GARY HAS USUAL DEPOT PROBLEM

At Present Railroad Officials are Quibbling Over Who Will Foot Bills.

THIS SOON TO BE DECIDED

Expected Corporations Who Must Build Stations Jointly, Will Soon Come to Terms.

(Special to Lake County Times.)

Gary, Ind., Oct. 12.—The city of Gary has a depot problem just as the other cities of the Calumet region, but unlike them the problem is likely to be solved in the near future and will be solved in a way that will be eminently satisfactory to the people of Gary.

At present there is the usual quibbling going on between the officials of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad and those of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad regarding the division of the cost of a union station.

The Baltimore and Ohio people are of the opinion that because of the greater amount of passenger traffic enjoyed by the Lake Shore that it should stand at least two-thirds of the cost of the building. The Lake Shore people, on the other hand, think that if the other railroad has the equal use of the building it should pay at least half of the cost.

At present the matter is in a deadlock and it appears that neither railroad will budge from the position which it has taken. However, the cost of building independent depots and maintaining them, especially when they would have to be built within a few hundred feet of each other, must appear to be a very poor business proposition to the officials of the two companies, and as soon as they have exhausted their resources in trying to "buffalo" each other, it is believed they will get together.

In the case of the Gary and Western railroad, an agreement has already been reached with the Michigan Central road, which parallels it through Gary, to build a union station.

The Gary and Western is to be elevated while the Michigan Central will run through the city at grade and it would appear that it would be difficult to make one depot serve for both roads, but it is said that the engineers have overcome the problems that at first were presented and that the depot will soon be built.

The Pennsylvania railroad is not expected to elevate, but its depot facilities are already fair, considering its distance from the city, and improvements are sure to be made in the future.

Cause of Gray Hair.

D. QUAYLE KNOWS LIFE.

Dr. William A. Quayle who is to lecture at the First Methodist church next Monday evening is a man of the broadest sympathies with life. He is equally at home in its seriousness and in its humor. It is this knowledge that gives him power to interpret qualities and motives and makes his lectures so rich.

Dr. Quayle, in his boyhood knew the toil and privation side of life well enough to make him a true interpreter of Abraham Lincoln. A rich treat may be expected.

He enjoys the humorous even when it involves himself as the victim. His friends tell this one on him. Having an engagement to lecture at Decatur Ill., not long ago, and he, being delayed by a late train the audience became impatient. A male quartet was called into service and entertained the company with a number of songs, while they were singing softly, "Come, Sinner, Come." Dr. Quayle walked meekly in and took his place at the front. The people so enjoyed the humor of the situation that they were convulsed with laughter. The doctor will never be late again if he can help it.

Hear him on "Abraham Lincoln, the First American," at the Methodist church next Monday evening. Admission 50 cents, no reserved seats. Lecture to begin at 8 o'clock.
