

GOOD WILL TRIUMPHANT UNDER TEST

As this message is being written, Dodge Brothers' daily, weekly and monthly production, is at the highest point in its history.

The most casual sort of inquiry will satisfy you that this production is being absorbed as it is delivered.

Within sight and sound as we write, a great addition to Dodge Brothers' immense works, is being rushed to completion.

The interesting thing about this situation is, that it is not likely that a half a hundred people have ever bought Dodge Brothers Motor Car just because they wanted a motor car.

Of the more than half a million who have bought it—the overwhelming majority did so because of the name it bore.

It has always been treated, by the American people in particular, as an exception—always set apart, and singled out, and never judged by ordinary standards.

It has always been thought of, and is still thought of, first, and foremost, and all the time, only in terms of its goodness, and the results it gives.

All of this is wonderful, in one way, and quite natural and logical in another.

It all dates back to the day when John and Horace Dodge conceived and designed and finally built the car—after warning each other, and their associates, not even to think of it in any other terms than the best obtainable value.

They began with a few almost absurdly simple principles, bluntly expressed and rigidly executed, about decency and honor and integrity—such as most of us wrote in our copy books at school.

They reduced these old copy book maxims to a splendid and scientific system, pouring more, and more, and still more value into the car, and then marshalling all the resources of modern massed manufacture to get their product into the hands of the people at an honorable and an honest cost.

These policies and principles have never been changed, and never will be changed, by so much as a hair's breadth; and they have come to be recognized and accepted as Dodge Brothers principles wherever motor cars are driven.

It has all happened as John and Horace Dodge planned it—quite simply, naturally, and automatically, all over America, and all over the world.

People do discriminate, as Dodge Brothers contended they would; people will find out when a motor car is well built and gives good service and great good value.

Dodge Brothers market today is where they planned to locate and establish it—in the mind and the heart of every man and woman who admires good work, well done.

It will last, and it will keep on growing, as it has kept on growing for five years (faster than Dodge Brothers works could keep pace with it), as long as the number of those who believe that a manufacturer should build to serve and not merely to sell, continues to increase.

All is well with Dodge Brothers today, because John and Horace Dodge build well in the beginning, and because their business will continue to build well until the end.

THE WEEK'S DOINGS

MT. AYR
(From the Tribune.)

A fine girl arrived at the home of Jesse Miller Sunday, November 28.

Mrs. Sarah Jane Miller is here from Lafayette visiting with her sister, Mrs. George Hopkins.

Wilbur Blankenbaker returned on Thursday from Iowa and reports the weather bad for corn husking out there.

Marion and Sanford Makeever went to Oswego, N. Y., this week to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bove Makeever.

Gilbert Stucker moved into town Monday. Al Brown will live on the C. H. Stucker farm and look after things till spring, at least.

Word has reached here, that the stork visited the home of our old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Smith at Gary Ridge, Mo., on Saturday, November 27, leaving a fine 8-pound daughter.

Mrs. Loma Miller went to Niles, Mich., Monday for a treatment of her eyes. She was accompanied by Mrs. C. C. Shue, who will also have the specialist treat her eyes. The ladies are expecting to return today.

Charles Penwright has just finished a bay window and colonnade for William Warren at Fair Oaks. He reports having taken the contract for a large barn to be built for J. J. Lawler on his farm near that town.

D. A. Dirst received a painful injury this week when his glove caught in the elevator chain while he was unloading corn at his farm south-west of town and drew his hand into the machinery. The hand was quite badly lacerated and will keep him from his husking work just now at a time when he can ill afford to lose time.

The Murfit sisters discontinued their restaurant business Monday. The dropping off of business and the increasing expense of winter operation were the reasons for the discontinuance. We are sorry to lose this business for the town for it has filled a decided want all through the summer months. The change leaves our town without an exclusive restaurant again.

