

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1908.

Another "hunch" was given the Judge Landis $29,000,000 Standard Oil decision case this week, when the government's petition for a rehearing was overruled.

John W. Kern, B. F. Shively, L. Ert Slack and John E. Lamb are candidates for U. S. Senator to succeed James Hemenway, republican. Either of the first three gentlemen would be satisfactory to the democrats of this section of the state, but they do not favor Mr. Lamb. It would seem that the party owes the place to Mr. Kern, who has served his party perhaps more than either of the others, with B. F. Shively second in point of service. Either are good clean men who may be depended upon to be on the side of the people at all times and under all circumstances. Give us Kern as first choice and Shively as second choice.

HEDGING ALREADY.

The newspapers are recording the resumption of various business activities since the election. That stimulated by a prudent decision at the polls is altogether healthy and natural.

It is reasonable to expect, in the light of that decision, an increase of public confidence in the future of the country and in the growth of its industries and trade. If there be no further disturbance from Washington there is now good assurance of a gradual return to prosperity.

Yet it is well to remember that a return of prosperity, after a panic, is always slow. It is not possible to heal all the wounds at once. It would be unfair to the Republican party and Mr. Taft to expect such a miracle.

Most of us remember the winter of 1896-97. The hopes that after McKinley's election prosperity would return at once and in full tide were disappointed. There was no instantaneous revival of business. Full confidence returned gradually. It was two years before the nation at large felt that it was fully prosperous.

In fact, only when they found by experience that their prosperity was too broad and deep to be ruined by war were the people fully convinced.

There is a prospect that the National Government will again confine itself to the due process of law and will abstain from stump-speaking.

Hence there is every reason to be hopeful and to plan with confidence for the future. But it must be remembered that confidence is a plant of slow growth.

The order of the day is to go forward courageously but with caution, and not to expect too much.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

LIFE SENTENCE

Given Negro Boy Who Murdered a Woman For Discharging Him.

Savannah, Ga., November 11.—Solomon Reilly, a negro boy 10 years old and small for his age, was yesterday given a life sentence for the murder of Mrs. Walter Torrence at Pooler, near this city. The boy stated that he did the shooting because "she did not have any right to fire me."

FEDERATION LEADERS

Will Resist the Snub of Gompers By the President.

Denver, November 11.—The News today says: "President Roosevelt's snub of Gompers will be resisted by John Mitchell, Daniel J. Keefe and James Duncan as soon as they receive the President's invitation to attend the legislative dinner at the White House next Thursday."

"These three members of the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor yesterday decided that they will refuse the invitations. The action was taken after the slight put upon President Gompers and other officials of the Federation had been generally discussed by the delegates to the convention."

"The invited officials decided that if President Roosevelt wanted to do anything in the interest of labor it must be done through the organization (the American Federation of Labor), recognized as the parent body of all unions in the country."

STRICKEN IN HIS BEDROOM

Bank Examiner Remains All Night Unconscious, Dying When Found—Pathetic Feature.

Carroll, Ia., Nov. 13.—A second tragedy in the affairs of the failed First National bank of Carroll, whose president, W. L. Culbertson, recently shot himself, has occurred here in the death of the national bank examiner in charge, E. B. Staw, of West Union, Ia. Although apparently in good health Wednesday night he was found dying at 8 a. m. yesterday when the clerk at his hotel sought to arouse him for breakfast. He had lain all night unconscious from hemorrhage of the brain, and died at 10 a. m. in the hospital.

Examiner Shaw's wife and children arrived at noon, entirely unconscious of the death of Shaw. They had planned to remain with him during his work. Examiner Shaw was ready to make his first report to the comptroller at Washington, and his death will complicate the failure further.

