JUST A WORD TO THE FARMER

Mutual 'Phone Co. Is Principally For His Benefit.

SHOULD HAVE LOYAL SUPPORT

It is His Duty to Take Stock Where Financially Able, and Help By His Voice and Time to Make the Movement a Success All the Way Through.—Come Out to the Meeting This Afternoon At the Court House.

A meeting will be held at the court house in Rensselaer to-day, Saturday, August 7, 1909, for the purpose of organizing a Mutual Telephone Company in Jasper county.

The movement is in the interest of the farmers almost entirely, and is intended to give them better and cheaper telephone service. While there is much complaint in Rensselaer about the service given by the present telephone company, the greatest complaint comes from the country districts and smaller towns of the county, where the service has long been simply rotten.

If the ideas of The Democrat are carried out it will not be very long until we will have a telephone system in this county which will enable every farmer and resident of the smaller towns, who has a telephone in his house, to reach the county seat at least without any extra charge whatever, and every telephone subscriber at the county seat can talk with any other subscriber in the county without and toll charges.

A good, up-to-date exchange will be put in at Wheatfield, and Keener and Kankakee townships connected up with same, and the former connected up with Rensselaer, thus affording the people of the north end excellent service and free from toll charges to the county seat.

We believe this can be done, as above suggested, and base our opinion on information secured from practical telephone men and the officers of the Brook mutual, the latter company having had three years experience in the telephone business and having transformed a very "bum" exchange and telephone service into one of the best in Indiana.

Our proposed mutual telephone company, as stated at the beginning of this article, is organized principally to benefit the farmer, who in this day and age can scarcely get along without telephone connections with his county seat town, his home village and his neighbor farmers.

The telephone to him—if good service is rendered is a money and time-saver, and he cannot afford to be without it. He should therefore, lend his moral and financial assistance to help this movement along and make it the success which it promises to be. There is no reason why we can not operate a mutual as successfully as is done by our neighbors at Brook or in scores of other sections of Indiana.

So far no one in Rensselaer has been asked to subscribe for a share of stock in this proposed mutual company, and while a great many shares can be disposed of here, The Democrat would like to see practically all of it placed out among the farmers of the county, and we honestly believe it will yield them a good percent on their investment as well as causing them to take a more personal interest and pride in the telephone system which it is proposed to establish.

So far the farmers are taking hold of the matter first-rate, and those who have expressed confidence in the plan and are giving it their hearty support are among the best and most substantial farmers of Jasper county. The list of subscribers on the stock subscription blank at The Democrat office represents more than half a million of dollars' wealth.

PATCHED TEAMS OF "SUBS" BEAT REMINGTON.

The Wrens ball team, minus the services of Kevin, Morgan and Carol, defeated Remington on their own field Tuesday.

Parcels bagged a homer, McFarland a two-bagger and Hanks a triple, batting in five scores to Remington's two.

HEEL TORN OFF IN MOTORCYCLE—DIES FROM LOCKJAW.

Albert Kinsey, a young man about 18 years of age, died of lockjaw at Ora, Monday. Albert's home is at Logansport but he has been working for some time at Ora for Mr. Arnold, who is a motorcycle agent. About two weeks ago the young man and Frank Kistler were riding a motorcycle from Knox to Ora. The machine struck a rut in the road and young Hinsey got his left foot caught in the spokes with the result that his heel was badly torn. Lockjaw immediately set in and the young man passed to the beyond Monday afternoon. The story is indeed a sad one.—No. Judson News.

TO BEGIN WORK ON CEMENT TILE FACTORY.

Chris. Kolberer, the cement tile factory man, was in town Thursday to make arrangements to begin at once the building of his factory. He has just returned from Iowa where he purchased block machines which will arrive here the first of next week, and work will begin on their arrival.

TERRIFIC STORM HITS KNOX.

Crops and Fruit Trees in Path of Gale Suffer Much Damages.

