

Have One Doctor

No sense in running from one doctor to another. Select the best one, then stand by him. Do not delay, but consult him in time when you are sick. Ask his opinion of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for coughs and colds. Then use it or not, just as he says.

Always keep a box of Ayer's Pills in the house. Just one pill at bedtime, now and then, will ward off many an attack of biliousness, indigestion, sick headache. How many years has your doctor known these pills? Ask him all about them.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1909.

Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island, in speaking for his central bank measure, is telling the people that "Andrew Jackson was a great man, but he is dead." But this sneer of Aldrich, the tool of the trusts, will not be effective. Andrew Jackson dead is a much greater and more potential man than Aldrich living.

The Standard Oil monopoly has been dissolved by a court decision. The dissolution, however, is purely theoretical—very much like that $29,000,000 fine imposed by Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis. All of the busted and dissolved trusts and monopolies grow fat and sassy on that kind of meat. They understand thoroughly that so long as the Republican party is in control of the government no real harm will come to them, for that might disturb those pleasant and profitable relations.

Ex-Governor Durbin wants it known that he sides with Taft, Aldrich and Cannon as to the merits of the new tariff, and not with Beveridge, Cummins and other insurgents. As Colonel Durbin is a man of influence in Republican conventions, his advice may be sought on the question as to how the party can endorse both Taft and Beveridge in its next platform. It is not believed, however, that he would be disposed to urge the amputation of the dog in order to save the tail.

THE COST OF LIVING.

James J. Hill is a big man in the railroad world, but he is also a big man in several other directions. There are many things that he both sees and talks about with great clearness. As a result of his study of present tendencies, especially that relating to the ever increasing cost of living, Mr. Hill declares that a change must come or the republic will go into fatal decline. That cost of living is rapidly becoming unbearable is beyond question. The poor are becoming poverty-stricken, the well-to-do are becoming poor, the man of ordinary wealth finds it difficult to keep in the well-to-do class. Only the very rich are really "prosperous," and their wealth has increased by leaps and bounds.

Speaking generally, one would say that there are reasons for this alarming condition. But there is only one real condition, and that is the policy of favoritism which has been pursued for a generation by the Republican party.

That party has persistently legislated for the mercenary special interests. The people have not only been highly taxed by the government for enormous and unnecessary expenses, but the mercenary interests have been given power to levy upon them their own private taxes. Early Americans rebelled against paying tribute to the Tripoli pirates, whose open exactions were but a drop in a bucket as compared with the legalized thievery perpetrated by the legislative favorites of the Republican party.

If there is to be a reduction in the cost of living and a change in the conditions which have made that cost what it is and what it threatens to be, the Republican party as now organized and led must be driven from power and it must go bag and baggage. It is the only way.

DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE MEETING.

A call has been issued by State Chairman U. S. Jackson and Secretary Joseph L. Reilly to a meeting of the Democratic State Committee at Indianapolis on Tuesday, Dec. 14. The meeting is for the purpose of making arrangements for the county and district conventions preliminary to the reorganization of the state committee early in January. By taking the initiative in the matter of organization the Democrats are giving proof of the faith that is in them. The next state campaign is going to be important for many reasons, and an early and harmonious understanding about party affairs is desirable.

A few of the Republican papers of the state have labored with much zeal to create the impression that there is warfare among leading Democrats over the control of the party organization. But this is not true. It is believed that there has never been a better understanding among Democrats than that which now exists. All of them thoroughly appreciate not only the value, but the necessity of united action, to the end that the best organization possible shall be obtained and a winning fight be made. In view of their own factional troubles the Republicans would like to see similar dissension among the Democrats, but they will be disappointed.

Forced Into Exile.

Wm. Upchurch of Glen Oak, Okla., was an exile from home. Mountain air, he thought, would cure a frightful lung-racking cough that had defied all remedies for two years. After six months he returned, death dogging his steps. "Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery," he writes, "and after taking six bottles I am as well as ever." It saves thousands yearly from desperate lung diseases. Infalible for Coughs and Colds, it dispels Hoarseness and Sore Throat. Cures Grip, Bronchitis, Hemorrhages, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough. 50c and $1.00, trial bottle free, guaranteed by A. F. Long.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Foot Rot in Sheep.

In the cure of foot all in sheep two things are necessary: First, the sheep must be kept in from wet pasture, as the feet during treatment must be kept from getting wet. A well bedded stable in the best place. Second, all remedies should be used in a liquid form and of a kind that the whole foot can safely be immersed in and soaked for full ten minutes and the solution not injure healthy tissue. The trouble in using ointments and powdered remedies is that the germs are deeper seated than they will reach and may exist even on the skin above the feet and later infect the foot. Many agents will kill the germ which produces foot rot, but the cheapest is sulphate of copper solution, made by dissolving a pound of the sulphate in two gallons of hot water. Place the solution in a shallow trough, clean the feet and cut away all separated tissue from the sole of the foot, then stand the sheep in the solution for ten minutes. Repeat in three days. In case there are some sheep with fungous growths dip a feather in the butter of antimony and wet them daily with it until they are reduced. Two per cent solutions of coal tar products like thymo-cresol, kresol, daytholeum, bugoleum and chloro-naptholeum will kill the foot rot germ. Use the same as the sulphate of copper solution.—National Stockman and Farmer.