GOVERNOR GLENN RESENTFUL

Issues a Statement Indicating His Wrath at What Styles Said of North Carolina

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 13.—Resenting the assertion of Dr. Charles W. Styles, of the marine hospital service, before the meeting of the Roosevelt commission of country life here Wednesday, that the blood of the children of this state was deficient in color, Governor E. B. Glenn has issued a statement in which he says:

"I am not at all pleased with the character of the talks made at the meeting here, as they have more of the appearance of being an attempt to injure the state than to improve it. I do not believe that the coming of such commissions tends to do any good when the statements made by them are in direct conflict with true conditions and are given out without any thorough investigation by actual visitations among the people."

LATEST SUFFRAGETTE BREAK

They Interrupt a Speaker in the City Temple, London, Amid Disgraceful Scenes.

London, Nov. 13.—The suffragettes for the first time have now carried their campaign into a place of worship. Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, while addressing a meeting in favor of disestablishment at the City Temple was subjected to disgraceful interruptions.

Nearly a score of the adherents of the suffragette movement, men and women, were ejected from the building amid uproarious scenes of struggling and violence. The earnest appeals of Secretary Birrell and the pastor of the temple to the disturbers to respect the sacred building were without avail.

HE SHUNS THE BOWL

Boutell, of Illinois, Declares Himself an Abstainer from All "Hard Drinks."

WISDOM OF "CHAMP" CLARK

Effect of Three Imbibitions on Most of the Populace.

Tariff Revision Men Hear Talk on Booze—Statesmen Flock to Hot Springs—Woodson's Faith in the Future.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The wave of prohibition which, it is alleged, has spread over the country, apparently has had little effect on the consumption of alcoholic liquors and spirituous drinks, according to evidence brought out at yesterday's hearing on the proposed tariff revision before the house committee on ways and means. It is apparent, too, that the liquor interests are, on the whole, well satisfied with the present tariff on spirits, wines and other beverages, as the wine growers and importers were practically the only interests represented at the hearing.

Boutell Never "Smiles."

The morning session was enlivened by a sharp, but good natured, colloquy between Percy T. Morgan, representing the wine growing interests of California, and Representative Boutell, of Illinois. Morgan was telling the committee why the regulations of the Dingley tariff covering the importation of still wines should also apply to those wines imported from countries with which the United States has reciprocity treaties. Addressing Boutell, Morgan said: "My contention is that wines can be imported under the present reciprocity arrangements up to 24 per cent which is 48 proof, while the whisky you yourself drink is only 55 proof." "The whisky I drink isn't any proof," was Boutell's quick rejoinder.

"You may take some occasionally for medicinal purposes," said Morgan. "I never take any," replied Boutell.

Does Champ Speak as an Expert?

Morgan insisted that there should be a differential in the reciprocity treaties against "fortified" wines. Champ Clark, prominently spoken of as the successor of John Sharp Williams as minority leader on the floor of the house, was present for the first time at the hearings as a member of the committee. W. B. Hildreth, of New York, a champagne expert, declared that the cost of making wines in this country was much greater than was that of producing French wines and champagnes. He was telling the committee that citizens of the United States only pay for the French labels, when Clark remarked: "There are not a thousand men in the United States who, after they have had three drinks, can tell what they are drinking." L. J. Vance, of New York, complained of reciprocity because it reduced the duty on foreign wines $2 per case, which enabled foreign wine producers to use that $2 for advertising purposes, and gave them an advantage over domestic producers.

They Ask for a Decrease.

C. H. King and John H. Wheeler, of New York, argued for a decrease in the duties on ale, porter and beer, and declared that as a result imported ale and stout would be cheaper to the consumer. Saying that Irish ginger ale could not possibly be sold cheaper than the domestic article, even if put on the free list, King asked for a reduction in the tariff on that beverage. Today the committee is considering tobacco.

STATESMEN AT HOT SPRINGS

Gathered to Talk with Judge Taft—Senator Scott and Revision.

Hot Springs, Va., Nov. 13.—President-elect Taft has been joined here by Vice President-elect Sherman, who said he had come to the Virginia mountains to rest and play for a week. His met Judge Taft on the veranda of the Homestead hotel and the two exchanged cordial greetings. Sherman said he came here solely for rest. Representative Burton, of Ohio, also arrived for a ten days' stay during which he will discuss with Judge Taft coming legislation—the postal savings bank and public improvement bills principally.

