

BEAUTIFUL PEARLY WHITE TEETH

USUALLY CAUSE A PLEASURE LONG TO BE REMEMBERED. They are usually the results of the very closest attention at the proper time. If you have postponed this important duty, you will be glad to know how I can help you to "make good."

One reason you will likely command my operations—I am a firm believer in works that makes my patients so well satisfied that no desire will enter their minds that they could have done better at another dentist.

Prof. Ray Yeoman of Purdue University was in town over Sunday visiting with friends and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Yeoman, south-east of town.

The Lowell postoffice was blown to pieces last night and $300 in money was taken beside a large amount in stamps. No trace was left of the robbers.

H. C. Hoshaw is getting along very nicely with his broken leg, as a result of the runaway of E. D. Rhoads' horse. He was able to get out Sunday for the first time.

The old postoffice was dismantled Friday and the fixtures stored until a buyer is found for them. A part of this outfit has been in use more than a quarter of a century.

William Hordeman, brother of Peter Hordeman, Sr., went to Chicago Sunday afternoon and will visit there a few days before returning to his home in Genesee, Idaho.

J. C. Carmichael has started up a harness shop at Monon and will probably move his family there soon. John's Rensselaer friends wish him lots of success in his new venture.

The new Box Ball Alley will be open Wednesday afternoon, and will be free to everybody both afternoon and evening of opening day. The ladies cordially invited to come out and try it.

Miss Hattie Warren of Demotte is visiting Mrs. B. E. White a few days, and attended the reception given Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith by his mother, Mrs. Martha Smith, Monday evening.

Grover Ritchey returned Sunday night from a three months absence at Lisbon, No. Dak. He reports wheat threshing all over with the yield was very good. Farmers are now busy plowing. Grover likes the country there first-rate.

Paul Glazebrook came up from Purdue and spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee E. Glazebrook, north of town, returning to Purdue Sunday eve. Paul has been big enough to vote for several years, but unfortunately will not be 21 until next month, hence he was not eligible to cast a ballot in this election.

E. L. Hollingsworth was arrested Friday on a warrant sworn out by Truant Officer Sands, charging failure to send his son Emmet to the public schools. The case was to have been heard Monday, but was postponed to this afternoon. We know nothing of the merits of the case, and therefore reserve comment.

H. J. Bartoo, late of the Monroe Courier, and family departed last week for Seattle, Wash., where they will likely make their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Bartoo adopted Bessie Nelson, the babe they took to raise several years ago, and had her name changed to Bessie Beres Bartoo at the present term of court in Newton county.

George Brett, formerly of Kankakee tp., this county, writes us to change the address of his Democrat from Hartford, Wash., to Seattle, Wash. He says that he likes it very much there and has no thought of returning to Indiana. His letter was dated Oct. 29, and he says, "I have been picking strawberries today in the garden."

Mrs. W. H. Wilcox and son of Union tp., arrived home Thursday from Seattle, Wash., where she had been visiting her sister, Mrs. R. Ridonour, for the past three months. She reports having left her sister in quite poor health, but better than she had been. She likes the country there very much and may make it her future home if Mr. Wilcox is so inclined.

Miss Mabel Ward of Union City, spent Sunday with Miss Eva Maines.

C. P. Wright returned from a business trip Saturday, and while absent closed up a couple of good deals.

J. A. Brenner has about concluded a trade that will put him in possession of the Makeever house again. Jenk is one of the best landlords in this neck of the woods and if anybody can make a hotel pay he can. The traveling public will certainly welcome the change.

Benny King, living on the old Jasper Kenton farm, was bitten by a dog Tuesday morning while trying to take it out of a trap in which it had accidentally got caught. His finger was badly lacerated and he was also bitten in the arm. It is too early to determine whether the bite will result seriously, but it is hoped it will not.

Among those home to vote Tuesday were: Charlie Macklin and Vern Jacks from Lafayette; Charles Mann from Cincinnati, Ohio; Hon. Jesse E. Wilson and William K. Martin from Washington, D. C.; Richard Beck from Lebanon; George Putts from Dwight, Ill.; Carl Duvall and Rue Parcells from Indianapolis; Omar Day of Purdue; John Ellis and Ernest Clark from Chicago.

At last the anti-saloonists have of the best of J. J. Garrity of Mt. Ayr. A remonstrance was filed late Friday night that contained three more names than the requisite number to knock him out. There is but one more saloon in Newton county and if no election is held under the Hanly county option law it is only matter of a few months until there will be none at all. From reports that come from good and reliable sources there seems to be no doubt that Newton county will go "wet" if an opportunity is offered to vote on the question. After December Roselawn will be the only "wet" town in Newton county.

