Fourth of July in Jasper.

At the first break of dawn the people were awakened by the booming of the cannon, ringing of the Court house bell and the cry of "come out everybody!" and a large crowd gathered at the house for the purpose of raising a liberty pole. The pole was about eighty feet long, straight as an arrow, and was raised amid the shouts of the people and music from the band. The next thing was to raise the flag, which Mr. Deinderfer brought out, and which he was going to raise without any staff, when he was informed that the flag was useless unless it had the backbone to it; this caused some delay but was finally remedied and the flag went up to the tune of "Red, White and Blue," by the band. There was a slight breeze stirring and the flag floated gracefully in the bright light of the sun—surely a thing of beauty and a joy forever. The people then went to their homes to get their breakfast and prepare for the procession. At about 10 o'clock the procession began to form on the corner of Newton and Fifth Sts., as follows: First, the band and band wagon, gaily decorated with flowers, then came the Jasper fire engine which contained two girls dressed in costumes made out of the U. S. flag, and two young firemen with large caps, and seated out on the arms of the engine were two oddly dressed characters with false-faces on; the engine was followed by the United States wagon, which contained forty-one girls dressed in white with crowns bearing the name of each of the States they represented, surrounding a tableau of three representing "Liberty," "Peace," and "Justice," with appropriate emblems. This wagon was drawn by six horses, each horse wearing a banner, the first two wore "Liberty," the second "Union," and the last two "Justice." The next wagon was Mr. Schumacher's and contained half a dozen sewing machines, run by that many different ladies, and if we are not mistaken, the girls attracted more attention than the sewing machines. The next was M. A. Sermerheim's and Co.'s, bearing the inscription, "Free trade established in 1776," and represented their large and extensive dry goods business. Next in the list is the Arcade on wheels. This wagon contained all kinds of gent's furnishing goods, and a tailor at hand to make what ever they lacked, and two curious characters at each side of the wagon which drew out comments the rest of the day. The Arcade was followed by the gayest wagon in the lot—it was the Knickerbocker saloon, by John Neudeck, it was a regular bar-room on wheels and contained a band of music, with eight or ten customers decked out in red, white and blue costumes, who drank beer and ice-water, and played cards. The next was the Brewery wagon which contained barrels of beer. It was followed by another drinking establishment, but not so showy as the last—this was Mr. Krempf, and represented his "pop" business; then came Joseph F. Sermerheim's watch-making establishment, with a fine display. The next was "Cheap Jo's" wagon, representing his saddlery business, followed by "Cheap Mat," in the boot and shoe line, and a good display they made. They were followed by one of the best in the line. It was J. E. Christman's marble works, and represented the stone cutting business completely; it also contained a fine banner painted by Mr. Webb, representing on one side the shadow of an arm with a mallet in its hand; the other represented a fine monument, in a handsome avenue; the marble wagon was followed by Kraus & Erny with their tin shop and every variety of tin-ware; the next was a cooper shop, and the way Smith made the barrel rattle was a caution. Next in order was a barber shop, by Henry Melchior, and last but not least, was the black smith shop, with fire, smoke and three workmen. After parading the principal streets, the procession went to the grounds, where a large dancing floor had been erected. Prof. Sweeney read the Declaration of Independence, and Rev. G. C. Cooper, an aspirant for political fame, then addressed the people on the great and glorious 4th, in regular spread eagle style. The fine string band commenced playing, and hundreds went to dancing and danced until morning. Two or three persons got too much beer and had some fights, and felt sore next day, but in the main, for so large a crowd, the picnic passed off pleasantly and all were well pleased, especially the candidates, who "sat 'em up" on many occasions and consequently a goodly number of ill drinks were drunk, and all made happy. Hurrah, for the Fourth!

Manhood: Now Lost, Now Restored.

Just Published, in a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatocoele, or

Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses,

Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance, &c.

Price in a sealed envelope, only six cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent, under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps.

DR. JOHN BULL'S Great Remedies.

Dr. John Bull,

MANUFACTURER AND VENDOR OF THE CELEBRATED

Smith's Tonic Syrup!

AGUE AND FEVER, OR CHILLS AND FEVER.

THE proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the AGUE, CHILLS, FEVER, and REMITTENT AGUE, or CHILLS and FEVER, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion, that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case most certain, to use it if the disease continues in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been broken or checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually, this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order, should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

BULL'S

WORM DESTROYER.

To my United States and World Wide Readers.

I HAVE received many testimonials from professional and medical men, as well as uneducated and various publications have shown, all of which are genuine. The following from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most valuable communications I have ever received. Dr. Clement knows exactly what he speaks of, and his testimony deserves to be written in letters of gold. Hear what the Doctor says of Bull's Worm Destroyer:

VILLAGE, WALKER CO., GA.,

June 29, 1868.

Dr. John Bull—Dear Sir: I have recently given your "Worm Destroyer" several trials and find it wonderfully efficacious. It has not failed in a single instance to have the wished for effect. I am doing a pretty large country practice, and have daily use for some article of the kind. I am free to confess that I know of no remedy recommended by the ablest authors that is so certain and speedy in its effects. On the contrary they are uncertain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine directly from you. If I can get it upon easy terms, I shall use a great deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and precepts of a great majority of the medical line of M. D.'s, but I see no cause or good sense in discarding a remedy which I know to be efficient, simply because we may be ignorant of its combination. For my part, I shall make it a rule to use all and any means to alleviate suffering humanity, which I may be able to command—not hesitating, because some one more ingenious than myself may have learned its effects first, and secured the sole right to use that knowledge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands of worthless nostrums that flood the country, that purport to cure all manner of disease to which human flesh is heir. Please reply soon, and inform me of your best terms. I am, sir, most respectfully

JULIUS P. CLEMENT, M. D.

BULL'S

SARSAPARILLA!

A Good Reason for the Captain's Faith.

Read the Captain's Letter and the Letter from his Mother:

BENTON BARNES, Mo., April 20th, 1868.

Dr. John Bull—Dear Sir: Knowing the efficacy of your Sarsaparilla, and the healing and beneficial qualities it possesses, I send you the following statement of my case.

I was wounded about two years ago—was taken prisoner and confined for sixteen months. Being moved so often, my wounds have not healed yet. I have not enjoyed a moment since I was wounded. I am shut through the hips. My general health is impaired, and I need something to assist nature. I have more faith in your Sarsaparilla than any thing else. I wish that that is genuine. Please
