

GAMBLING CONTINUES UNBEKNOWN

Element is in consternation over Times expose of Tuesday night—Police Captain says he is ignorant of existing conditions

HALPIN PROMISES TO MAKE INVESTIGATION

Says he has been away on a vacation and that the crop may have sprung up during his absence—it sounds very reasonable but—

The story as published in Tuesday night's Times on gambling going on in South Chicago at the present time, is entirely unknown to me. Of course I have been away on my vacation and do not know what took place during my absence. All I can say is that I will investigate the conditions and if I find they warrant it, I will cause the arrest of those implicated. In regard to minors being allowed to congregate in these places, I will myself see that it is stopped. No faro banks, roulette wheels, craps or poker playing will be allowed in South Chicago. Of course there will always be a certain amount of gambling. If we drive them out of South Chicago they will seek other quarters. The South Chicago police have never countenanced any form of gambling, whatsoever, under the present administration.

JOHN HALPIN,
Captain of South Chicago Police.

The article in Tuesday night's Times has caused consternation among the gambling element in South Chicago, and it is believed that a general exodus will be noticeable at no distant date.

It is true that there has always been gambling of some form or other, but the better element of South Chicagoans believe that there has been an appreciable increase during the spring and summer months.

It is fair to assume that the recent depressed conditions of the times, have caused an unusual large number of men to be without employment, and as a result, a certain percentage have taken up the "art" of paying particular attention to various capacities, in which to make a dollar or two. Some are given employment as "barkers," boosters, and other similar capacities.

It is known that the younger element of South Chicago, ranging in years from 18 to 20, have lost various amounts of money and have been reluctant in mentioning the fact to their parents, fearing that an exposure be the result.

In the Cigar Stores Too.

These games of chance are not only confined to the saloon and pool room, but many cigar stores in the rear of which are used nightly for the carrying on of poker games and crap shooting.

It has been some time since a raid has been made on South Chicago gambling houses, other than that of George Rodger's place at 9217 Commercial avenue several months ago when the proprietor and a number of the inmates were taken to the South Chicago police station, all of whom gave bonds. The case was transferred to jury trial down town, the result of which all were discharged.

It is refreshing to know that Captain Halpin, who is backed up by the entire force including Chief Shippy, who was at one time a commanding officer at South Chicago, and is in a general way familiar with the local station, is to give the matter special attention.

THEY QUAFF A CUP TO THE HOTEL BAR

Doors Close Permanent Tonight in Gary Hotel Wet Goods Emporium.

GRACED BY NATIONAL FIGURES

Management bows to Will of Remonstrators—License Expires Tonight; Curtain Falls.

The Gary Hotel bar, which for months has been one of the largest sources of revenue in the city, and one of the very finest of its kind, sees its last day of grace today, and this evening will fall in the grip of the remonstrance law. The license expires Sept. 3, and not wishing to violate the law in any manner the proprietor of the hotel, Geo. O'Donnell, has decided that it must close up on the dot. It is expected that the historic wet goods emporium will be crowded all day today when the patrons of the place will drink farewell to the doomed establishment.

The only time previous to the closing of this bar, has the remonstrance been felt so hard as was when the saloon of Al Borman closed its doors and hung out the plaintive sign: "There little barroom, don't you cry. You will be a drug store by and by." These two saloons have been among the four or five top notchers in the city.

Hotel Bar a Top Notcher.

The Gary hotel bar has been the synonym for courteous treatment and orderly conduct. The name of this buffet has become familiar with many of the greatest men of the country today who have patronized the place while here to see the wonders of Gary.

The proprietor, George O'Donnell, is one of the most popular men in the city and it is to be regretted that the blow should fall upon a place of this character in place of some of the hovels in the south end. The chief bartender, Charles Hanlan, is one of the best known fellows in either Chicago or Gary and his many friends will deplore the fact if he finds it necessary to leave the city.

