

OH, DEAR! MY BACK!

Merciful Heavens, how my back hurts in the morning! It's all due to an over-abundance of that poison called uric acid. The kidneys are not able to get rid of it. Such conditions you can readily overcome, and prolong life by taking "Anuric" (anti-uric-acid). This can be obtained at almost any drug store, in tablet form.

When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from back-ache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism or gout; or sleep is disturbed two or three times a night, get Dr. Pierce's Anuric, it will put new life into your kidneys and your entire system. Send Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., ten cents for trial package.

ELKHART, IND.—"When I started to take Anuric the kidney excretion was thick and cloudy, sometimes I was disturbed fifteen times in one night. I am advanced in years and quite timid about taking advertised remedies, but I felt perfectly safe in taking Anuric because I had been so greatly helped by Dr. Pierce's other remedies. I took one package and my rest at night is unbroken, and consequently my general health is greatly improved."—Mrs. S. J. ANDERSON, No. 700 Marion Street.

Trees for a Treeless Town.

This year Freedom, Wyoming, is enjoying the novelty of trees along its streets and on its lawns because one woman had vision enough to see trees there and determination enough to get them planted. Freedom is situated in the treeless part of Wyoming. It had no trees, and no one seemed to regard it as possible to have any. Finally, one woman wrote to the state agricultural college for advice and learned that the blue spruce would do well in that region and that the forestry division would furnish transplants for 5 cents apiece. Starting with a goal of 250 trees, she kept on until she had succeeded in getting 1,400 planted by the interested residents. Now the whole country is planting blue spruces. That is real public spirit.—Youth's Companion.

Admitted. It is related that when Judge Benjamin Toppan of Ohio, who died in the early 70s, applied for admission to the bar of that state he was asked just two questions. "Mr. Toppan, what is law?" was the first of these. "An unjust distribution of justice," replied the applicant. "What is equity?" was the second. "A d— imposition upon common sense!" He was received into the brotherhood with open arms.

SCRAPS OF HUMOR

Neighborly Zeal.

"I understand Mr. Gadspar has a new stenographer who is a beauty." "Yes, a dazzling creature, if there ever was one."

"Do you suppose Mrs. Gadspar knows about it?" "I should say so! Mrs. Glipping, who lives next door, heard the news from Mr. Glipping and got out of a sick bed to tell Mrs. Gadspar."

Anything But That.

Motorily—The only trouble with my new car is that it travels smoother with the rear seats loaded and there's only myself and my wife to use it.

Footer—I suppose, then, you treat your friends to rides.

Motorily—Certainly not. I carry sandbag ballast.

Successful Way.

"Did that cultured book agent sell you a set of Hugo's works?" "No, I talked him out of it."

"How did you do that?" "I noticed that every time I mispronounced 'Les Miserables' he writhed in his chair, so I kept it up until the poor devil fled."

None of the Qualifications.

"Why do you object to being called 'colonel'?"

"Well," replied Uncle Bill Bottletop, "I never was in the army and I don't make speeches and I never take a drink and I honestly don't feel that I have any claim to the title."

SENSIBLE GIRL

Maude—I haven't heard you practicing on the piano since you got engaged.

Marie—No, I'm practicing on the gas range now.

The Way Now.

Mary has a little vote, And all the manly souls That Mary knows are urging her To take it to the polls.

Overinstructed.

"Experience is the best teacher," observed the ready-made philosopher. "Perhaps," answered Mr. Growcher, "but I am tired of learning all about the high cost of living by that particular method."

Practical Romance.

He—Do you believe in love at first sight? She—Oh, yes, if the site is listed at any sort of value in the real estate exchange.

Another Way.

"The old question, 'Where did he get it?' is being asked now with more energy than ever."

"Yes; it does seem to have considerable more spirit in it."

The Proper One.

"What vine would you suggest to put on the slope of the financier's country home I am fixing up?" "Why not try a bank runner?"

Great Place.

"What is Utopia?" "That's the place where the government pays every man a salary for minding his own business."

A Difficulty.

