THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Out of the more than 3,000,000 Ford cars now in use, about sixty per cent have been sold to farmers. Probably no other one thing has brought to the farm so much of comfort and profit as has the Ford car. It has enlarged the social life, doubled the facilities for marketing, brought the town next door to the farm, multiplied for the farmer the pleasures of living, and by the same token the Ford Touring Car has brought just as much pleasure to the residents of the towns and cities, because it is an every day in the year utility, answering the demand of quick transportation at low expense. A family car without an equal in low cost of operation and maintenance. We solicit your order for one. We have the full line of Ford cars. We carry the genuine Ford Parts, and assure you the best in mechanical service and the most reasonable prices.

SENATOR HARDING ACCEPTS

Running all through Senator Harding's speech of acceptance, delivered Thursday, is that soothingness that always characterizes the obvious. To nine-tenths of what he says Democrats could yield hearty assent without ceasing to be Democrats. Indeed there is little difference between the platforms of the two parties on the general run of subjects, such as capital and labor, strikes, agriculture, production, prices, the cost of living, the soldiers, woman suffrage, etc. On all these Senator Harding takes the safe and conventional view. What he says about "autocracy" is a mere echo of the Chicago platform, and with such a man as Cox on the Democratic ticket it loses whatever force it had, which was not much. Except for a declaration of his belief in a protective tariff, and a declaration that "there is an easy and open path to righteous relationship with Mexico"—what it is he does not say—all that is left is the league of nations issue. As to protection, we are not informed how it could be applied at a time when the great need—considering the exchange situation, and the necessity for lower home prices if we are to continue to sell abroad—is for larger imports.

A few days ago it was said in these columns that the senator would have a big job of interpreting to do. Whether he has succeeded or not is for the people, and especially the Republicans, to say. He opposes strongly the league of nations, as does the platform, and characterizes it as a vast "super-government," which decidedly it is not. The Chicago convention declared that it could not be made right even by reservations. Senator Harding said Thursday:

In the call of the conscience of America is peace, peace, that closes the gaping wound of world war, and silences the impassioned voices of international envy and distrust. Heeding this call and knowing as I do the disposition of the congress, I promise you formal and effective peace so quickly as a Republican congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to sign.

That is, the senator favors a separate peace with Germany, a peace made apart from our allies and associates, the sort of peace that Senator Lodge has denounced as one that would bring on us "everlasting shame and dishonor." The words of Senator Harding are capable of no other construction. He is opposed to the league of nations, as much so as are Senator Johnson and Senator Knox, the latter of whom at the last session introduced a separate peace resolution. Yet the candidate declares that he does not favor national isolation nor would he shun international responsibility. After this proposed peace, Senator Harding would have "an association of nations, co-operating in sublime accord, to attain and preserve peace through justice rather than force, determined to add to security through international law, so clarified that no misconception can be possible without affronting world honor."

In the present condition of Europe the strong arm would seem to be the only solution of the peace question and this the members of the peace league are jointly exerting as far as their resources permit. When once the work settles down it may be possible to use persuasion and other powerful arts to insure permanent peaceful relations among nations. Meanwhile our allies are carrying the burden of the aftermath of the war without the co-operation of the United States, so there is not much likelihood that they would welcome suggestions or advice from Mr. Harding's government after the worst of the trouble was over. It is quite clear that the campaign is to center about the league of nations. Here is one issue at least that Mr. Harding has made with as much sharpness as could be expected of him.—Indianapolis News (Rep.)

REED BREAKS OUT AGAIN

Senator Reed has broken loose again with another of his pusillanimous wails about the perils of international complications. He wants our soldiers in Europe brought home at once for fear they may get into trouble. Discussing the Polish situation he is quoted as saying, "I especially challenge attention to the terrible danger in which we now stand. We have 18,000 of our soldiers now in Europe. They at any moment may be attacked. If they are the United States is at war without any action whatsoever on the part of congress, for when our armies are attacked a state of war exists."

We do have 18,000 soldiers in Europe. We had 2,000,000 over there a year and a half ago, of whom tens of thousands will never come back. Our soldiers were there to crush the Prussian military machine. They did their part. The 18,000 who are now on the Rhine are standing guard to insure that the deaths of their comrades shall not have been in vain. They are waiting until we can get peace, which has been blocked by such as Reed.

The craven appeal to abandon the cause for which they fought and to hurry home will fall on deaf ears in this country. Nobody is likely to attack our soldiers except from the direction of Germany. We are still at war with that nation, thanks to patriots of the Reed caliber, and are not likely to run from an enemy. Our troops in Europe are not looking for trouble, but if Russian Bolsheviks or any other elements are seeking a quarrel with us withdrawing our troops will not stop them, nor would we have our men sink home to avoid a contingency.—Indianapolis Star (Rep. state organ).

The Farmer-Labor party has nominated a state ticket in Indiana, as follows: J. M. Zion of Clark's Hill, Tippecanoe county, for governor; Carl Mullen of Lake county for lieutenant-governor; Francis J. Dillon of Indianapolis for United States senator; Mrs. Margaret Doeber of Indianapolis for superintendent of public instructions; Percy R. Bell of Allen county for secretary of state; John Fogg of Vigo county for state treasurer; Charles R. Rodgers of Indianapolis for attorney-general; Ray Vern Maple of Marion county for state auditor; Thomas L. Kenney of Bicknell for judge of the supreme court, and LeRoy Swartz of Allen county for clerk of the supreme court. The platform adopted endorses in its entirety the platform of the "committee of 48" et al, recently adopted in Chicago. It is not probable that the ticket will cut much congealed aqua in Indiana this fall.