GARY TO HAVE ITS THIRD DAILY.

Tribune Will Put Out a Daily Issue Next Monday.

The Gary Tribune, Homer J. Carr editor, will enter the ranks of the dailies Monday, when their first edition will be printed. The Tribune has been one of the pioneer weekly papers of the city, and it now feels as if the city was far enough advanced to put the third daily paper into the field. The new paper will contain eight pages. Allan McCorkle has been hired as advertising manager of the Daily Tribune.

Cultivating Joy.

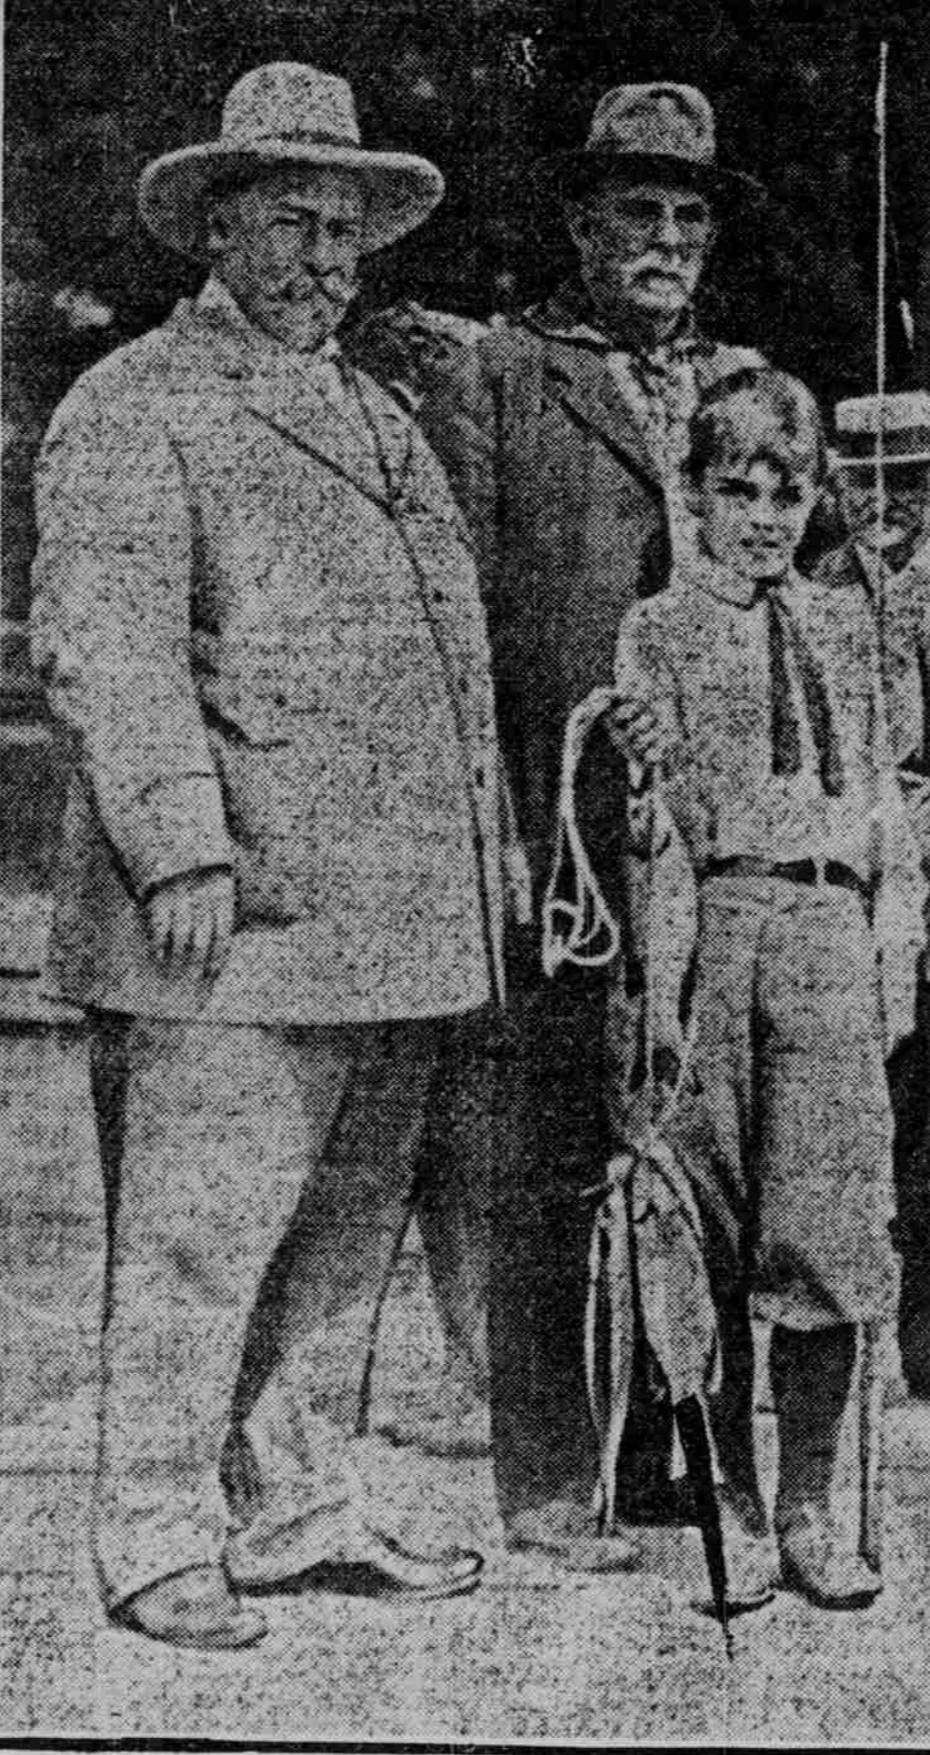

In cultivating joy as one of the fruits of the Spirit, it is well to form the habit of looking on the bright side of life. Most of us put on our spectacles only to look at life's troubles.

Humor and Health.

There is nothing like a sense of humor to keep one in good health says a medical contemporary, but I would be well had we been told at the same time how this excellent gift is to be acquired. Could anything be more tantalizing than to know how to cure oneself and yet be unable to grasp at the means?—Lady's Pictorial.

American Disregard of Wealth.

The American people are, on the whole and by average, less sordid in their pursuit of wealth and especially in the relative importance which they ascribe to wealth, than any other people on earth.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

LAST DAY'S CATCH.

ST. JOHN TO BE MECCA NEW CLUB IS STARTED

Spring Hill Grove There Scene of Harvest Home Picnic.

Special to THE TIMES.

St. John, Ind., Sept. 3.—St. John will be a Mecca for pleasure-loving people of Lake county on Labor day. Spring Hill grove will be the scene of one of the best picnics of the year and preparations are being made by the management to accommodate an enormous crowd.

Hundreds of people are expected from the north end of the county, and in order to accommodate them the picnic will open at 10 o'clock in the morning. There being no other picnic of any size in the south part of the county the crowd is sure to gather at St. John.

Labor day is becoming more and more of a holiday in the rural communities. It comes at a time when the farmers are not over-busy and they will gladly lay off a half day to make a harvest home celebration.

The best music obtainable has been procured by William Koehle, the manager of the grove.

British Working Women.

Out of a total of 307,157 workers in clothing factories, in Great Britain 197,820 are women, the female tailors numbering 46,072 to 13,984 men.

MR. JOHNSON WILL START ANTI-TAFT CLUB

Colored Man at Gary, Who Was Formerly Janitor Gets Busy There.

BISHOP COMING TO MEETING

Gary Will Be the Scene of Another Interesting Affair On Labor Day.

