Weevil Damages Wheat.

Farmers who are not sure that their wheat stored in the bin is O. K., should examine it at once. If the wheat was put into the granary dump, weevil are most sure to work in it. The damage can be enormous both in the amount of grain destroyed and the loss in price because of the presence of the weevil. Weevil in a car of wheat will put it in the same class.

Carbon bisulphide will kill the weevil in a bin of grain. Level off the grain in the bin and place shallow plates such as pie pans and saucers one in each corner and one in the center. Fill these plates with the liquid and close the bin as nearly air tight as possible for 24 hours. If the top of the bin is open and air drafts are likely to circulate over the bin, cover the wheat with sacks or blankets.

Use one pound of carbon bisulphide to 300 bushels of wheat or 300 cubic feet of grain.

Farmers' Federation Meetings.

The townships which are holding meetings this week are: Newton, on Tuesday evening; Hanging Grove, on Wednesday evening; Walker, on Thursday evening; and Kankakee, on Friday evening. These township meetings are being well attended and much interest is being exhibited in their business sessions. Mr. Van Hook and the county agent are attending every one of these meetings, trying to give the farmers every support possible with a view to bettering the market conditions.

Chicken Stealing.

It has been brought to our attention that the outlaws who are making a profession of stealing chickens are beginning to make themselves conspicuous by the number of chickens they are taking from the different farm hen houses. This is a business among all other thefts which the farmers' wives hate the most. After the ladies have worked hard all summer trying to raise a fine flock of chickens and get them matured to that point where they are beginning to be of some value to them in the way of meat and laying, it is surely a low-down robbery that it is being expressed in words. The parties who are in this kind of business should be stamped out by whatever means possible, whether it be by the concerted action of the neighbors in that community or the county or by the Farmers' Federation. No doubt the only means of stamping out this annual curse is for the Farmers' Federation to agitate the most strict and rigid laws pertaining to this kind of theft. Anybody that will stoop to such a theft deserves the most strict penalty of the law, and that penalty to be none too easy.

County Agents' Conference.

The county agents of this district met in conference in the county agent's office in Lafayette Monday, December 13. Mr. Lloyd of the farm management department gave the county agents and the vocational teachers that were present a schooling in farm book accounting. He brought out the valuable points why the farmers should keep a record of their farm business and also showed that these records are most valuable at the end of the year in making up their income tax reports. Plans are under way to have one of these schools in Jasper county some time during the first two weeks in February.

The Jasper County Poultry association is putting forth every effort

He had been a sufferer from slow tuberculosis for many years, which finally was the cause of his death. His early life was spent in and near New Salisbury, Indiana. He was married February 23, 1880, to Catherine Bill, and to this union five children were born: Jacob L. of Brook, Mrs. Anna M. Augspurger, Mrs. Nora E. BRITISH HALT CABLES

PRACTICE DISCLOSED BY W. U. HEAD AT HEARING.

President Carlton Tells Senate Committee He Lays Action to Trouble in Ireland.

Washington, Dec. 17.—All American cable messages leaving Great Britain are now being held up for examination by the British naval intelligence authorities, Newcomb H. Carlton, president of the Western Union Telegraph company, testified when recalled before a special senate committee investigating cables and the advisability of legislative action affecting them.

The new British requirements have been imposed, Mr. Carlton said, for the purpose of throwing light upon "internal disturbances in Great Britain and I presume more particularly with reference to Ireland and Bolshevism."

Mr. Carlton added that he was not sure whether inbound cables from the United States also were being held for examination.

When the system was instituted, President Carlton added, the Western Union company had "taken a firm stand," but was assured that the messages would not be interfered with or censored.

Capt. F. K. Hill, who was a naval attaché of the United States to South American embassies, told the committee that during the war American business messages sent over English cables had gone into the possession of their English competitors.