Purity of Alfalfa Seed.

A report recently issued by the Nebraska experiment station bears on the adulteration of alfalfa seed. Within the last twelve months 201 samples of alfalfa seed, over 50 per cent of which were received from farmers and seedmen of Nebraska, were examined by the station. The samples varied in purity from 56 to 99 per cent, in germination from 56 to 100 per cent, and contained one-tenth per cent to 12 per cent of inert matter and from none to 38 per cent of foreign seed. Four species of dodder were found in varying amounts. One sample of alfalfa contained over 9 per cent of dodder, and if this seed had been sown at the rate of sixteen pounds to the acre there would have been sown 16,385 dodder seeds to the square rod. Buckthorn, wild carrot, wild chicory, lamb's quarters and the seeds of about seventy-five other weeds were found in the alfalfa samples.

Feeding the Heifers.

There is a great scarcity of good, mature cows, both grade and pure bred, and the man who has a bunch of heifer calves of good dairy description will be well repaid in the end if he brings them up properly. He should bear in mind that the more common dairy foods of a nitrogenous nature are alfalfa and clover, hay, oats, bran, dried blood, oilmeal, skim-milk and grass, while those of a carbonaceous nature are corn fodder, stover, corn and cob meal, corn and some of its byproducts and cottonseed meal. Ensilage also is rich in carbohydrates. With these principles and facts in mind any dairyman should be able, with the application of a little arithmetic, to figure out a desirable ration.

The Beef Maker.

A feeder learns to be a good judge by studying the requirements of a good steer, writes C. W. Burkett in the American Agriculturist. He must know that the form of a steer should be low set, deep, broad and compact rather than long legged, gaunt, narrow and loosely put together. The broad, compact form indicates strong constitution, and the low set animal is usually a good feeder. The top and underline should be nearly parallel and the flank and twist low. Cattle having prominent hips, tail, heads and shoulders should be avoided, as smoothness of outline is essential.

Cidibone Lameness.

There is no cure for sidebones, but the lameness may be relieved by clipping the hair from the entire hoof head and blistering repeatedly with a mixture of one dram of biniodid of mercury in two ounces of cerate of cantharides. Rub the blister-in for fifteen minutes, wash off in three days, then apply liniment daily. In bad cases it is best to have the sidebone region line fired and blistered by a veterinarian. Put on a bar shoe.

Size of an Acre.

An acre in this country contains 43,560 square feet, or 100 square rods. A patch sixty-nine yards five inches wide and seventy yards long is practically an acre of ground. It is far better to see just how much can be raised on an acre than to follow the old plan of showing just how many acres one is able to plant and partially cultivate. The one acre crop is in line with high class diversified farming.—American Cultivator.

Corn Fodder Suitable Horse Feed.
Corn fodder may safely be fed to horses if one-third the forage ration be made up of some other material, such as timothy hay or alfalfa. It is best to remove all ears, as the soft corn likely to be found in fodder is injurious to horses. Shredding adds nothing to the value of fodder for horses.

Plumping a Fowl.

The way to "plump" a dressed fowl is to dip it for ten seconds in water nearly or quite boiling hot and then immediately in cold water. Hang in a cool place until the animal heat is entirely out. Plumping gives the fowl a much more attractive appearance.

NOTICE OF DITCH SALE.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, as Superintendent of Construction of the Edward W. Culp, et al, ditch, being Cause No. 9606 of the Commissioners' Court of Jasper County, Indiana, will let such work by contract to the lowest and best responsible bidder, at the office of the County Auditor, in the Court House, at Rensselaer, Indiana, on the 27th day of November, 1909, at eleven o'clock a. m.

Said proceeding calls for the construction of a large tile drain and a lateral thereto, and the contractor will be required to excavate the tile in a tile drain which has heretofore been constructed on the line of the above mentioned ditch, and to use all of the tile thus secured which are suitable for use.

The plans and specifications for said improvement are on file in the office of the Auditor of Jasper County, Indiana, and are open for inspection.

The said work is to be let as a whole or in parts at the option of the Superintendent, who reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Bids will be received from this date until the date above given, at which time said bids will be published and said sale made at public outcry, and let to the lowest and best responsible bidder, reserving my right to reject any or all bids.

Dated this 9th day of November, 1909.
