WILL ENLARGE GREENHOUSE

John Holden Takes Floyd Robinson in as a Partner.

J. H. Holden, who built a large new greenhouse last summer, has found that his business has already outgrown the capacity of this greenhouse and he has taken in as a partner Floyd Robinson of east of town, and they will build on to the present structure sufficient room to double the capacity and both men will devote their entire attention to the business, which has developed beyond Mr. Holden's fondest expectations.

Mr. Robinson, who has been living on the S. S. Shedd farm east of town for several years, will move to the William Richling bungalow, just east of town on the Pleasant Ridge road, which he has rented for the coming season. He will be succeeded on the Shedd farm by Ed McFadden of Newton township. Mr. and Mrs. Richling will return to their former home in Chicago.

MORE ZERO WEATHER SUNDAY

Mercury Dropped to 10 Below Zero Saturday Night.

Whether it was a last spiteful and convulsive kick from the groundhog or a warning by St. Valentine to youthful swains to go slow because of the high cost of fuel, is a mooted question, but Saturday was a cold, raw day with a very chilling wind that went to the marrow. At night the zero mark was reached as the mercury went scuttling down the tube, and Sunday morning it had reached 10 below the cipher.

Sunday was fiercely cold all day with the mercury remaining close to zero. During the night, however, it warmed up a little and Monday morning the thermometer registered but 4 below. A cold wind prevailed during the day with rising temperature right along, and at night it was about 20 above the cipher. Yesterday at 2 p. m. it registered 42 degrees above, and the prediction for today is "Fair."

SURE, COME RIGHT ALONG

The Jasper County Democrat says there is no sink hole north of Rensselaer. We wonder if the Democrat would permit an investigation of its files for any reference to autos, vehicles, etc., getting stuck in this same sink hole?—Morocco Courier.

The Courier is raking up ancient history, when a 940-foot bridge spanned the Iroquois river at what is known as Burke bridge, before the river was dredged. This gave way to a modern double-track steel bridge of about 30 or 40-foot span several years ago and the new wide grade, which, for a time, in a couple of places, sank down a few times, has become solid on both sides of the new bridge and the problem of the Burke grade is and has been for some time a thing of the past. There is no road in Jasper county now that is traveled more every day in the year than this same Burke grade.

STOCKTON GETS $2,000 JUDGMENT

Against D. S. Makeover In Benton Circuit Court Saturday.

DEFENDANT ASKS NEW TRIAL

And Court Will Hear Argument in the Support of the Motion on March 23.

The $50,000 damage case of Jay W. Stockton vs. former County Commissioner D. S. Makeover ended in the Benton circuit court Saturday in a judgment for plaintiff in the sum of $2,000. Defendant's attorneys immediately filed motion for a new trial, and same was set for hearing on Mch. 23. Attorneys for the plaintiff express themselves as confident a new trial will not be granted, while just the opposite view is taken by defendant's attorneys.

The argument was completed at 11:15 Saturday forenoon and the court's instructions to the jury were then given and the case went to the jury at 11:45. The verdict was returned in court at 1:30, the jury having ate dinner in the meantime, therefore the actual time taken to reach a verdict must have been very short.

Nearly 50 witnesses were examined during the week the trial was in progress, most of the witnesses being the same that were used in the perjury trial at Kentland against Mr. Stockton in which he was acquitted and out of which acquittal grew this suit. Perhaps 25 witnesses who had been summoned were not used.

Mr. Stockton was represented by A. Halleck of Rensselaer, W. W. Lowery of Indianapolis and Elmore Barce of Fowler, while Mr. Makeover was represented by George A. Williams and Moses Leopold of this city, W. H. Parkison of Lafayette and Charles Snyder of Fowler. It was stated that Mr. Stockton was to have another firm as his Fowler attorneys, and it was so published in both the Fowler papers, but it is reported that before entering the trial the plaintiff wanted to have an understanding as to their fee, and that they wanted several thousand dollars, and he refused to pay that sum and hired Attorney Barce instead.

MUST SAVE STARVING ORPHANS

America true to her altruistic spirit is not willing that the orphans of Armenia, Syria and all that country known as the near east should starve or suffer for the necessities of life. In that country where the cruel Turk has ruthlessly murdered the people and destroyed their property, there are 800,000 orphaned children who are looking to America for the bare necessities of life.

