

Every Republican in the county should subscribe for THE JASPER REPUBLICAN at once. Next year being the Centennial year of the Nation, and it also being the year of a Presidential election, every citizen should take a county paper. In clubs of ten or more we will furnish the REPUBLICAN from now until the first of January, 1877, for one dollar and twenty-five cents per year.

VICTORY!

The Grand Old Republican Party Again Triumphant!

From the latest telegrams in regard to the elections we find the Republicans in the ascendancy. Pennsylvania re-elects Hartranft, Republican Governor, by 17,000 majority. In New York the result is close and still a matter of doubt, but the legislature is decidedly Republican. The Democrats will probably have a small majority this year, against 50,300 Democratic majority last year.—Massachusetts, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Kansas, each give Republican majorities. Mississippi, Virginia and Maryland have gone Democratic. The dispatches from Chicago announce that the city has gone Republican by from 4,000 to 5,000 majority, thus signally defeating "boss" Hiesing and his corrupt ring of pimps, bummers and thieves.

The Colorado election returns show heavy Republican gains.

Chinamen don't work well on Southern plantations. When they go out to plow they want to ride the mule and let the plow run itself.

Moody is said to be the most rapid speaker the New York reporters have ever had to encounter—220 words per minute.

Moody, the great revivalist, appointed Friday, the 12th inst., a day of fasting and prayer, and it was voted by the congregation that the nation be invited to join.

It is authoritatively stated that Mrs. A. Lincoln has entirely recovered from her late aberration of mind, and is now considered entirely free from her affliction. It is reported that she will hereafter make her home in Springfield, Ill.

When you grumble at hard times and crippled industries, just cast your eyes over the big water and look at France, with one hundred and twenty-three thousand industrial establishments, and giving work to about one million eight hundred men. At least two-thirds of these are now losing a month's time and wages in order to drill for a future war.

Noticing the nomination by a Kentucky paper of Senator Thurman for the second place on the Democratic presidential ticket for next year, the Cincinnati Commercial says: "They used to mention the nephew's name in connection with the presidency. If he does not have a care they will be running him for mayor of Columbus, with his uncle for town-crier."

There seems to be a grand offensive and defensive combination between various eastern railroad lines of which the advance of passenger rates already announced is an outgrowth. The rates thus announced are the same as before the war between the Baltimore, Ohio & Saratoga combination. It is believed efforts will be made soon to increase these rates still further and that freight rates will be largely increased as soon as lake navigation closes.

A correspondent of the Turf, Field and Farm, thinks he has learned why horses break in trotting. He is correct in his conclusions as to how horses should be handled, whether he is in his theory or not. He says: My theory is, that the power of trotting lies more in the brain than in the muscles; and when a horse under the excitement of the whip increases his speed above a certain point, his brain becomes unable to keep up with the rapid continued motion of the muscles. He loses control of himself. He is unable to put his legs where he wants them, and goes into a gallop because that gait requires little or no exertion of the brain. I am almost satisfied in my own mind that I have hit on the true theory, and that a horse should be handled so as not to lose confidence in his ability to do the work required of him.

Mary's Lamb not a Myth.

Now, then, will those persons who have ruthlessly torn aside the mythical veil from so many dearly beloved objects, stop in their wild career. They tell us that the story of George and his little hatchet was a hatched up affair, and that Tell never existed. They have tried to make us believe that Robinson Crusoe never lived except in DeFoe's fertile brain; and pretty soon, if they had kept on, we would have begun to doubt that General Grant put down the rebellion; or that Donaldson was lost with a balloon. These reckless people have at last come across a tradition which they can not destroy.—We refer, of course, to Mary and her lamb, a story which has become national in its character, and without whose example of loving kindness to point to, no Sunday-school would be complete. Now, this is the way it is, and it is no doubt true, because a newspaper reporter says it is:

