John Crabb visited in Illinois last week.

Wm. Hawkins was in Bedford on business last week.

"Gum" Peley and George Hemphill went to the Kankakee Monday on a fishing trip.

The Remington Poultry Show will be held this year, December 28 to January 4. Remember the dates.

Clyde Reeves has moved into the property vacated by Mala Garrison, who has moved to Kingsfisher, Okla., where he will clerk in a store.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Gray entertained a party of young folks Thursday evening in honor of the 18th birthday anniversary of Miss Carrie Detrick.

Farmers are busy husking their corn in this vicinity, and with continued good weather the majority of them will soon be done. It is of excellent quality this year.

If you want to know what is going on in Jasper county, read The Democrat—it gives all the news that is worth printing and costs but $1.50 per year.

The new lumber firm of C. B. Johnson & Son, who recently bought out the Jasper County Lumber Co., here, are now in possession of same and will move their families here from Illinois shortly.

Charles Galbraith returned recently from a trip to Stuttgart, Ark., where he has a rice farm. His rice crop this year averaged 50 bushels per acre and sold for $1 per bushel. "This beats growing corn at even prosperity prices."

Chris Hensler has bought of the Robert Parker bank estate the 70 acres of ground comprising the old fair grounds and Fountain Park, subject to a 21 year lease held by the Park association. The consideration was $7,500.

Mrs. Elsie Phillips will return to her home in Remington, Ind., today after a few weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. Charles Kasson, at her home in Bellevue place. Her daughter, Mrs. John Pepperdine, will accompany her and remain there for a few weeks' visit.—Hammond Times.

Well, if the democratic state platform pledges are carried out, and we believe they will be, we will have a state law guaranteeing bank deposits anyway. This, of course, will apply only to state banks, and depositors in National banks will have to take their chances the same as they have done heretofore.

The Remington Modern Woodmen Camp is booming. Forty new members were taken in last week and several more applications are on file. Several Rensselaer Woodmen participated in the initiation ceremonies last Monday night, after which refreshments were served in Austin hall, where the ceremonies took place.

Foley's Honey and Tar clears the air passages, stops the irritation in the throat, soothes the inflamed membranes, and the most obstinate cough disappears. Sore and inflamed lungs are healed and strengthened, and the cold is expelled from the system. Refuse any but the genuine in the yellow package. A. F. LONG.

IROQUOIS VALLEY.

Get that turkey fat for Thanksgiving.

Ora Davis called on Alpha McElfresh Sunday.

Wm. Green and daughter Lulu called on his son Clarence Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Davis and mother called on Charles Salts Sunday.

Willie and Albert Pullins called on Harvey Snow Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. Chris Morgenegg and daughter Katie were Rensselaer goers Saturday.

Barney Kolhoff and family attended church at Rensselaer Saturday evening.

Geo. McElfresh and family spent Sunday with Chris Morgenegg and family.

Amos Deer called on his aunt, Mrs. Rebecca Hurley, Saturday night and Sunday.

Misses Lucy and Katie Morgenegg and Bessie McElfresh called on Mrs. John Schorer Sunday.

Misses Maggie, Leota, Lucy and Latonia Hurley called on Bessie and Jennie McElfresh Saturday afternoon.

In the "Burnstown" items in the Republican, "Bryan will go way back and sit down." If the republicans keep on they will soon have a king over the U. S. again. Then how will the people of the "boughten states" who sold their votes so cheap to Taft, feel? Will they fight for freedom again?

A Sure-enough Knocker.

J. C. Goodwin, of Reidsville, N. C., says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve is a sure-enough knocker for ulcers. A bad one came on my leg last summer, but that wonderful salve knocked it out in a few rounds. Not even a scar remained." Guaranteed for piles, sores, burns, etc. 25c. at A. F. Long's drug store.

THE SPORTING WORLD

Coy an All Around Athlete.

Edward H. Coy, who was recently elected field captain of the Yale eleven, is an all around athlete. Besides being the greatest fullback in football today, Coy is a crack baseball player and a fast track man who has already won intercollegiate mention. He has also shown good form in tennis and golf.

Coy played fullback and was captain of his freshman team two years ago and was varsity fullback last year.

TED COY OF YALE.

year, making several of the All American teams. He tied with Bobby Burch for regular captain last winter, and the election had to be delayed for a month for the return of G. R. B. Berger to vote off a tie. Coy was graduated from the Lakeville (Conn.) school, where his father was principal.

Professional Hockey.

John T. McNamara, for several years manager of the champion Portage Lake hockey team of Houghton, Mich., is anxious for a revival of professional hockey. "He would like very much to get Duluth and St. Paul-Minneapolis interested, which he avers, would spell success in large letters for such an organization as it is proposed to form. On several occasions there has been discussed a league made up of St. Paul or Minneapolis, Duluth, Houghton, Sault Ste. Marie, Detroit and Cleveland, O. Such a circuit, it is felt, would prove a formidable one and one that would insure hockey becoming one of the leading winter pastimes in the United States."

