FOUR CORNERS

L. P. Shiner of Rensselaer attended the funeral of his mother at Tefft Saturday.

While writing these items the warm wave has disappeared and winter is here in all its glory.

The farmers who have corn in the field will have different weather to contend with from now on, it is quite likely.

Harding says: "Let congress do it." Well, if the same gang and a few more of the same kind who have been in control with their system of blockade and no legislative program gets in full control, then what?

It would seem that a full-fledged lawyer with a world-wide practice would have no use for a P. O. Perhaps he, like a few Republicans in northern Jasper, can attend to four of five offices and still have brain power to spare.

"Friday" Fairchild, the elevator man at Tefft, thought as soon as Harding was elected wheat would go sky high and corn be a good second, it is said. You forget, "Friday," the people don't know whether Harding is president or just the mere figure-head of the party.

Harding and the G. O. P. are getting out of the clouds and coming down to earth. They say this is not a Wilson unrest but a world condition and a world problem, and have really expressed sympathy for the president in his continued sickness. Well, what next?

Mrs. Shiner of near Tefft, mother of John and William Shiner, after several years of failing health, died last week and was buried at Kniman after short services at her late home Saturday at 10:30 o'clock. A large number of friends gathered at the home to pay their last respects to one of the oldest and most highly respected of Kankakee township's residents, one who always met one with a smile and who bore her sickness with Christian patience and one who will be greatly missed by all of her many friends and especially by the children and grandchildren, with whom she had made her home for many years. The community extends its sympathy to the bereaved relatives in this their sorrow and loss.

CATARRH CANNOT BE CURED with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Catarrh Medicine was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known, combined with some of the best blood purifiers. The perfect combination of the ingredients in Hall's Catarrh Medicine is what produces such wonderful results in catarrhal conditions. Send for testimonials, free.

PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES

The schools will close Wednesday evening, December 22, for the Christmas vacation, and reopen Monday, January 3, 1921.

The Community club of the primary building has arranged to have the school yard covered with a layer of cinders. This is a very commendable undertaking and greatly appreciated by the school people as well as the children.

Primary Building.

Mrs. A. A. Shepler has returned after being absent for two weeks.

Miss Mildred Rush of the South Marion school visited the primary grades last Friday.

Seven thousand and seventy-five of the health seals have been sold by the pupils of this building. This is a much better report than last year.

This past week the attendance in each room has been very good.

Each grade has been doing work in keeping with the season. The lower grades have made bells, holly wreaths, Christmas trees and fireplaces. The upper grades have made calendars, book-marks, blotting pads and pencil holders.

A large box of Christmas joy is now on its way to Kentucky, filled to overflowing by the children of the Jasper county Red Cross, to gladden the hearts of the little Knott county Kentuckians who "have never seen a Christmas tree." In addition to yards and yards of paper chains and popcorn strings, dozens of paper dolls and innumerable other attractive things made by the children to decorate the tree, the box contains a dozen games, forty-seven books, seven rubber balls, six bags of marbles, ten dolls, five pairs of bedroom slippers, nuts, crayons, various articles of clothing, nineteen miscellaneous packages and an endless assortment of playthings. The enthusiasm with which the children responded to this appeal is surely evidence not only of the true spirit of the Junior Red Cross, but also of the Christmas season.

Grammar Building.

Much enthusiasm has been shown among the pupils as to the sale of the health seals. At present the total derived from their sale is forty-five dollars.

Everyone, especially the teachers, is very much interested in the domestic science department. We wonder why? Candy-making week.

Selections have been made of the two best pieces of work to be placed on exhibition during the teachers' meeting Saturday. Mr. Sterrett has asked each school in the county to have similar exhibits. This is a meeting of all of the teachers of Jasper county and will be of an institute nature.

High School Building.

School was dismissed a few minutes early on Friday afternoon to allow the students to attend the power farming demonstration at the Central Sales company's garage. Since practically half of the high school's enrollment are boys and girls from the