"A writer in the Springfield Republican has had a pleasant interview with the real Mary who had a little lamb, and who related to him the incident on which the immortal poem was based. The lamb was a twin, thrust out of the pen by its unnatural mother. Mary took it home and nursed it until well, and it naturally grew into a great pet. One morning when it was to go as usual to the pasture, it could not be found, and when Mary went singing on her way to school, it followed her; at the school house door she picked it up and managed to carry it secretly to her desk, where she covered it up with her shawl. But when called to her spelling class the lamb got up too, and came pattering after her, which made the children laugh to see a lamb at school. It happened that morning that a young man named John Rowston, the son of a riding-master in Boston, who was fitting himself for Harvard, was in the school, and a few days afterward produced three verses of the poem. How it ever came to be published Mary did not know, for the young man died soon after, ignorant of the immortality of his verses. But the lamb lived and had five lambkins before it met its death by an angry cow. Aside from its memory there yet remains of it the residue of a child's stocking, which is gradually unraveling to furnish mementoes for the many friends of Mary and her little lamb."

The Indiana Centennial, and the Committee of the State Board of Education, are sending out the following circular in relation to the raising of funds for the Centennial Exposition:

In order to demonstrate that Indiana is not behind her sister States in all that constitutes real worth, intellectual and material, we call upon all her citizens, and especially upon her educational men and women, to assist us in securing ample funds to prosecute this design.

We recommend that the 11th of December be celebrated as the 59th anniversary of the admission of Indiana to the sisterhood of States, by some memorial exercise, which shall serve the double purpose of stimulating the patriotism of her children and of raising funds to enable the State of Indiana to take a suitable part in the National Celebration.

The following ways are suggested, by which, in every school district, these patriotic designs may be effected:

- 1st. By district spelling schools.
- 2d. By a school concert or exhibition.
- 3d. By a festival or fair.

Or if these methods do not meet your views, by any other method, which will enable every man, woman and child, in the State to contribute funds to this grand object.

If, for local reasons, the 11th of December is not deemed an appropriate time, it is hoped that another occasion will be selected which shall effect the same result.

It is requested that every teacher and school officer in the State make a special effort to carry out the spirit of this circular by taking immediate steps for its accomplishment.

In order to avoid the complications which might arise from the appointment of several finance committees, the Committee of the State Board of Education has made arrangements by which all the funds raised shall pass through the hands of the State Finance Committee. The friends of education are therefore requested to send the money they shall raise to the Hon. J. M. RIDENOUR, Indianapolis, Treasurer of the State Finance Committee, or to any agent authorized by him to receive it.

In addition to this special work, you are requested to co-operate with the members of the State Centennial Finance Committee of your locality in the furtherance of any enterprise having for its object the raising of funds for Centennial purposes.

You are also requested to keep us fully informed as to the progress of your plans, and the results secured by them.

All communications under the subject of this circular should be sent to ALEX. M. GOW, Evansville, Indiana.

THE OLD LINE DRUG STORE.

THE GREAT AMERICAN EXPLORER.

MAJOR MUCKLESWORTH,

has been heard from. The last account we had of him was up to the 17th day of March, 1875, in latitude 41 degrees west longitude from Washington where he had encountered

Deacon Tubbs and his Party, and after three days of hard bombardment had captured him and his whole party, and one door east of F. J. Sears & Co's dry goods store. The Deacon and his party made gallant resistance at the old stand on the north side of the street, but the Major was a little too strong for him and captured him and his subordinates.

Lieut. Meyer and Will Perigim.

Young Perigim was wounded by an accidental discharge of Meyer's piece, but young Perigim, at last accounts, was doing well; he was using RADWAY'S READY RESOLVENT for his blood, one bottle of WALLACE'S BITTERS for his digestive organs, and three boxes of M'ALESTER'S ALL HEALING SALVE for his wound. It is thought by his nurse that he will recover.

The Major, in the long exposure with Deacon Tubbs, cheering on his men, took a severe cold which settled in his throat, but by using a bottle of

we are happy to inform the public that he is able to be out again, and at the NEW BRICK STORE compounding Drugs and Medicines, where the Deacon and the Major are found at all times dealing out Medicine to their numerous Customers. They would say to their friends that they have, or did have, a Large Stock of DRUGS, MEDICINES, PAINTS, OILS and DYE STUFFS. They keep a Good Assortment of PAPER, ENVELOPS, PENS, INK, BLANK and SCHOOL BOOKS, which they will sell