Next Monday, the day devoted to the honor of the laboring man, there will be formed in Gary another auxiliary political club, this one to be the most novel of any in this part of the state. The latest organization, which will have its birth on Labor day, is the Colored Anti-Taft Club of Gary, an idea fostered and promoted by the colored genius and janitor, Robert Winn Johnson, editor of the Colored Press, and one of the chief boosters of Mayor Knott.

A number of distinguished colored gentlemen throughout the United States have volunteered to address the big open air gathering next Monday, among them being Bishop Alexander Waiters of Washington, D. C.; ex-Congressman Samuel Murray of South Carolina; Dr. C. H. Crest, secretary of the National Anti-Taft League; Thomas Wallace Swann, assistant to the chairman of the western division of the Anti-Taft club, and several others of importance.

The Bishop Well Known.

Bishop Waiters is well known in the east, both as a high official of the African Methodist church, and of the personal interest which he has taken in the present political campaign. Ex-Congressman Murray is one of the leading colored politicians of the south, and has been recognized as one of the best colored speakers in the country. The other speakers on the program are well known, principally in the west and the vicinity of Chicago.

The speaking will start at 3 o'clock in the afternoon in the vacant lot on the east side of Broadway, south of the Michigan Central tracks. Here, a platform is being erected for this purpose, and the speakers will have an opportunity of addressing two or three thousand people, should that many attend, without any difficulty. The full program for the day has not been arranged but the handbills which are now being printed, and will be spread broadcast, will contain the data which has been definitely decided upon up to this date.

KYRO BOUND OVER TO CRIMINAL COURT

Charged For Larceny as Bailee, and With Embezzlement.

HE IS UNDER $1,500 BOND

Takes the Witness Stand in Judge Torrison's Court and Tells of His Relations With Women.

A preliminary hearing was given Fred M. Stollar, alias Prof. Kyro, in Judge Torrison's court yesterday and he was bound over to the criminal court in the sum of $2,000 on two charges and $500 on another.

The real Mr. Stollar is well known in South Chicago, having conducted a palmist and clairvoyant "studio" at the corner of Ninety-first street and Commercial avenue, in the Thorpe building, from Nov. 1907, to May 1, 1908.

Charged With Embezzlement.

The charges preferred were one for embezzlement and one for larceny as bailee. Mrs. M. Miller, 212 Ninety-sixth street, being the complainant. He was held in the former for $1,000 bond and the latter for $500. In the Miller charges it was brought out in the testimony of the complainant and witness that Stollar was to sell a certain piece of property in Crawford, Mich., and money to the amount of $225 was given over to his use in making the transaction, which it appeared, never culminated, and as a result the property had been transferred to other parties, wherein the complainant had lost entire control of the piece of land and that the $225 had been appropriated to the use of the defendant.

The other and third charge was that of operating a confidence game, wherein the defendant, by his magnetic and spiritual influences, had caused the complainant, Mrs. Roxie Bonner, now residing at 109 One Hundred and Eleventh place, Roseland, to turn over to Stollar $295 in gold. He was held on this charge to the criminal court in $1,000 bond.

State's Attorney Underwood Present.

Assistant State's Attorney Underwood was present and conducted the case for the state. In his three minute talk he declared among other things that the community should be rid of such character, who insist in preying on the weak and defenseless fairer sex, and that the defendant's education showed he was practically with character.

T. W. Englehardt Disposes of a Large Amount of Acreage.

LOTS ARE MOVING FASTER

Henry Levy Interested in Gary and May Start New Bank at the New Steel City.

T. W. Englehardt, president of the South Broadway Land company, is a very busy man these days, having recently closed up some of the best deals that have been put through this summer, and is at the present time negotiating for a few more, which if they are put through, will make the real estate transfer list look even better than the old days, before the panic and the remonstrance.