"Be optimistic. There is really no black obstacle to progress."

"Have you ever been in a trolley car held up by a coal cart?"

Its Nature.

"The doctor detected the incipient fever at once in Henry's system."

"Then it must have been the spotted fever."

Era of Much Moving.

"Life," said the ready-made philosopher, "is like a game of checkers."

"Maybe so," answered the transfer man, wearily. "But I never heard of a game of checkers where so many moves were attempted at the same time."

The Reason.

"Do you like silk shirts?" "No."

"Then why do you wear them?" "Just to show folks I can afford em."

OSTRICH IS IN VOGUE

Plumes Curled and Uncurled Now Prime Favorite.

Fluffy Decoration Affords the Most Popular Hat Trimming of the Season.

Ostrich is the most popular hat trimming of the season. Long, graceful, soft curled plumes, little chic French tips curled very tightly, ostrich "fancies" of various sorts and the uncurled, feather-duster type of ostrich share honors about equally.

One of the methods employed for trimming a very small hat with ostrich is to attach a curled plume at either side so that it forms a sort of ear muff and effectually conceals the hair. Such a hat recently shown was of blue and silver brocade made on a turban frame, very closely draped, and with plumes in smoke gray drooping at either side.

Still another charming small hat was of smoke gray velvet with the merest suggestion of a brim in front, two long curled plumes in self-color being joined in the center back, so they extended across the back and curled down a trifle at either side.

Sapphire blue is well up in front in the millinery color procession. Many well draped hats are fashioned of velvet to embroidered motifs, or vice versa.

Collars and cuffs are frequently finished with hand-sewn scallops that are dainty and serviceable.

The charm of the lingerie waist is in the daintiness of its construction and all of the best models are practically entirely hand made. Hand drawn work is popular and a touch of color is frequently given the blouse by the use of colored thread in making the drawn work pattern.

Many women buy plain hand-made blouses in the shops and finish them at home by applying edgings of flannel or Irish crochet lace, letting in panels and inserts of hand-made lace, embroidery, etc. By this process the uninteresting part of the work is avoided and when finished the garment will be a thing of beauty and a real treasure from the standpoint of money value.

Applique motifs are employed as trimming on many of the georgette and silk blouses shown this season. Taffeta may be applied onto georgette, while on taffeta blouses felt, duvetyn and even patent leather motifs are applied. Beads and jet nail heads also figure prominently as trimmings.

Chic Little Jardine Hat with Brim Trimming of Feathers.

vet in this shade of blue. One charming little turban seen was made of inch-wide sapphire blue velvet ribbon woven basket fashion, interwoven silver threads giving a pretty note of contrast. A single soft feather was caught at one side. The entire hat, except for the silver threads, was in the vivid blue, so extraordinarily beautiful when becoming.

LINGERIE BLOUSES HOLD OWN

Dainty Garments of Sheer Cotton Material Continue to Be Strong Favorite; Trimming Novelties.

The fine lingerie blouse never goes out of fashion. Notwithstanding the fact that innumerable styles in silk and georgette models, lovely affairs of lace, etc., are available for wear during the winter months, the demand for the sheer cotton blouse continues strong. Little that is unusual or new in style line is shown, but quite a number of new trimming novelties are offered.

Madera embroidery is generally used and flit lace and embroidery are frequently combined with very good effect, bands of the lace being joined Changing Pillow Covers.

How many housewives have ever thought of using the vacuum cleaner for changing the covers on their feather pillows? inquires Delineator. You know the usual preliminaries—an empty room if possible, covered hair, and cotton clothes—now no longer necessary if a vacuum cleaner is available for use. The clean slip is fastened securely to the opening which usually holds the bag. A small opening in the old pillow is slipped over and fastened to the short tube used for the attachments, the button turned and, presto, the clean slip is filled with feathers.

Black Frocks Are Fashion.