Robert J. Yeoman of Newton tp., was 55 years old Sunday, and his wife and family together with his relatives and friends gave him a surprise that took him off his feet. Robert was at Sunday school, and during his absence the "house was taken" and when he got home a houseful of neighbors and friends were there with baskets filled to the balls with good things to eat. The dinner was something to make anyone sit up and take notice. Eighty guests were present, but on account of sickness the fathers of both Mr. and Mrs. Yeoman could not be present. The afternoon was spent in innocent pastimes, and altogether this was an occasion to be long remembered by all those present who were fortunate to be present.

Robert Carr arrived home Saturday from a three weeks visit with his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Arnott of Spokane, Wash. This was Mr. Carr's first trip to the coast and very naturally he was much interested in the immensity of the great mountain scenery that surrounded him for many hours, changing as chameleon changes the hue of its skin without scarcely being conscious of where the change takes place. He found his daughter and husband enjoying good health and doing nicely. While at Spokane he visited Alfred Crisler, a brother of Mrs. Benj. Harris of this city, who lives on a farm 15 miles southeast of that city. Mr. Crisler went there 31 years ago and at that time there was no town where Spokane is now. In those 31 years a city 7 miles one way and the other has grown up and is still growing very rapidly.

Fowler Leader: Although several bids were offered the fixtures and building formerly occupied by the Bank of Fowler is still unsold. Willard Elliott, the receiver of this bank, and also the bank at Ambia, with his attorney, Albert G. Jenkins, were in town yesterday but nothing definite was done. The Baldwin & Dague banks of Ambia and Fowler are much better secured than the bank at Goodland. The Goodland Bank has on its hands for collection the personal note of Baldwin & Dague for $61,000. The banks at Fowler and Ambia have besides the building and fixtures, the home of Mr. Dague, an $8,600 mortgage on land in Cass county, and the holding of property in Arkansas. As soon as the property is sold the depositors will be paid. Grant Hall will go to Logansport tomorrow to interview Messrs. Baldwin and Dague in regard to the sale of the Arkansas land.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Alfalfa Meal as a Dairy Feed.

Within the last year alfalfa meal has gained a great deal of prominence as a food for dairy cows. While we have not been able to carry out carefully conducted feeding experiments with this product of the alfalfa mill, we do not feel it will prove to be as valuable for feeding for dairy cows as some other class of live stock. The dairy cow not only has room for but needs a large amount of roughage in her ration, and in view of the difference in price between the meal and the hay, which, by the way, must be practically the same in feeding value, we do not think that it is economical to purchase the meal except in special cases to be used in the place of bran for lightening up a heavy grain ration. We believe the cow can do this grinding cheaper and to better advantage than the mill.

The Pennsylvania experiment station as a result of experiments conducted in feeding alfalfa meal states that the results of this test do not warrant the recommendation of alfalfa meal as a substitute for wheat bran for dairy cows at the present market prices.—From "Alfalfa," by Kansas Experiment Station.

Ripening Cream.

It is pointed out by an expert butter-maker in Hoard's "Dairymen" that cream from a hand separator should be immediately cooled to a temperature of about 58 degrees and kept at that temperature or below until it is ready to ripen. The quality of the butter depends a great deal on keeping the cream cold and sweet. Warm cream should always be cooled before mixing it with the cold.

The ripening process simply means the mixing of all the cream together at least twelve hours before churning. It should then be kept at a temperature of about 65 to 70 degrees, which will induce proper souring. This matter of temperature is of the greatest importance and necessitates the use of a good thermometer, as it is impossible to make an accurate guess on a matter of this kind.

Animal Food For Hens.

The hens seem to require more or less animal food to do her best in the way of laying eggs. The most successful poultry raisers are pretty well agreed on this point. During recent years, since a number of experiment stations have investigated questions pertaining to successful poultry raising, additional assurance has been furnished that a certain amount of animal food is essential to large egg production. A recent bulletin from the Massachusetts station says on the point, "Judging from our own results and from those obtained by Wheeler of the Maine experiment station, it seems safe to conclude that animal albuminoids as measured by production possess a much higher degree of efficiency than those derived from vegetable origin."

Surplus Stock on the Farm.

Winter will soon be along, and the farmer should try to keep only so much stock as the means at command will warrant, says the American Cultivator. There is no profit in undertaking to keep more. All of the animals should be well fed and cared for to insure the most profit. But the farmer should be careful and not sell his best animals. Those should be kept on the farm.

The herd of cows and young growing animals should be kept in a continually improving condition by disposing of the poorest and keeping the best. If this course is steadily pursued it will not be very long before the herd will become of such value that those offered for sale will be wanted for their real merit.

