REMINGTON R. R. TIME TABLE

No. 318	East Bound	7:24 a. m.
No. 321	West Bound	9:22 a. m.
No. 340	East Bound	5:15 p. m.
No. 319	West Bound	5:15 p. m.

Mrs. Trevor Eger and son of Rensselaer came Sunday for a few days' visit with their parents.

Lloyd Jones went to Ft. Wayne Monday where he entered the International Business college for the winter term.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gleason of Clinton, Ill., spent from Wednesday until Sunday with their brother-in-law, Bert Spencer, and family.

Keith O'Reilly was a week-end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis O'Reilly. Keith is now located at Watseka, Ill., instead of Hoopes-ton, Ill.

Bernard Villinski, who has been spending a several weeks' vacation with home folks, went to Harvey, Ill., Thursday where he has a position in an office.

Mr. Leota Hollenback, who has been caring for Mrs. Isaac Parker during her recent illness, returned to her home Wednesday, leaving Mrs. Parker considerably improved.

Ben Lilves moved his family to Wabash the past week where they will live on a farm. We regret exceedingly to lose this family, but wish them well in their new home.

Mrs. Mabel Bolcourt of Bowling Green, Ky., came Monday to spend the Christmas holidays with her mother, Mrs. Perry Griffith, and other relatives here. Mrs. Bolcourt had spent a week in Indianapolis enroute here.

As we go to press this (Friday) morning we learn with great regret that the condition of Lee Alson is very serious, indeed, with practically no hope at all being held out. Last night it was not expected that he could survive until morning.

J. R. McCullough, (ous John) is now editor in chief of a paper, "The North Shore," in Chicago, and that made arrangements to move to that city at once. John is a good writer and will no doubt make good on the editorial end of the paper, which is of a society nature.

John Hardebeck has sold his farm machinery and all of the stock on his farm northeast of town and leased his farm to Hughes Cornwell. Mr. Hardebeck has been a very successful farmer and this action is caused by the present drop in grain prices and the difficulty in securing good, dependable farm labor.

Cards have been received here announcing the marriage of Miss Cecile Evelyn Fisher and E. Lawson Tucker at Elkhart, Kansas, Wednesday, November 24. Miss Fisher is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Fisher, former residents here who will wish the young people all manner of happiness in their married life. The Press joins in these good wishes.

Everyone is interested in weddings and especially so when it's a double wedding, but it's some blow to a man when he is informed that his two grown daughters are to be married at the same time and he's not wise to the fact until notified that the event will take place. Not every man loses a pair of daughters and annexes a couple of sons-in-law at the same time, but that is what happened to Tom Blake last week when his presence was requested at Huntington, W. V., to witness the wedding of the Misses Lola and Nellie Blake to Messrs. Ray Knowlton and Dewey Tench, respectively, which
