to a man running for office.

On leaving this city this morning Bryan started through Indiana en route to Louisville, Ky. A dispatch from New York says that great preparations are being made for the candidate's reception at the eastern metropolis. Chas. Murphy, of Tammany Hall, wired to national headquarters to ask that another day be devoted by Bryan to New York city. During this final tour the paths of Bryan and Taft will cross at a dozen places and the two presidential candidates will engage in a struggle which has not been duplicated in political history for several decades.

AMENITIES OF THE CAMPAIGN

Sherman and Kern Are the Boys Who Do 'Em Up Nicely.

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Townsmen of James S. Sherman, Republican vice presidential candidate, gathered in large numbers in the Majestic theater here to listen to an expounding of anti-trust arguments by Sherman's political opponent, John W. Kern. As the Democratic nominee walked up the stage he was handed a message of welcome telegraphed to him by Sherman and the speaker's opening remarks were in a happy vein, apropos of the incident. He said:

"My friend Sherman, in a speech recently delivered by him in my home city, extended to me a polite invitation to be present at the inaugural ceremonies to be held in Washington on the 4th of next March. With all due respect to my genial opponent, I must question his authority to issue invitations to the ceremonies referred to. I had already received and accepted an invitation to attend the inaugural function, extended to me by William Jennings Bryan, and I have no sort of doubt that that invitation will be duly ratified and confirmed by the people in November."

Sherman's invitation, Kern said, was much the same as though a neighbor should invite one to dinner in one's own house. "Nevertheless," he continued, "whether my home shall be in Indianapolis or in Washington after the 4th of March, Jim Sherman and his friends will always be welcome."

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 20.—While his opponent for the office of vice president, Kern, was speaking at Utica, N. Y., James S. Sherman, whose home is Utica, was speaking here. He began this way: "If there is anybody in this audience who expects to hear me roast my opponent, Mr. Kern, they will be much disappointed. He is speaking tonight in my home city, Utica, and I have sent him a telegram, regretting my inability to be there to entertain him, and I have asked my fellow citizens to give him a rousing reception. I also wished him every success in private life."

Cannon-Booms in Missouri.

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 20.—Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, of the national house of representatives, concluded the first day of his three-day tour of Missouri here by addressing a largely attended Republican rally. Speaker Cannon left St. Louis early in the morning, and throughout the day made fifteen speeches from the rear platform of his train.

Ohio County That Goes Wet.

Columbus, Oct. 20.—Returns received at the headquarters of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League, show that Lorain county, voted to retain saloons by a majority of thirty-six. There are 154 saloons in Lorain county and the campaign was one of the hottest waged up to this time.

Debs Too Ill to Speak.

Two Undesirables to Go Back.

New York, Oct. 20.—James Howard Allport, reputed to be a millionaire of Liverpool, England, and Miss Ray Bucy, an English girl of twenty-two years, are held at Ellis Island for deportation to England. Ahead of them had come word by cable from Howard Allport, the young man's father, that his son had left a wife and daughter in Liverpool.

Battleship Alabama Arrives at New York from a Voyage of 35,000 Miles.

New York, Oct. 20.—Through a dull brown curtain of haze and smoke which overhung the entrance to New York harbor the battleship Alabama crept into port yesterday and dropped anchor off Tompkinsville, completing a voyage around the world in 309 days. More than 35,000 miles of all the seas of all the world lay behind her.

Except in one particular the Alabama finished her long swing around the great circle as fit for a fight as when she sailed from Hampton Roads on Dec. 16 last. Seven years of steaming has put the boilers of the ship to a severe test and repairs are necessary. In a few days the Alabama will go to the navy yard at Brooklyn to undergo an overhauling.