A recent Paris dispatch states that black frocks are a distinct fashion note in that gay city. Earlier in the season many of the lighter shades of brown were featured by practically every modiste and couturier, but the Parisian did not take kindly to them as they are trying shades for the average complexion. So until recently not many of these tones, save cocoa brown, have been worn. Now cinnamon colored hats are making their appearance both on the street and in the smart restaurants. Frocks in this tint are also noted.

Coats That Are Popular.

Plaid homespun coats on loose, flowing lines are popular. A favorite pattern is of gray, with faint lavender stripes.

Frock for Afternoon Wear

Taffeta or Faille Silk Favorite of Moment—Made With Plain, Long-Waisted Bodice.

For afternoon wear the frock of taffeta or faille silk seems to be the first favorite of the moment, made with a severely plain, rather long-waisted little bodice that clings closer to the figure than the chemise frock, but makes no effort to fit in any correct sense of the word. Whereas in former days such a bodice would have been severely boned, it is now allowed to wrinkle softly in the region of the waist line. The skirts are puffed or draped or held out slightly from the hips by a clever contrivance of piping cords or ruchings. It is interesting to notice that, however much the present-day fashions have borrowed their inspiration from the past century, they are yet essentially modern and express the freer thought of today. We see no sign of the return of the tight waist or the boned bodice and we just know that the modern woman would never put up with such inconvenience and discomfort for one moment.

Another style which is seen in some of the new models is the cross-over bodice, the ends of which tie at the back and can either be bunched into a large bow to give the bustle effect or may be loosely knotted and allowed to hang down to the hem of the skirt. These dresses are very graceful and becoming, the slanting lines over the hips being especially suitable for the figures which might find the severity of the plain bodice rather trying. A dress of this description was carried out in changing taffeta of blue and mauve, the sleeves and neck being turned back with plain mauve satin. Charmeuse and cachemire de sole would be equally suitable materials for such a design.

Dainty Handkerchiefs.

Dainty handkerchiefs may be made from old crepe de chine blouses, camisoles and underthings. A square may be cut from each side of the front and others from the back and tops of sleeves. These squares may be tinted with simple dye preparation. Roll the hems and overcast in two directions to give the appearance of cross-stitch, embroidering a tiny rambler rose or flower spray in the corner with bright silk. Thus for an expenditure of 15 or 20 cents you will have handkerchiefs that would cost several dollars in the shops.

Girdles and Belts Missing.

Girdles and belts are among the missing this season, at least where evening gowns are concerned. The draping takes consideration of the waistline, making some concession in the way of massed folds at that point, but it does not very often make use of a girdle.

Corduroy Is Serviceable.

For a really serviceable cold weather negligee garment no better fabric selection than corduroy can be thought of.

A New Log Saw

Cuts Faster, Costs Less, Makes More Money for Users and Works While You Rest.

A new improved power log saw, now being offered, outdoes all other log saws in cutting wood quickly and at little cost. A new 4-cycle, high power motor equipped with Oscillating Magneto—no batteries to fail you—makes the saw bite through logs faster than other log saws. It finishes its cut and is ready for another before the ordinary saw is well started. This log saw—the Ottawa—has a specially designed friction clutch, controlled by a lever, which starts and stops the saw without stopping the engine. Others have imitated, but no other power log saw has this improvement just like the Ottawa. The Ottawa Log Saw sells for less money than any power saw of anything like its size.

The Improved Model, 4-H.P. Ottawa Log Saw.

One man wheels this outfit from cut to cut and log to log like a barrow. Separate attachments cut down trees and cut up branches. Extra power lets the engine do heavy work of all kinds. Owners of the Ottawa Log Saw laugh at coal shortages and are making big money with ease, the machine doing the work. 35 to 50 cords cut any day, rainy or dry, by one man, are normal figures. And wood is approaching $20 a cord! The Ottawa is compact, simple and durable. It sells for cash or easy payments and is guaranteed. If you have wood to cut the Ottawa Log Saw will be the most satisfactory machine you've ever owned. We suggest that you write the Ottawa Mfg. Co., 2724 Wood St., Ottawa, Kas., for their complete new illustrated book and prices, sent free to all readers of this paper.
