POLICE AND BURGLARS IN A REVOLVER FIGHT

One Falls in His Own Tracks and Is Taken to Hospital.

ANOTHER MAKES HIS ESCAPE

Authorities Are Now Questioning Physicians to Learn Who Dressed Wounds of an Injured Man.

Two alleged burglars were shot and one of them captured by Patrolman Thomas Hickey of the South Englewood station in a revolver duel at One Hundred and Third street and the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad tracks yesterday afternoon.

George Howard, 27 years old, alias Frank Ryan, and said by the police to be a foreign convict, fell in the duel and was taken to St. Bernard's hospital, after his companion, who had also been wounded, and escaped in a maze of freight cars.

Physicians and druggists are being questioned in an effort to locate the wounded man.

According to the police, Howard made a confession, after he had been attended by the physicians at the hospital admitting that he and his companion, who escaped, had robbed the clothing store of Alexander Skimming in Morgan Park. Howard confessed, the police say, that he and his companion stole about $300 worth of clothing from the store and after disposing of it came to Chicago.

RIVALS JEST AT THE BANQUET

Big Affair at Chicago Is Attended By Many Thousands Last Evening.

W. H. Taft and W. J. Bryan shook hands, smiled, broke bread and made felicitous speeches at the banquet of the Chicago Association of Commerce at the Auditorium hotel last night, thoroughly vindicating the determination of that organization to bring the two leading presidential candidates together at a nonpartisan meeting in the midst of a sizzling political campaign. True to the traditions of its foundation, the members of the association and their invited guests threw partisanship to the winds, cheered heartily the sentiments expressed by both orators and laughed with them at their discomfiture in having to confine themselves to platitudes when platforms were more to their liking. As Mr. Taft said to Mr. Bryan: "This is cruelty to animals."

Applause as Candidates Meet.
While Mr. Bryan sat with the association at the banquet table from early evening, Mr. Taft, by reason of his trip to Galesburg, was two hours late in arriving. The meeting of the two men was a signal for a spontaneous outburst of applause which exceeded in volume and power any other outburst of the evening. Likewise when it was seen that the candidates were talking to each other over the head of President Richard C. Hall, who, as toastmaster, maintained a suave political neutrality, there was another big round of applause.

One of the features of the occasion was the demand upon both candidates for autographs on the printed souvenirs of the occasion.

Each Praised the Other.
Mr. Bryan kept the banqueters in an uproar for five minutes with his pleasantries, in which Mr. Taft, politics and his own experiences figured as topics of exploitation. Mr. Bryan paid a tribute to his opponent which was applauded to the echo. Turning to the banqueters he dwelt at some length on commerce and drew a striking picture of the differences between "a God-made man" and "a soulless corporation." Mr. Bryan declared that the issues of the campaign were only surface manifestations of the universal and more important problem of adjusting the rewards of labor.

Mr. Taft concluded the speechmaking with an arraignment of the present judicial system of the United States, which permitted undue delays in the administration of justice and made that administration expensive and which, by reason of these and other faults, appeared to discriminate against those who could ill afford either time or money in prosecuting a litigation. Mr. Taft not only pointed out what he believed to be the faults of the present court system, but suggested cures for the evils which he believes exist. He urged business men in joining to impress on state legislatures and on congress reforms in administration of the courts. Before proceeding on his set speech, Mr. Taft recapitulated the cordial expressions of Mr. Bryan and the personal laudation bestowed upon him by his opponent.

COCKRAN ON TAFT.

There is a remarkable unanimity of opinion of Judge Taft in all parties and in all sections. Men pay tribute to his remarkable ability even where party politics may exert such an influence as to demand the exposure of the rival presidential candidate's cause. As an illustration W. Bourke Cockran in an interview at Boston the other day said:

"Yes, I shall support Bryan; he is the best candidate the democrats could put up. Taft, however, in the greatest and best qualified nominee ever offered in any republic in the world. He is a greater man than Roosevelt, and when surrounded by the same environments that made Roosevelt great will prove a bigger man. Taft is a wonderful administrator, the greatest the country has ever seen, and is a wonderful worker."

Charity Begins at Home.

In regard to the duties of the clubwoman to her own family a writer in a current periodical says: "The husband and home have the first claim on a wife's individual attention, it being a consideration of the proper meeting of domestic demands that she receives her board, lodging and such other emoluments as are her portion. For, apart from sentimental considerations, marriage is a business arrangement on a cash basis, and a woman is no more justified in delegating her obligations to a hireling, who can not possibly be a qualified substitute, than she would be in undertaking a commercial position on a salary and then turning over a part of her important work to the office boy while collecting the pay for full service."
