Wm. Wright of Flora came Saturday night and spent Sunday at the home of W. T. Elmore.

Phil Ochs of Indianapolis is spending the week here with his parents and attending park.

Robert Williams went to Jackson, Mich., Monday where he has a position in an automobile factory.

Miss Grace Thompson of Valparaiso was the guest of her sister, Mrs. James Green, over Sunday.

Miss Leone Harper, who had been teaching in Dakota, is spending the vacation at home, having returned last week.

Misses Lola and Nellie Blake, who had been visiting their mother in Virginia, returned home last Wednesday.

Miss Laura Warnock left Thursday for Council Bluffs, Ia., to spend a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Fred Bishop.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Kannal of Rensselaer is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. H. J. Bartoo, at the park this week.

Mrs. L. M. Raymond of Monticello, Ill., was the guest of her mother, Mrs. V. M. Beal, Sunday night and Monday.

Mrs. Ella Easter went to Decatur, Mich., Friday last for a visit of two or three weeks with her son Lawrence and wife.

Charles Bowman and Chauncey McCulley have this week sold their recently acquired farm near Round Grove at a good, substantial profit.

Jones Bros. report the sale of the Reeves property on Indiana and South streets to James H. Royalty and Ed V. Baldwin. Consideration $750.

John Hollingsworth and sister, Miss Ada Hollingsworth, went to Winona lake Tuesday morning to attend the assembly in session there.

Mrs. Fred Penwright and two daughters of El Reno, Okla., are visiting Mrs. Penwright's mother, Mrs. Rebecca Timmons, and sister, Miss Orpha Timmons.

Mrs. Francis Penwright and daughter, Miss Gladys, of Calumet, Okla., are visiting with the former's brothers, Noah, Alvin and Marion Dunn, of near town, and cousin, Sam Mitchell, and wife in town.

Ray Thompson and Bert Hopkins of Rensselaer, the former temporary receiver for the Remington Garage, were here Monday inquiring the stock and equipment of the garage, looking to the settling of the creditors' accounts.

Mrs. D. H. Roads and son Willard went to Goodland Tuesday evening and spent the night with the former's daughter, Mrs. Bruce Wilson, and on Wednesday, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, attended the fair at Watska.

Mrs. Mary Capes, who had been visiting the Baxter and Beeks famwould not be surprised if such proves to be true. Also think that this particular farm is worth this price if any of them are.

Sheldon Clinton and wife of Putman, Okla., are here visiting friends and relatives. Sheldon is a brother to Reece Clinton, who died at Brook Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Craig, daughter Florence and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Patterson left Sunday for their old home at Decatur. The men will return here and finish the cleaning up of the mill yard preparatory to removal to a point in Michigan. The women, however, expect to remain at Decatur this winter.

Mrs. W. R. Lee returned Friday from Bluffton where she had been on a two weeks' visit to her relatives. Her mother, Mrs. D. J. Baxter, accompanied her home, and together they have taken up quarters at the Park hotel, Fountain park, for the splendid two weeks' program afforded by the great chautauqua.

Mrs. Fletcher Smith of Gray Ridge, Mo., spent Monday night and Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Bedday. She was called back to Indiana by the death of her mother, who was severely scalded several weeks ago. She went from here to Raub to stay a couple of days before continuing her journey home. She reports everyone fine and they like the climate and country well.

Ezra Miller sold his 80-acre farm this week to Manno Miller. We understand the consideration was around $60 an acre and believe it was the best land bargain in Colfax. Of course this farm lies better than six miles out, but we know of no land left now that can be bought for less than $100 this side of this particular farm, and most of our land reaches up to between $200 and $300 per acre. And we truly believe our land worth all that is asked for it.

The death of Lee Dirst, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Dirst, occurred Monday morning at about 8 o'clock at the hospital in Rensselaer where he had undergone an operation for appendicitis Saturday, August 9. At first he seemed to rally and make as much progress as could be expected, but later he suffered a relapse. Again he rallied and seemed to be building, when a second relapse came Sunday due to blood-poisoning and the little fellow passed away the following morning at 8 o'clock. Both his parents were with him when the end came. The funeral is being held today (Wednesday) at the home and interment is to be made at Morocco.

Thomas Garvin, who had been living in Logansport for the past several years, moved his family Tuesday to his farm seven miles south of Remington, where they will make their home for the present. Mrs. Garvin and the children had been spending their summers on the farm for a number of years. Miss Helen, who graduated from high school this spring, will enter DePauw university this fall and the other children will attend the Gibson schools.

The Remington Garage has been closed, and its proprietor, Charles Guttrich, is looking for another location in other parts of the country, just where is not stated. A petition for receiver to be appointed to wind up the affairs of the garage has been filed. There are rumors that these affairs are not in the best condition, and quite an array of creditors are looking for settlement. Just what disposition will be made of the effects is not stated, but they will doubtless be sold and proceeds applied on the indebtedness.

L. E. Ponsler was in Chicago

Miss Kathryn Parker of Remington is here visiting her sister, Mrs. Jay L. Miller.

Charley Harris has received an honorable discharge from the U. S. navy, and arrived home for good Saturday.

Miss Reed, the city librarian of Brook, accompanied by three Misses Lyons, called on Miss Blanche Merry Wednesday evening.

Miss Lera Standish, who had been attending school at Valparaiso, returned home Saturday and intends to teach school this winter.

George Staton and wife and W. R. Woolley and wife of Brook took dinner at Dick Ashby's Tuesday. Mr. Staton is a late return from across sea service.

Mr. and Mrs. Milt Witham stopped here a short while Wednesday as they were enroute home to Demotte after a visit to Mrs. Witham's folks in Parke county.

