The Doctrine of Democracy.

Democracy is a religion; the religion of brotherhood among men and of equal rights for all. It is a religion that would demand more of the Golden Rule and less of the rule of gold in government and in our daily lives. It would not array class against class, but would protect the rights of all by having each respect the rights of the other. It would not attack wealth honestly acquired but would wage unending war against the privileges that produce tainted riches on one side, and undeserved poverty on the other side. It would protect property rights, but would recognize the fact that property rights are best protected by preserving inviolate the public rights. It would not combat men, but the evil that men do. It would seek as a remedy for existing evils, not less government for the people, but more government by the people. It would place conscience above cunning, and the public good above private greed. It would not offer a man an advantage in the shape of a subsidy, or bounty, or protective tariff, enabling him to make money at the expense of his fellowmen, but it would assure him that it would give no one else such a special privilege over him. It would guarantee to all an equal opportunity to live and labor and enjoy the gains of honest toil."

STATE PENAL FARM

Instead of County Jail Advocated by Gov. Marshall.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 29.—The annual State Charities Conference was opened here today. Governor Marshall was the principal speaker this afternoon. Jane Addams of Chicago was the headliner tonight.

The elimination of all county jails in Indiana, except for their use as temporary detention places, and the establishment of a state penal farm in their stead, was advocated by the Governor. He asserted that prisoners sentenced to serve "time" in the county jails receive no correctional or reformatory benefits during their incarceration.

MASTODON SKELETON

Perfect Specimen Uncovered by Dredge in Porter County.

Valparaiso, Ind., Oct. 30.—The dredging machine of William Brown, a contractor of this city, threw out the bones of a mastodon from the Kosekelle ditch, now being constructed in the southern part of the county. The bones were found at depth of ten feet, and are in an excellent state of preservation.

The tusk measures eighteen inches in circumference, a vertebra is seventeen inches from side to side and a rib is three feet long. The leg bones, when placed together, measured six feet.

Florida Oranges.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

being sacrificed, as well as great numbers wounded, of whom a considerable percentage afterwards perished from their hurts. The ultimate victory lay with the whites, and hinging upon this result was the control of the immense territory mentioned before in this article, the power of the Red Men being completely broken. It left the country open to settlement by the whites without molestation from the Indian tribes, and this fact alone entitles the 100th anniversary of the event to as great an exhibition of tribute as can be properly provided. This brief statement of cause and effect may be sufficient to call to the attention of every Indianian the real reason why it is that the committee in charge of the Centennial celebration desires the aid of every citizen, every newspaper, every teacher, every minister, in making memorable the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Tippecanoe. On that date there will be speakers of national repute and guests of most distinguished personality in attendance. No politics will be permitted, and members of every party will together strive to do honor to an event in which every resident of the Middle West should be concerned. President Taft has been asked to attend, and the prospects of his attending are very good; Governor Marshall and four of the Chief Executives of surrounding states have signified an intention of being present; Senators and Representatives galore are coming; eminent novelists, orators, men and women of national reputation, all will be in Lafayette on the 7th of November for the purpose of aiding in the celebration. Railroads will give reduced rates, and as Lafayette, only seven miles from Battle Ground, is really a railroad center, there will be no difficulty concerning arrivals and departures. The great papers of Indianapolis and many of the smaller towns are eager to aid in advertising this Hoosier tribute to heroes of the past.

The new mayor elect is a native of San Francisco and is forty-two years of age. He is a shipowner, a member of the firm of Hind, Rolph & Co. In 1902 he was made president of the Shipowners' association and won the confidence of the union sailors by his fair treatment. In the recent campaign he had the support of nearly all the labor union forces, which had turned against McCarthy.

A Noted Federal Judge.

Peter S. Grosscup, presiding judge of the United States circuit court of appeals for the northern district of Illinois, who recently announced that he would retire from the bench, has served nineteen years and decided many important cases. He was one of the three judges who prepared the opinions which relieved the Standard Oil company of the famous $29,000,000 fine imposed by Judge Landis. Another case was when application was made to the federal courts to close the World's Columbian exposition on Sundays in 1893. Judge Grosscup dissented and ruled that the exposition should be kept open every day in the week.