A cyclonic wind, accompanied by a torrent of rain and hail, struck Knox Tuesday afternoon and did ruinous damage to crops and fruit trees.

The deluge was accompanied by frequent lightning flashes that did minor damage to several residences, the postoffice and a business block. The storm covered a strip of only about 12 square miles but was the hardest storm there in many years.

IS HEAL WORTH $200 MORE.

Commissioners Award Contract to Indianapolis Man at $200 Above Lowest Bidder.

For some reason not made clear the county commissioners at their session this week awarded the contract for examining the county records six years back, to look up the alleged shortage of ex-treasurer S. R. Nichols, to Wm. E. Heal of Indianapolis, at $1,900, which is $200 more than the bid of John W. Coons, also of Indianapolis, who with his bid filed a bunch of gilt-edge testimonials.

J. B. Workman, of old tax-ferret notoriety, was the third bidder, and his bid was $2,000, the full amount of the appropriation made by the county council for the purpose several months ago.

TOO SILLY TO REPLY TO.

Opponents of the mutual 'phone movement say the scheme is impractical, because it is proposed to furnish service to every man who takes a share of stock, and the expense of reaching out to many would exceed the income for years to come. There is nothing at all in this statement. No one is promised a 'phone if he takes stock, the aim of the company should be to accommodate everyone wanting a 'phone where the cost of installing same will justify them in doing so. The company will be managed on business principles and no one proposes to spend dollars to get back cents in return. If a farmer lives too far from an established line to justify the company in reaching out after him, let the expense be divided on an equitable basis if he wants a 'phone. Accommodate him if possible, but not at the sacrifice of the financial interests of the company.

NOT IN A CLOSET, BUT ON THE STREET.

J. F. Bruner says that when The Democrat stated that he was "closeted" with the president of the Jasper County Telephone Co., after the "meeting Saturday" we made a statement which was not true.

We did not say "closeted," John. We said in "consultation," and as dozens of people saw you both, on the east side of Duval's store, in close conference for nearly an hour, the public does not have to take our unsupported word for the statement.

Of course you might have been discussing the effect the new tariff law would have on the price of hides, or the revolution in Alfonso's realm, but the general opinion seemed to be that perhaps the failure of the "meeting" might have entered into the conversation to some extent.

Better go into a closet next time you confer, though, and you will be in a better position to deny facts.

Mr. Bruner has tried his best to defeat the formation of this proposed mutual company by seeking to divide the mutual sentiment, and has continuously vilified and misrepresented the editor of The Democrat because of our efforts to make the move successful. We have no selfish interest in the matter and expect no financial reward. So far as we are concerned we have not the slightest objections to the buying out of both Bruner's and the Jasper County Co., lines providing they will sell for what their property is really worth, and no one has ever heard us express ourselves otherwise.

COMES WITH BAD TASTE.

Two of the principal stockholders in the Rensselaer Republican (see statement of names of partners in the report filed with the county clerk, under the new law requiring that names of partners be so filed) being also stockholders in the Jasper County Telephone Co.—Dr. Washburn and Mrs. Watson—it comes with bad taste for that sheet to oppose the formation of a mutual telephone company in Jasper county to afford the people, and especially the farming districts, something in the way of decent telephone service.

Its gleeful publication of the fact that the Monticello Telephone Co., the only one of the numerous companies in this section of the state that the Jasper County Co., could get to join it in its move to raise rates about 50 per cent, got an ordinance railroad through the Monticello town council permitting the raise, and its attempt to make The Democrat man out a liar in his report of mutual conditions in Boone county, shows very plainly where the Republican stands.

But this comes with bad taste, considering the close connection of the Republican ownership with the telephone interests here.

Regarding the Boone county mutuals, The Democrat offered to take the editor of the White County Democrat—who had copied our article and thus raised a storm from the Monticello Telephone Co.—down to Lebanon and let him investigate the truth of our statements in relation to mutual conditions there. He could not get away, he wrote us, although it would have taken but a few hours and our money would have paid the expense.