Longboat May Retire.

Rumor has it that Tom Longboat, the Canadian Indian long distance runner, will soon retire from the game. It is said that his physician has advised this course, as his many Marathon runs have weakened his heart to a certain extent, and it might prove serious if the Indian kept on running the extra long distances. Reports say that Longboat will run only two more Marathons, which are to be held in Canada, and that after this fall he will retire, but not necessarily from the cinder path, but from the long road runs. He may continue to compete in three and five mile races.

Gophers Lose Chestnut.

Ed Chestnut, Minnesota's star football end, has been declared ineligible by the Gopher faculty owing to his failure to pass a recent examination in engineering. The loss of this speedy little player is a severe blow to Minnesota, and the prospects of having a winning team are now ever darker than before. He was depended upon to make a great record on the gridiron this season.

Allen Winter Sold For $50,000.

Just after making a show of his field in the three heats of the West stake in Lexington, Ky., recently Allen Winter, winner of the Readville handicap and other good races in the grand circuit, was purchased by I. Schlesinger of Vienna for $50,000. Allen Winter is a brown horse by Ed Winter, dam Miss Que, and he will be raced in Austria next season.

Warner's New Wrinkle.

Coach Warner has a new wrinkle for the Carlisle Indians. The entire back field and the ends have brown, full sized footballs woven into the chests of their jerseys. This helps to keep an opponent guessing who has the ball, which, of course, is Warner's reason for the unique decoration of his men.

Yost to Coach West Point.

The information has leaked out that Yost will assist in coaching the West Point eleven in its final week of preparation for the annual grid with the navy. Michigan's last game is with Syracuse on Nov. 21. This gives Yost a week at the army school, for the clash with the sailors does not come until the Saturday following.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Winter Care of Rams.

During the winter time if the ram be young he should be kept in a continually improving condition. In case he has matured his body growth the object should be to keep him in a thrifty, normal condition, never feeding heavily of fattening food. Nothing has a more injurious effect upon his vitality than to overfeed, getting him too fleshy, and then be forced by scant feeding to reduce him for service. The bulk of his ration should be bright clover hay, bean pods, straw and an occasional feed of corn fodder, never feeding any of the above to excess. We believe it a good plan to feed one of each kind of ration at a time and never enough of any one to cause a stunted appetite. For grain we feed quite liberally of oats and bran, not at any time crowding him with fattening grain, such as corn. We have fed ensilage to our rams with entire success, and we believe that for a part ration as a succulent food there is nothing better. It is a good plan to pick all the corn out before feeding. Much care must be exercised not to feed ensilage so liberally as to cause the bowels to become too loose.—C. L. C. Reynolds in Ohio Farmer.

Feeding Alfalfa to Horses.

In a recent issue of the Breeder's Gazette of Chicago Joseph E. Wing says of feeding alfalfa to horses:

When alfalfa hay is first fed to horses or mules not accustomed to it and fed in large amounts it sometimes, not always, makes them urinate more freely than is their wont. This is nearly always a very temporary effect, and in a short time they eat alfalfa hay with no other noticeable effect than that they are in better flesh than when eating other forage, work better and feel better.

Alfalfa hay for horses or mules should be allowed to get fairly mature before cut, should be well cured and have no mold on it. The last cutting of alfalfa is usually too late to make the best horse feed, the coarser crops grown earlier in the season serving better. Neither horses nor mules should be fed all the alfalfa hay they will consume. It is too rich a feed, and they do not need so much of it, though it is ordinarily fed in limitless amounts with no perceptible injury.

Better Cows For the Dairy.

The dairyman with the unproductive cow must make room for the better animal and set himself to work to get better ones. How shall he do it? If he wants to start in the right path with least waste of time and money, he must breed them. Get a bull of one of the four dairy breeds and stick to that breed. A general purpose breed may be cheaper at first, but more expensive in the end. A beef bull will only lead him still further from the straight and narrow dairy path. Milk he must have, and the sooner he yokes up with a good dairy animal the sooner will he get his milk and consequent butter fat. The animal that will supply both beef and butter fat equally well may exist, but the present outlook is that she is too scarce for any dairyman to look for with hopes of success.—Hoard's Dairyman.

Shelter For Live Stock.

Every live stock farmer should provide comfortable quarters for his stock before cold weather sets in, says Farmers Advocate. Good quarters where live stock can keep dry through the winter storms are necessary. Good shelter saves feed, and feed necessarily saves money. Comfortable quarters should not only be provided for the winter months. It is just as necessary for cattle and other live stock to have a cool place for summer as a warm place for winter. The proper housing of live stock is a matter which should receive the attention of every farmer. It is not extravagant to invest money in these things; neither is it necessary that the buildings should be of costly material. When animals are kept under conditions favorable to them the best results are obtainable.

Dairy Hints.