Senator Scott, of West Virginia, and Mrs. Scott came to spend some time, as did Senator Jonathan Bourne, of Oregon. Scott is in hearty favor of immediate tariff revision. He said he believed it could be accomplished at the short session of congress to begin next month. All of these gentlemen doubtless will take the opportunity to have talks with Taft, but the president-elect said that as far as he knew he would not be called upon to make any important plans for the future for some time to come. He still insists that this for him is a vacation time, and matters of state he desires to be tabooed.

"ARE WE DOWNHEARTED? NO"

Says Urey Woodson—Sees Bright Hope in the Future.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 12.—Urey Woodson, secretary of the Democratic national committee, returning home from Chicago, where the national headquarters have been finally closed, stopped here long enough to say that he would, about the first week in December, open his permanent office at Washington. He is the custodian of the organization, records and documents of the committee, and at the end of the campaign his work goes on throughout the years that intervene between presidential campaigns. The organization must be kept up, information furnished, and the party press kept aware of the advantageous points at issue.

Woodson added: "We are not disheartened. * * * We did not win because the time had not yet come for us to win; because the enemy frightened a majority of the voters, especially the business interests, into the belief that our candidate was unsafe. But Speaker Cannon will not be defeated, the Republican legislation, all signs now indicate, will be so reckless and in such utter disregard of the wishes and interests of the people that we cannot lose in the next contest."

Taft at the White House Tomorrow.

Washington, Nov. 13.—At the White House Saturday night and Sunday, President-elect William H. It will be the first time that the president and Taft have seen each other since the election.

Gompers to Fight Legislation.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 13.—At the close of the day's session of the Twenty-eighth annual convention of the Federation of Labor, President Samuel Gompers, in thanking the speakers of the day, said that he had heard since coming to Denver that it was intended by the present session of congress to pass a bill amending the Sherman anti-trust law in a way detrimental to the labor movement. He said if such an attempt were made he would fight it in the halls of congress.

MORGAN FINDS THE BULLET

Picks Out of His Vest Pocket the Missile Shot Into Him by Mackey, the Lunatic.

New York, Nov. 13.—If the rapid recovery of Postmaster Edward M. Morgan, who was shot by Eric H. B. Mackey, a demented stenographer, continues he will be at his desk the first week in December. Morgan was feeling so well that he brought up the subject of the shooting and asked if the bullet which wounded him had been found.

When told that it had not been asked to have his overcoat brought to him, and when it was brought he hunted through it without finding the bullet. "Well, it must be somewhere; bring me the rest of my clothing," said Morgan. His coat and vest were brought and the postmaster fished a battered piece of lead out of a lower vest pocket. Holding it up, he said to his wife: "You've heard of the blow that almost killed father, my dear. Well here's the ball that almost killed father."

STANDS FOR LAW AND ORDER

Tennessee Governor Notifies Law-Dealers That Their Depredations Must Cease.

Union City, Tenn., Nov. 13.—Before an audience assembled from all parts of Obion county, and which filled all available space in the circuit court room, Governor Patterson delivered a telling speech on law and order, addressing himself especially to the Reelfoot lake night rider outrages.

It was an unhesitating notification to the law-defying elements that their depredations must cease, and a summons to every patriotic citizen to give his assistance to the machinery set in motion to punish the murderers of Quentin Rankin. Governor Patterson has recently received warnings through the mail not to come to Obion county again, but he walked unmolested from his train to the courtroom and returned.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—A report that the Twentieth Century limited train on the Lake Shore had been wrecked near Rochester, N. Y., caused much alarm among prominent residents of this city, as many of their friends were on the train en route to New York. The train did have a mishap, three cars jumping the track through the breaking of a truck when the train was moving very rapidly, but no one was even severely hurt—merely shaken up—and all continued on their journey.