As we stated in our article, some of the members of the Lebanon company were away investigating the central energy system when we were there, including, as we understood, the president. But we saw and talked with the manager for some time, got much of our information from him and were shown through the exchange, which is much more up-to-date than ours.

We do not believe the farmers of Boone county are such chumps as to build lines up to Lebanon and tell the Lebanon company they can have free use of them without getting something in return, as the president of that company now states. We were told by Editor McKee, Mr. Duval of the First National Bank of Lebanon, and by the telephone manager that the town patrons got free service over the mutual lines, and vice versa, which looks more reasonable than the president of the Lebanon company now states.

There is nothing else in his statements that amount to anything. He doesn't deny the rates now in force there, but says they are going to raise them. Of course. Who ever saw a corporation that was satisfied with what it was getting from its victims? And in too many instances these corporations have their grip on the newspapers so that the people have no one to champion their cause.

The writer was in a newspaper office in Indiana a few years ago, for example, and noticing that there were a large number of electric lights in the office we asked the editor what he had to pay a month for his lights there.

"Not a red," he replied. "The light company gives the newspaper offices here all the lights they want and makes no charge for them whatever."

We wandered if the newspapers of that town ever championed a cause that was inimical to the light company?

The Democrat has no strings attached to it in any way. It pays for its telephone service and always expects to. It would not accept free service if it offered it.

But, instead of attacking The Democrat's statements of mutual telephone conditions in Boone county, why not get closer home? We have made certain statements about the success of the mutual telephone company at Brook, our neighboring town on the west, in which several of the most prominent farmers of the west part of Jordan tp., are stockholders and officers. Why not deny these statements of The Democrat?

Is it because they are so easily and conclusively proven true that not a word is said about the Brook system?

A cornfield intervened between the automobile and the car, so that it was impossible for Cravens to see the flyer or for the motorman to see the automobile until the crash occurred.

Cravens' head was almost severed from the body and Mrs. Cravens' body was also badly mangled.

Cravens, who was the president of the First National bank at Spring Lake, Ia., had a cousin in Indianapolis and he was en route to that city from Chicago when killed.

MRS. THAW WEEPS IN TESTIFYING FOR SON

Prisoner Tells Tales of Doings of Stanford White.

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 6.—More of those stories which have stained the memory of the eminent architect, Stanford White, were related at the Thaw sanity hearing. They were told first by witnesses called in Harry K. Thaw's behalf and then by Thaw himself.

Between these unsavory accounts, like a jewel held up to view between soiled fingers, came an illustration of mother love and filial affection that brought tears even to the eyes of those eager faced women who had refused to leave the courtroom when warned of the kind of testimony that was to come. This was the appearance on the stand of Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, the prisoner's white haired mother.

Mrs. Thaw said Harry accepted conditions at Matteawan as something that could not be remedied. She gave a graphic description of her visit to the second room her son occupied at Matteawan. During the recital she had to stop twice, covering her face and weeping.

"Do you want to know what my Harry's room was like?" she sobbed.

"Tell us," said Attorney Morschauer.

"It was clean enough, but it was provided with an iron-bed, and that was all."

BIG LINER IN DASH TO SAVE TARIFF ON WINE

Fails to Reach Port Before Payne Bill Is Signed.

New York, Aug. 6.—On board the giant liner Pennsylvania is a costly cargo of wines, brandy and champagne.

Down in the vessel's furnace rooms firemen are stoking coal as if their lives depended on it, for if the liner reaches New York before the new tariff rates went into effect it would mean a saving of $10,000 to $20,000 in duties.

Bound for here is the St. Paul, from Southampton and Cherbourg, due on Saturday. Also due on that day are the Campana, from Liverpool, and Queenstown; the French liner La Touraine, from Havre; the Duca Degli Abruzzi, from Naples.

All these vessels are said to carry in their cargoes goods on which there is to be a greatly advanced duty.

The Pennsylvania lost by a narrow margin.