The end came in the life of Farmer Zaborosky Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. He had been a sufferer for months from diabetes, and for a long time the doctors have held out no hope for his recovery. Mr. Zaborosky was 30 years of age at the time of his death and had lived his entire life in this community. He leaves besides his wife, his mother and seven brothers and three sisters, his father having preceded him in death. Some of the brothers and sisters reside in the west, and it remains uncertain as to the arrangements for the funeral services, as the family is awaiting word from the absent ones as we go to press.

William Warren died at his home in Walker township on November 19, 1920, at 11 o'clock a. m. He had been in declining health for several months and began to fail rapidly about a week before his death. Heart trouble and pneumonia were the causes of his demise.

William Warren was born in Marion, O., March 31, 1843, and at the time of his death was 77 years, 7 months and 19 days old. In 1862, with his parents, he came to Indiana and since that time Indiana had been his home, except for a four-year period when he served as a soldier in the war of the rebellion, enlisting in 1861 and serving until the close in 1865. He was a member of Co. K, 48th Ind. Regt. In 1863 he was wounded and taken prisoner, spending one night in Libby prison, being released the following day when an exchange of prisoners was made.

Mr. Warren came of a patriotic family, for during the great civil war three other brothers and three of his sisters' husbands were in the army, seeing long service and every one suffering from wounds sustained in action. In the year 1885 the deceased was united in marriage with Miss Ollie Zick of Tefft, Ind. Besides his wife he is survived by two children, Louis Warren of Walker township and Hattie Grube of Foreston, S. C.; also one brother, David Warren of Rensselaer; two sisters, Mrs. Maria McElfresh of Rensselaer and Mrs. Ellen Oram of Chicago; two grandchildren and numerous other relatives. The funeral, which was largely attended by his many friends and neighbors, was held at the Methodist church in Rensselaer, and a kind and loving father and the memories of his life will be long cherished by those who knew him. The services were conducted by the Rev. E. W. Strecker and burial was made in Weston cemetery. The burial services were in charge of the G. A. R. All the members of the family were with him during his last illness, except his daughter, who, on account of herself being sick, was unable to be present.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our heartfelt thanks to the friends and neighbors for their words of sympathy and the many acts of kindness shown us during the illness and death of our father, William Warren. — THE MOTHER AND CHILDREN.

WONDERFUL SPIRIT OF GIVING

Another year is nearing its close and with its ending comes that glad time, the Christmas holiday season. The absent ones are home again or if they cannot come there are the letters and tokens to be sent and received. The remembrance, need not be expensive as to money value, to be very much appreciated.

Christmas is pre-eminently the children's day. Do not insist that Santa will not remember them if they are not good. For we all know that Santa Claus will surely come and the children know it, too. He did not forget us in our own childhood whether we were very, very good or not. Let us teach the children about the wonderful spirit of loving and giving that brings a happy Christmas time.

FIRST CHRISTMAS OBSERVANCE

It is said that Christmas was first observed in the year 98 and that it was not until the year 137 that it was made a solemn feast. Pope Telesphorus decreed that it should be celebrated by all Christians in that year. On one early Christmas day the Roman Emperor Diocletian, hearing that the Christians assembled in their church were engaged in celebrating the birth of Christ, commanded that the doors of the church be closed and the building set on fire. This was done and six hundred persons lost their lives in the burning church.

A THRIFTY SAINT

"Don't you think holidays tempt us to extravagance?" "Not at all. If you will study the pictures of Santa Claus, you will observe he has on the same old clothes he has worn for years."

USE SLOAN'S TO WARD OFF PAIN

You can just tell by its healthy, stimulating odor, that it is going to do you good

"If I only had some Sloan's Liniment!" How often you've said that! And then when the rheumatic twinges subside—after hours of suffering—you forgot it! Don't do it again—get a bottle to-day and keep it handy for possible use tonight! A sudden attack may come on—sciatica, lumbago, sore muscles, backache, stiff joints, neuralgia, the pains and aches resulting from exposure. You'll soon find warmth and relief in Sloan's, the liniment that penetrates without rubbing. Clean, economical. Three sizes—35c, 70c, $1.40