"Prevention is better than cure." It is better to keep dirt out of the milk than to strain it out, however carefully done.

Every farmer owes it to himself to post himself on the hundreds of things which go to make dairymaking a real, genuine business.

If the skim milk and buttermilk are returned to the farm we only remove 2 or 3 cents manurial value for every ton of milk sold.

A Mississippi experiment showed that calves receiving ten pounds of separator skim milk made as much gain as those receiving eight pounds new milk.

The Profitable Hog.

A hog raiser and feeder of more than forty-five years' experience has the following to say in regard to the kind of hogs he has found to be profitable: "He is of the medium type, regardless of breed or color. A profitable hog is one that has a broad, short head, short, straight legs, straight and wide apart, jaws heavy, back broad and arched, straight underline." This is the profitable type and denotes a good feeder, one that a man can afford to put in time and money with.

The First Milk.

The cow's first milk after calving is called colostrum, and it is necessary that the calf have it. The colostrum contains properties that, purgative in nature, clear the calf's alimentary canal of materials that otherwise might cause congestion of the various digestive organs. The first milk is especially adapted to the needs of the young animal.

LAUNCH OF A TERROR

Battleship North Dakota Slides Off the Ways Into Her Destined Element.

NORTH DAKOTA GIRL NAMES HER

Governor Burke Is Present at the Important Naval Event.

Ship Is Our First of the Dreadnaught Class and Her Armament Is One of Tremendous Power.

Quincy, Mass., Nov. 10.—Amid the shrieking of steam whistles, the flapping of flags and the cheers of a crowd of invited guests and shipyard officials and employees the new battleship North Dakota slid off the ways here at noon today. As the great vessel quivered before taking her first plunge into the water Miss Mary L. Benton, of Fargo, N. D., native daughter of the state from which the battleship takes her name, broke over her bow a bottle of champagne, declaring as she did so, "I name thee North Dakota."

JOHN BURKE.

Governor Burke Is Present.

Among the invited guests who witnessed the launching of the battleship was John Burke, the newly elected governor of North Dakota. The launching of the North Dakota means the introduction of a new type of warship in the American navy. She will be the first American all-big-gun battleship or real Dreadnaught to fly the stars and stripes.

NEW SEA-TERROR DESCRIBED

Carries Ten Twelve-Inch Besides a Bunch of Five-Inch Guns.

The North Dakota, which is similar in all respects to the Delaware, which is under construction at Newport News, Va., will have a long forecastle deck extending from the bow almost to the center of the ship. The ten twelve-inch guns are arranged in five turrets, two to a turret, the forward turret being so located that the axes of its guns are twenty-four feet above the water line, and just abaft this turret is another, the barbettes of which is of sufficient height for its guns to clear the roof of the forward turret.

Abaft the break of the forecastle deck and also situated on the axis of the ship are two more twelve-inch gun turrets, the guns of the forward turret in this pair firing over the roof of the after turret. Abaft and near the stern is the fifth and last of the big turrets. Naval men declare that no navy in the world possesses a ship of the Dreadnaught type in which the guns are better arranged.

For repelling torpedo attack the North Dakota will carry a secondary battery of fourteen five-inch guns. These guns are all mounted broadside. The vessel will be driven by turbines and is expected to attain a maximum speed in excess of twenty-one knots an hour.

Ohio State Ticket.

Columbus, O., Nov. 10.—Returns collected here on the election of the state ticket show that Charles C. Green, Republican, is defeated for treasurer. It is not thought that any other Republican on the ticket, save Harris and Green, was defeated.

GOMPERS IS OMITTED

With Other Federation of Labor Men Men He Is Not Invited to a White House Dinner.

Washington, Nov. 10.—The president has invited a number of labor leaders to a "labor legislation dinner" at the White House, and among those not invited are Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Morrison, O'Connell and Lennon, all officials of that organization.

The guests invited include ex-President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers of America, now one of the vice presidents of the Federation of Labor; President Keefe, of the longshoremen's union; President Morrissey, of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; Vice President Duncan, of the Federation of Labor; Grand Chief Engineer Stone, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; Secretary-Treasurer Dolan, of the International Association of Steam Shovel and Dredgemen; President Faulkner, of the Amalgamated Window Glass Workers of America; Terence V. Powderly, ex-head of the Knights of Labor, and Edward J. Gavagan, attorney for the Central Building Trades Association of New York.

Does Not Follow the Flag.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Whether persons residing in the Panama canal zone are under the immediate protection of the constitution of the United States was the principal question involved in the case of Adolphus Coulson vs. the government of the canal zone, which was dismissed by the supreme court of the United States, that body deciding that the constitution does not always follow the flag.

Army War College Opened.

Washington, Nov. 10.—The formal opening of the army war college was made the occasion of simple ceremonies in the building dedicated to that institution, Secretary Root, General J. Franklin Bell, chief of staff, and General W. W. Wotherspoon, president of the college, taking part in the oratory that was the only feature of the occasion.