Among the prospective buyers are on Mr. Englehardt's list none other than Henry Levy, nephew of the late packer, Nelson Morris, and at the present time one of the high chief officials of the great packing industry. Mr. Levy, together with William Thorne, chief council for the Nelson Morris company, were in Gary yesterday looking over the property with a view of establishing a bank in this city as soon as they can build. Mr. Levy said yesterday that he had practically decided to establish a bank in this city and that all that stood in the way at the present time was the securing of a suitable location. Should the Morris people decide to invest in Gary, which seems probable at the present time, it will bring into the city one of the best financiers in the west.

WILL BE WELCOME ADDITION.

Among the deals that Mr. Englehardt has already put through, is the sale of five acres of land along the Chicago road to A. B. Sczorowski, who will in turn subdivide his property and place it on the market at once. The property is one of the choicest pieces on the outskirts of the city, and is in the heart of one of the future residence districts of the city, that is proving very attractive to purchasers at the present time.

J. C. Timms, a sheep raiser of Ft. Benton, Montana, has also purchased fifty-seven feet of property on the corner of Dearborn avenue and Chicago street. He expects, in the spring, to

Many More Purchases.

Mr. Timms has already purchased several lots in South Gary, of Mr. Englehardt. Mr. Timms was in Chicago this week with a shipment of sheep from his farm in Montana.

Mr. S. A. Baechler of Carlton, Neb., has just purchased on North Broadway north of the Birge Road, 100 feet of property. Hartwell Brothers of Boise City, Idaho, have bought the corner of Broadway and Thirty-sixth street.

H. W. Frame, of Raderup, Idaho, has purchased a lot on the corner of Harrison and Dearborn, 50x100.

The above are just the sales that have been made by Mr. Englehardt in the past week, and indicate that the market is fast recovering its normal status. The real estate market may that there are more inquiries at their offices in the past few days than there has been in the last six months and that where there is so much smoke there is always some fire.

right," said Pritchard, "I will go home and with that he started towards the steps. As he reached the first step he staggered and fell headlong down to the cement sidewalk.

Mrs. R. A. Marr of 7540 Lake avenue, said she had known Pritchard for four or five years when he was employed as their coachman. She has known of him to have been intoxicated frequently.

John McCabe, a real estate man of 9155 Commercial, said Pritchard had called at his office on the morning of the accident to collect some money that he appeared to be intoxicated.

Mrs. Ella Guthrie of 742 Superior avenue, who was an eyewitness to the accident, said that she had started for an Illinois Central train to go down town when she heard children screaming.

Thinking it was her daughters she ran back and saw Sergeant Barchard talking to Pritchard. She saw the officer put his hand on his shoulder and tell him to go home. He did not push her. Several children who were also witnesses of the accident corroborated Mrs. Guthrie's statement.

Pritchard Was Intoxicated.

Pritchard was found to be intoxicated when he met his death. Evidently was shown that he has been intoxicated many times of late by people with whom he was employed.

Peter Heagy of 7514 Coles avenue, who was with Pritchard all morning up to the time of the accident, testified that he and Pritchard had taken several drinks of whisky at Parkside that morning and later at South Chicago. He said he thought he was intoxicated. A bottle of whisky was found in his pocket when a search was made of his personal effects.

The whole trouble arose on Tuesday from the fact that Pritchard was in a rebellious mood—on his return to his duties in the Jones building he saw several children playing in the hallway of the building, thinking they were the children of Sergeant Barchard. He went to his door and rang the bell. The sergeant who was asleep upstairs answered the bell and saw Pritchard on the front steps. He said that he was intoxicated and that he had come there for a row. Pritchard began to abuse the officer about having to clean up after his children.

Send Him Home.

"Go home, Jack, you're drunk," said Sergeant Barchard. "Go home and sleep it off and then come and tell me your troubles." With that he put his arm on Pritchard's shoulder and turned him towards the sidewalk in front. "All