The Draft Horse.

The typical draft horse of the present day must have sloping, massive shoulders, with a fairly high wither, says Farmers' Advocate. His neck should be a fair length, with no appearance of thickness about the throat. The head indicates his disposition. It should be broad and flat between the eyes. The latter should be large, full and mild. In no case should there be any appearance of "pony head." To raise such a horse the farmers must stop selling their best mares and use as good sires as can be procured, strong in character, masculine in appearance and yet of good quality.

The Early Molt.

The Colorado experiment station has been trying the new system of making hens molt early. The hens are given three weeks pasture on alfalfa in July, feeding them nothing else but dry bran. About the 1st of August they are given a liberal grain ration with meat. Under this treatment they begin to molt early and soon finish the process in time to begin laying the 1st of September, and they keep it up through the season of high prices. This plan is essentially that adopted by some eastern poultrymen, a period of light feeding being followed by liberal rations.

The Man and the Cow.

A good feeder and caretaker and a poor cow will accomplish a little, but not much. A good cow and a poor caretaker will yield results only a little better. But a good cow in the hands of a kind, affectionate and skillful caretaker will show astonishing results.—Henry Matteson.

Storing Apples.

All apples which are to be kept for any length of time should be carefully hand picked and at once excluded from the air as fully as possible. To preserve the flavor apples should be wrapped in paper, put in barrels and stored in a cool, dry place as soon as possible.

HAS VOTED FOR 17 PRESIDENTS

OTHER STATES IN THE WEST

Uncle Simon Phillips Has a Record In That Respect Equalled By Few Men.

Uncle Simon Phillips cast his 17th vote for president Tuesday. He began voting in 1844, voting at that time for the democratic candidates, James K. Polk of Tennessee, and George M. Dallas of Pennsylvania, for vice-president.

Both were elected, having 170 votes in the electoral college, against 105 for the Whig candidates, Henry Clay and Theodore Frelinghuysen. But on the popular vote it was quite close, the Democratic ticket receiving 1,337,243 votes to the Whigs 1,299,068, a difference of only 38,175.

Mr. Phillips has voted for every president since that time, but in 1848 changed to the Whigs, and has since supported that party and its descendant, the Republican party. Few men have ever voted for so many presidents as this, and while Uncle Simon has reached an age where he ought to know better than to vote the republican ticket, as that party is now made up, we hope that he may live to make the number an even twenty.

I SAY YER OUT WHAT?

Pacific Coast for the G. O. P.—Utah Against Bryan.

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—There was no state election in California to complicate the issues, and the Republican national ticket carried the state by about 40,000 majority. In 1904 Roosevelt carried the state by 115,822 over Parker. The solid Republican delegation has been re-elected without change, and a Republican state legislature insures the election of a Republican to succeed Senator Perkins. The proposition to remove the state capital from Sacramento to Berkeley has been rejected.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 4.—Washington's five electoral votes will be cast for Taft, the Republican candidate having carried this state by a popular majority of 40,000, reducing Mr. Roosevelt's majority in 1904 by 33,442. Samuel C. Cosgrove, Republican, has been elected governor, and the state's legislature will remain Republican by a large majority.

Salt Lake City, Nov. 4.—Mr. Bryan has lost Utah by a majority estimated at 20,000, 60,000 of the state's 100,000 votes going to Mr. Taft. William Spry, Republican, has been elected governor by a small majority.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 4.—Returns from all parts of the state indicate that Taft has a majority of 25,000. There was no state election.

Denver, Nov. 4.—Colorado, which gave Mr. Roosevelt a majority of 34,582 in 1904, may have gone Republican, but it is in doubt.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 4.—North Dakota has gone Republican, giving Mr. Taft 55,000 of its 70,000 votes. This is a Republican falling off since the last presidential election.

Carson City, Nev., Nov. 4.—Nevada has been carried by the Democratic party, reversing the result in 1904. Of the state's 10,000 votes Mr. Bryan has received 7,000.

Helena, Mont., Nov. 4.—The three electoral votes of this state will be cast for Bryan, and the Democratic state ticket is elected.

Kansas Still Republican.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 4.—Kansas is again in the Republican column this year. Mr. Taft's majority in the state is 40,000, $6,000 less than Mr. Roosevelt's majority in 1904. Walter R. Stubbs, Republican, has been elected governor.

Taft Wins in South Dakota.

Pierre, S. D., Nov. 4.—This state has been carried by Taft by a plurality estimated at 30,000. In 1904 Mr. Roosevelt received a plurality of 50,114. Robert S. Vessey, Republican candidate for governor, has been elected.
