Day's Grist in South Chicago

DR. L. M. D. OSTROWSKI FURNISHES BOND.

South Chicago Man's Case Set For Trial This Morning.

The case of Dr. L. M. D. Ostrowski, who was arrested last Saturday, the charge of a criminal operation, was set for October 12, this morning in Judge Lantry's court.

Upon his arrest last Saturday Ostrowski furnished the necessary $2,000 bond, although he had to sit in jail for quite a time until he could locate his bondsmen.

Judge Lantry now holds court in Hyde Park and the physician's case will in all probability be tried there.

Strikes Rock in River.

The ore boat Marrow, loaded with Melrose ore for the Wisconsin Steel company, South Deering, struck a rock in the Soo river in Michigan and sunk. The boat was loaded to capacity and 7,600 tons of ore was in the hold of the boat when she went down.

The sailors and engineers all narrowly escaped death when the boat sank. All of the men employed on the boat live in South Chicago. The owners of the boat at once set to work to raise it and another boat was sent to take the ore off the ill fated Marrow and bring it to South Chicago.

Cheltenham Lose.

An unexpected game was played Sunday between the Cheltenham and the South Ends. The Monarchs, whom the Cheltenham had scheduled, failed to appear.

while the Delawareans, whom the South Ends had scheduled, could not play on account of failure to be examined by a doctor. The park rules state that no team can play on the park grounds unless each member has been examined by a doctor.

The Cheltenham are in the light-weight division, averaging 140 pounds, while the South Ends are in the middle-weight division, averaging 155 pounds. Nevertheless, the plucky Cheltenham were willing to play and surprised everybody, even themselves, by defeating the heavier boys by the score of 6 to 0.

The Maroon jerseyed boys went into the game not expecting to win, but knowing they could hold their heavier opponents to a 9 to 0 tie game.

Damaged By Fire.

The double store building at 108-110 Ninety-second street, occupied as a confectionery store by William Costello and Undertaking establishment by Charles Murphy, was damaged by fire early Sunday morning. Frisco Skimrich, a border at the place was also found to be very sick with the same disease. The South Chicago ambulance was sent to Hegewisch and they were taken to the county hospital.

When officers arrived at the Militesch home they found a pitiful scene. The mother who has been sick for the past two weeks was in a raging fever with her baby at her side. The little one was more dead than alive from cold and exposure. Frisco Skimrich, the boarder, was also found in another room in an unconscious condition. They were discovered this morning by neighbors who called at the house.

AFFECTED BY DECISION

South Chicago High School Has Forty Sorority Girls.

The Chicago high school fraternities met a crushing defeat in the circuit court Saturday. After listening to the arguments of counsel in the suit of Edward McDonald for reinstatement in the Hyde Park high school, Judge Windes delivered an oral opinion late in the afternoon which upholds the board of education completely in its rule of barring members of secret societies from the public school system.

As there are no fraternities at the South Chicago high school, the only secret body that will come under Judge Windes' decision is a local girls' sorority to which forty girls of the South Chicago high school belong. It is thought they will quietly abide by the decision of the court, although several members of the sorority have been wearing their sorority pins in open defiance to the ruling of the board of education.

BRINGS REMAINS HOME

Conrad Hermstrom Dies in Chicago Hospital on Saturday.

Indiana Harbor, Ind., Oct. 5.—Mortician E. J. Teal yesterday brought the remains of Conrad Hermstrom, of Indiana Harbor, from the Swedish Covenant hospital in Chicago to his home on Pennsylvania avenue, from which place interment will be made tomorrow afternoon. Hermstrom, it will be remembered by many, was injured while working at the local plant of the Standard Forgings company early last spring. Severe crushing injuries to his right leg resulted and he was removed to St. Margaret's hospital in Hammond. Here the leg was amputated and apparently was doing nicely when Hermstrom was taken home.

The leg failed to heal properly and he was removed to the Swedish hospital in Chicago several weeks ago, where his death resulted late Friday evening. Evangelist J. E. Birch of the Wilmona assembly, while conducting revival services at the church last night, asked the ladies to take off their Merry Widow hats and "give their brains air."

"You won't mind," said the revivalist, "you ladies have lots of nice hair on your heads and—other things."

Mr. Birch gave the milliners a shot and said that they must be becoming millionaires, according to the size of the hats they made. The revivalist's remarks caused a decided sensation.

"I want you to correct the reports that have been started," said Mr. Felscher. "I am running just as well as the democratic and republican candidates. They will find that I am on the ticket to stick."
