

FROM NEIGHBORING TOWN AND CITY

CROWN POINT NEWS

Crown Point Resents It.

"We don't think Hammond citizens should stand for the attempt to disparage and belittle the splendid show and efforts made by the Center township republican club last Saturday night at the Watson rally in Hammond, as appeared in the writeup of the affair in the democratic sheet printed there," said a Crown Point citizen last evening when reading the following paragraph from that paper: "The first disappointment was in the size of the Crown Point crowd. Although the incoming train was met with the blaze of band music, a solitary few voters stepped down to shake hands with the whitecapped reception committee."

"I know Hammond and its citizens well, and independent of politics they will resent the slur on the hospitality of the town. The Crown Point delegation was congratulated repeatedly for its efforts and showing, and of all the biased and maliciously false articles ever written I think that one takes the biscuit."

Certainly Center township is worked up over the article, not from any harm that can come from it, but on account of the attempted effort to belittle their efforts and the 250 to 300 voters that went to Hammond on Saturday on the several trains and marched in the parade will have plenty of occasion to resent the insinuations in question."

Town Board Meets.

The town board will meet for their regular session last evening, but no important business was transacted beyond the paying of bills and their regular routine of business. Contrary to the usual custom of the last few meetings the board had no ordinances to pass or wrestle with. George V. Sherman was absent on account of sickness, and the other members adjourned at an early hour.

East Chicago Man Weds.

As was prophesied in these columns last week, Cal Moon, the East Chicago contractor, will know here, and Miss Rose Wachter, of this place applied for a license to marry at the county clerk's office. No reports of their marriage was given out last evening, but as the couple have all the necessary papers it is supposed that they stole quietly away and had the sermon performed. Their many friends join in congratulations and best wishes for a long and happy married life.

WHITING NEWS

Sermons For Children.

Rev. M. C. Wright of the M. E. church entered upon a new departure Sunday by giving an introductory service and five minute service to the children at 10:50 a. m. Rev. Wright was much pleased with the venture of last Sunday as the children seemed much interested in the talk, and it will be continued every Sunday. In the evening Rev. Wright preached on "The Children Saved From Sodom, or Peril of the Boys and Girls in Whiting." This proved to be an excellent piece of advice to parents, and among the many points discussed was that of young girls being out at nights and of young boys playing slot machines.

Suffers Paralytic Stroke.

Mrs. Charles Quinn of One Hundred and Nineteenth street suffered a stroke of paralysis, which rendered her speechless for a day and a half. At the present writing Mrs. Quinn is again able to utter a few words and it is thought that she will soon recover.

The stroke is thought to have been brought about by worry which was caused by the large amount of sickness to the different members of the family.

Will Hold Banquet.

The Whiting Croatian Republican club is making elaborate preparations for a campaign closing banquet which will be held at Mettler's hall, Saturday evening, Oct. 24.