It was he who issued the injunction against Eugene V. Debs and other officers of the American Railway union

The big feature of the occasion in the eyes of many will be the great battle between the Red Men, as impersonated by the Purdue Cadets in U. S. uniforms, the endeavor being made to put on the fight with its attacks and repulses as near to historical facts as study divulgates.

There is no endeavor to make this celebration one productive of money making. The means to carry it forward came from the pockets of the taxpayers of Tippecanoe Co. and the City of Lafayette, and through their committees, those patriotic taxpayers are inviting their neighbors from Indiana and the neighboring states to come to us free of any cost save for actual transportation expenses and what little the day's eating may cost, and join in making 100th anniversaries popular throughout the land. The government and State of Indiana, it will be recalled, recently put up a handsome monument commemorative of this event at Battle Ground, and it is well worth seeing.

CELEBRITIES

James Rolph, Jr., Who Will Be
Mayor of San Francisco.

James Rolph, Jr., who was chosen mayor of San Francisco at the recent primary election, will not need to go to the polls for ratification at the regular election in November, the vote in his case being final.

Under the new law the two candidates for each office receiving the highest number of votes in the primary are declared the nominees, but if one candidate receives a majority of all the votes he is declared elected. The old three, four, five or even six cornered contests, through which a candidate might slip into office by a mere plurality, is done away with. Mr. Rolph, having received a majority of all votes cast, is therefore the regularly elected chief executive. His opponent, P. H. McCarthy, the present mayor, was completely overwhelmed.

The new mayor elect is a native of San Francisco and is forty-two years of age. He is a shipowner, a member of the firm of Hind, Rolph & Co. In 1902 he was made president of the Shipowners' association and won the confidence of the union sailors by his fair treatment. In the recent campaign he had the support of nearly all the labor union forces, which had turned against McCarthy.

The programme of exercises will be: Exercises at Battle Ground: Beginning at 9:30 a. m., military parade by the Purdue University corps of cadets; addresses; assembly of school children of the county; sham battle; music by Purdue Cadet band; (2): Exercises at Lafayette: 8:00 p. m., Victoria Theatre, Citizens' meeting with addresses. During the day addresses will be given by the following persons: Gov. Thos. R. Marshall; Gov. Chase Osborn, of Michigan; Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, Governor General D. A. R.; Hon. Addison C. Harris, Indianapolis; Hon. Edgar Crumpler, Valparaiso; Hon. Charles E. Jewett, New Albany.

It was he who issued the injunction against Eugene V. Debs and other officers of the American Railway union

PETER S. GROSSCUP.

During the railway strike of 1894 in Chicago restraining the labor men from committing acts of violence, and it was he again who later called upon President Cleveland to send federal troops to Chicago to preserve order.

Judge Grosscup has been a lifelong Republican and owes his appointment to a Republican president.

Recently he analyzed the two great political parties to the detriment of his own and predicted a complete Democratic victory in the next national campaign.

Judge Grosscup is a native of Ohio and is in his sixtieth year. He was graduated from the Boston Law school in 1874 and began the practice of law at Ashland, O. In 1882 he went to Chicago, where he practiced until appointed to the bench.

ASHAMED OF HER FACE

"I was ashamed of my face," writes Miss Pleckard of North Carolina. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema I can say that now there is no sign of the Eczema and that was three years ago."

This is but one of thousands of cases in which D. D. D. has simply washed away the skin trouble. D. D. D. cleanses the skin of the germs of Eczema, Psoriasis and other skin diseases; stops the itch instantly, and when used with D. D. D. soap the cures seem to be permanent. Nothing like D. D. D. for the complexion.

Trial bottle 25 cents, enough to prove the merit of this wonderful remedy.

We can also give you a full size bottle for $1.00 on our absolute guarantee that if this very first bottle fails to give you relief it will cost you nothing.