W. J. Bryan declining to be "it" for the Prohibition party, the dregs named Aaron S. Watkins of Germantown, O., to head their ticket, and will officially inform him of the fact on Aug. 11. The name of the town from which Mr. Watkins hails might indicate that he hasn't very much of a home following.

The mid-summer meeting of the Indiana Editorial association will be held at Turkey Run Friday, July 30.

The population of Fulton county, Ind., (Rochester county seat) has been officially announced at 16,478, a decrease of 401, or 2.4 per cent, since 1910.

In order to correct any mistaken impression which may have arisen in this state concerning the so-called "Farmer-Labor" third party, officers of Indiana Federation of Farmers associations and state organization workers are calling attention to the fact that the association has no connection whatever with such movement.

The result of an internal fight in the coal miners' union, it is said, has caused a strike in practically all the coal mines in Illinois and tied up half the mines in Indiana. Frank Farrington, head of the Illinois miners' union, wants to succeed John I. Lewis as head of the national miners' union, and is attempting to popularize himself with the miners.

A new kind of thief is said to have been apprehended at Reynolds, White county. Hugo Kraud is the alleged culprit, and he is charged with stealing gasoline from the Corn Belt garage. Friday night it is charged he was caught in the act of filling a car with the fuel. He is said to have confessed and implicated a number of others who have not yet been apprehended. The garage has been missing gasoline for some time and one night last week 80 gallons were taken. Fred Hintzman and his son lay in wait and were rewarded by catching Kraud.

Money for Indiana Counties.

Indianapolis, July 23.—A total of $1,887,338.35 in the common school fund of the state is ready for distribution to the counties. The June apportionment to the counties was announced by J. S. Hubbard, a deputy state superintendent of public instruction. Deductions ranging from $1,000 to $3,000 were made in the money to be given to four counties, to make up part of a deficit in their teachers' pension funds. The remainder of the deficit, which totals $14,000, will be made up from the December apportionment. The deductions were made as follows: Knox county, Vincennes unit, $3,000; Clark county, Jeffersonville unit, $2,000; Jefferson county, county unit, $1,000, and Bartholomew county, county unit, $1,000.

Shortage of Grain Cars.

Indianapolis, July 23.—The seriousness of the grain car shortage in Indiana has taken precedence over the coal situation, according to statements made to John W. McCordie, vice chairman of the public service commission, by managers of Indiana railroads, at a conference. The managers' reports showed that the coal car situation has improved about 20 per cent within the last few weeks. The managers of eight railroads reported that they are moving a total of 1,485 empty box cars to western connections which will be used for moving grain. Mr. McCordie telegraphed Clyde B. Aitchison, a member of the interstate commerce commission, in an effort to have some of these cars diverted to the Indiana roads.

Army Prisoner Slain by Guard.

Indianapolis, July 23.—Robert C. Johnson, thirty-one years old, an escaped military prisoner from Fort Benjamin Harrison, was shot and mortally wounded by a searching party which tried to recapture him on the public square in Noblesville. He was shot twice, both bullets penetrating his chest. Johnson was given emergency treatment at the Noblesville hospital, where he died. Johnson escaped from the dairy farm at Fort Harrison. He was tried by court-martial two weeks ago for larceny and desertion. He had been stationed at Fort Harrison since last December and deserted last spring.

Faces Serious Coal Shortage.

Alexandria, July 23.—Alexandria is facing a coal shortage that threatens not only to close the manufacturing plants of the city, but also the city waterworks, it is said. Coal shipments to Alexandria have been delayed for weeks and factory officials are unable to obtain relief. Local coal dealers are providing coal to operate the city waterworks plant.

Many Expected at Encampment.

Indianapolis, July 23.—More than 100,000 persons are expected to come to Indianapolis the week of September 19 to 25, when the forty-fifth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic and allied organizations is held here, according to the executive committee in charge of general arrangements.

Five to Be Tried for Murder.

Crown Point, July 23.—Five alleged Lake county murderers are to be tried in the next term of the Lake county courts. The defendants will be Hilario Hernandez, Sparlan Zarin, Nivok Dumdevich, William Thornton and Rederick Horn.

Girl Dies in Burning Auto.

Warrenton, Mo., July 23.—Miss Amelia Custer, twenty years old, a student at Central Wesleyan college, was burned to death and her father and brother were burned severely when an automobile in which they were riding and which was said to have been racing with another machine, caught fire after overturning on an embankment here.

Your Physician will Approve the Sellers

Many unusual things have been considered in perfecting the Sellers. Health has had its share. So you find in this remarkable cabinet such vital improvements as the Automatic Lowering Flour Bin.

Any physician will gladly approve this important addition. Because physicians know that lifting and straining under heavy weights—to say nothing of climbing up on doubtful chairs—is not good for the average woman. To many, it is positively dangerous. With the Sellers, filling the flour bin is a simple task. It swings down level with the table top. You fill it with perfect ease; then with a slight push it quietly slips back into place.

Altogether there are 15 such unusual things in the Sellers. It costs The Sellers Co. today many thousands of dollars extra each year to supply them—that is, more than they really need to pay—to make a good cabinet. But they are sure no Sellers owner would want them to omit a single one of them.

Come in and see the Sellers. Compare it. The price is no higher than that of any good cabinet.