America accepts her responsibility and it has come down to Jasper county to accept her share. She has been asked to take as a minimum share 30 orphans to feed for a year at a cost $5 per month. Jasper county accepts her responsibility and is asking every fraternal, social, literary and kindred organization of the county to accept a share by taking up the matter in the organization. The officers who see this statement will at once take the responsibility to present the matter to his society and start the raising of the fund. If some one outside is needed to present the matter call Thomas Callahan or Mrs. J. I. Gwin, who will try to furnish a speaker.

Remember $5 a month merely feeds one child, $10 will feed and clothe, $15 will feed, clothe and school for one month. It is believed the smallest organizations can feed one orphan for a year. The number of orphans taken should begin to be reported next week. Get your organization in with the first. Report success to Mrs. J. I. Gwin immediately.

FIRE COMPANY IS CALLED OUT

Fire Practically Destroys Miss Clara Gowland Property.

A still fire alarm was sent in Saturday night from the Jay Lamson home at the west side of town, when their chimney burned out. Fire Chief Montgomery went over and later the fire wagon was called and they proceeded to burn the chimney out in good shape. By close attention of the firemen no blaze was caused other than the burning of the spot.

At 11 a. m. Monday the company was again called out by a fire at the Gowland property on east Elm street, occupied by John Critser. The roof of the house was in a blaze when discovered and is supposed to have caught from a spark on the roof. The entire roof was burned off and it was with great difficulty that the firemen were able to save the rest of the building, owing to the extreme cold and the low water pressure. This property belongs to Miss Clara Gowland and the damage will probably amount to several hundred dollars. The contents of the house, belonging to Mr. Critser, were all saved, but considerably damaged.

There was $1,350 insurance on the house, but Critser had no insurance.

The house on the Thomas Walter farm, four miles east and one mile north of Kntman, occupied by Mr. Walter's son, James T. Walter, was burned to the ground Sunday about noon. Neighbors responded to a call for help but the fire had gained such headway nothing could be done to save the building and only about half the contents were saved. Mrs. Walter and children, who took refuge in the barn, suffered intensely from the extreme cold, the mercury being near the zero mark all day Sunday, but were soon taken to the home of neighbors and it is hoped will suffer no bad effects from the exposure. Happenings in the Nearby Cities and Towns—Matters of Minor Mention From Many Localities.

Under a plan agreed on over a week ago the peace treaty was placed before the senate again Monday for consideration. Its fate is very problematical at this writing.

The worst snow blockade in years has paralyzed transportation facilities in central and northern New York. Not a train moved Monday in the section of the state north of the New York Central main line between Schenectady and Syracuse.

Fire early Sunday virtually destroyed the Marion block, a four-story structure, the First National bank building adjoining it and damaged several other buildings in the heart of the downtown business district at Marion, causing damage estimated at $500,000.

The threatened tie-up of the railroads, scheduled for yesterday, has been temporarily postponed by the appeal of the president to the railroad men, and the whole wage proposition is to be taken up at a general conference of the union committeemen to be held in Washington next Monday.

Joseph L. Milligan, Democrat and league of nations advocate, was elected to congress in the Third Missouri district, over John E. Frost, Republican and league opponent, by over 2,500 majority. The issue was clearly drawn and strongly debated in the campaign preceding the election.

The contract for dredging Sugar creek has been awarded to the Wolcott Dredging company. The creek is 15 miles in length and the contract will amount to $110,250, the largest ever let in the county. A floating dredge will be used. Work will begin as soon as the weather permits, and the contract is to be completed by June, 1921.—Benton County Tribune.

There is growing talk that Will R. Wood will have formidable opposition in the primary this spring for renomination to congress on the Republican ticket. It is said that a prominent manufacturer has just about concluded to enter the ring and that his friends are engaged now in "feeling out" conditions in different parts of the district and that they are meeting with considerable encouragement.—Tippecanoe County Democrat.

The name of Herbert Hoover will be placed on the Republican presidential preference ballot in Indiana, it was announced Monday night by Dr. Harry E. Barnard, former state food administrator. Dr. Barnard, who had just returned from New York where he conferred with friends of Mr. Hoover, stated that petitions now are being prepared which will be distributed over the state in accordance with the state primary laws.

The county council and county commissioners of White county met last Thursday in joint session on business connected with the proposed hard-surfaced highway extending from the Tippecanoe county line on the south—where it connects with a hard-surfaced county unit road already ordered constructed through Tippecanoe county to the Montgomery county line—and extending north to Brookston, Chalmers and Reynolds to Monon. Several hundred taxpayers, representing every township in the county, were also present at the