William Donaldson, wife and daughter spent the weekend with friends at Wabash. The trip was made in their Ford, and they arrived home Monday evening.

We have heard that the Ben B. Miller place was sold this week for $300 per acre. We do not vouch the truthfulness of the report but us long enough, and we want to use it, whereupon all six politely acquiesced and disembarked without even killing the engine, allowing the two men to get in and drive serenely away.

They changed their minds again almost immediately and concluded that they wanted that car the worst way, all at once, too, and commenced to holler for Geier and Bahler, who were down the road a piece.

A little time was consumed in getting their car started and the robbers got such a start that they could not be located. It is quite likely they took to some side road and hid in another field until the excitement died down and then drove away.

WOMEN DEMAND WARS SHALL END

Peace League Means More to Them Than It Can Mean to Men.

DR. SHAW'S STIRRING PLEA.

(By the Late Dr. Anna Howard Shaw.)

Seven million one hundred thousand men who had laid down their lives in the great war. Think of it! Seven million, one hundred thousand young men had died on the field of battle!

What does that mean to the women of the world? It means that seven million one hundred thousand women walked day by day with their faces toward an open grave that they might give life to a son. It means that seven million one hundred thousand little children lay in the arms of a mother whose love had made them face even the terrors of death that they might become the mothers of men.

It means that year after year these women had put up their lives into the lives of their sons until they had reared them to be men. For what? In the hope that these sons of theirs could give to the world the things for which women dream, the things for which women hope and pray and long. These were the things that the women had in their hearts when they gave birth to their sons.

But who can estimate the value of seven million one hundred thousand dead sons of the women of the world? Who can estimate the price which the women have paid for this war; what it has cost them, not only in the death of their sons, because that is a phase of our war to which we look.

The Courage of Women.

We hear our orators tell us of the courage of our men. How they went across the sea. Very few of them remember to tell us of the courage of our women, who also went across the sea; of the women who died nursing the sick and wounded; the women who died in the hospitals, where the terrible bombs came and drove them almost to madness. They tell us nothing of the forty thousand English women who went to work back of the trenches in France.

They tell us nothing of the thousands upon thousands upon thousands of women who not only toiled and worked and slaved in order that the war might be successful, but we do not hear of the thousands of women, not alone in Armenia, not alone in Montenegro, not alone in Serbia, but in Flanders, in Belgium, in Rumania, in Russia—the thousands of women who lie in graves today, murdered, so horribly murdered that men dare not speak of it.

And yet we women are asked what we know about the League of Nations; asked what we can understand about a League of Nations. Of men! the horrible deaths; the horrible lives of thousands upon thousands of women today in all these nations, who must live, and who must look in the faces of children unwelcomed, undesired—of little children—and know that these are the result of war.

And then ask women why they should be interested in a league of peace?

Women Suffer Most From War.

If there is any body of citizens in the world who ought to be interested in a league to ultimately bring to the world peace it is the mothers of men, and the women who suffered as only women can suffer in the war and in devastated countries.

And we call upon them, we women of the world call upon the men who have been fighting all these battles of the years, the men who have led armies, and led armies close to their

Farmer of Today

His Opinion Is Sought and Respected

Urban sophistication in the cities poked fun, before the war, at the farmer. He was supposed to be uncouth and gullible—a child of nature. He chewed a straw and pulled his beard and greased his boots and rose by lamplight, and was a man with a hoe among the herds and orchards, a man to whom the great round world was a blank page or a distant myth.

Now that is changed, says a writer in the Philadelphia Ledger. The farmer is an applied scientist, whose opinion is sought and respected, with whose hand, as it is busy or idle, is the feeding or starving of the nations.

For millions during the war life has been a grim, unmitigated quest of food. The farm has had to yield by intensive cultivation many times its former produce, and marketing in hazardous ways has had to yield to meager and speedy transportation.

Farm work and farm life today utilize every last development of engineering.

The machinery has revolutionized farm labor, and electricity and gasoline are the greatest of all hired hands. The motorcar, the tractor, the dairy machinery, the telephone are commonplace where once they were unknown.

The mobilized fighter no longer regards indifferently or scornfully the chance the farm holds out to him.

The fields are clamoring for him—fields where the battle is for life and not for destruction.

TELLS TROOPS TO DO DUTY

Gov. Goodrich, in Address to Soldiers for Strike Duty in Hammond Instructs to Use Force if Mobs

Defy Law.

Indianapolis, Aug. 22.—"We will have fought to little purpose to destroy the autocracy of the kaiser if we are to submit in our own land to the autocracy of the mob," declared Gov. James P. Goodrich, addressing state troops mobilized here for duty at Hammond in connection with strike disorders there. The governor charged the militiamen to use "most vigorous exercise of force" should the occasion demand. "More than 140,000 of the young men of Indiana were recently called to defend the honor and integrity of the nation in a foreign war," he said. "You are now called upon a less glorious but no less important mission. Ours is a government of laws and not of men. If men are to be permitted to substitute the inclination of their own wills and their own selfish desires for obedience to the law, then orderly government is at an end and we must soon reach the unhappy condition which now obtains in Russia. I trust that it will not be necessary to resort to extreme measures, but those who have arrayed themselves against society should be taught that they cannot do so with impunity."

Postmasters to Meet.

Indianapolis, Aug. 22.—The executive committee of the Presidential Postmasters' association of Indiana will meet at the office of Robert E. Springsteen, postmaster, at ten o'clock Sunday morning, to formulate plans for concerted action relative to improvements in the postal service and the refixing of the salaries of all ranks of postal employees, including postmasters, as requested by the joint committee on postal salaries, which will be held in Cincinnati September 22 and 23. All departments of the postal service will be represented in the demand for increased pay.
