

SPORTING NOTES

CALENDAR OF SPORTS.

MAKE IT TWO NOW

MONDAY.
Georgetown - Ernest Barrie scull match on the Thames for the British championship.
Meeting of the National League of American Sportsmen
at Lawton, Okla.
Opening of Washington horse show and race meeting at Benning.
Opening of Northwest Racing association meeting at Lewiston, Id.
WEDNESDAY.
Princeton-Villanova football contest at Princeton, N. J.
Mississippi-Louisiana football contest at Baton Rouge.
THURSDAY.
Bill Papke vs. Hugo Kelly, ten rounds, at Milwaukee.
FRIDAY.
Battling Johnson vs. Jim
Flynn, twenty-five rounds, at Bakersfield, Cal.
SATURDAY.
East vs. West Women's golf match at the Chevy Chase club,
Washington, D. C.
Yale - West Point football game at West Point.
Harvard-Springfield T. S. football game at Cambridge.
Pennsylvania-Brown football game at Philadelphia.
Princeton - Swarthmore football game at Princeton.
Navy-Lehigh football game at Annapolis.
Nebraska-Minnesota football game at Minneapolis.
Wisconsin - Indiana football
at Bloomington.
Chicago-Illinois football game
at Chicago.
Iowa-Missouri football game
at Columbia.
Kansas - Oklahoma football game at Columbia.
Tennessee-Kentucky football game at Knoxville.
Vanderbilt - Clemson football game at Nashville.
Georgia-South Carolina football game at Athens.
Louisville-Texas A. & M. football game at New Orleans.

SUMMARY OF SATURDAY SPORT.

Baseball.
The Chicago Cubs defeated the Detroit baseball team in the opening game, 10 to 6, after the tigers seemed to have the match won.

Vast throngs stood in line to get tickets for the ball games in this city, only to find that the seating capacity of the park had been sold.

Football.

Maroons defeated Indiana, but had their goal line crossed, the score being 29 to 6.

Coch Yost's men received a surprise when the Michigan Agricultural college team kept his eleven from scoring.

Lafayette held Princeton to an even score, 0 to 0. Yale beat Holy Cross, 18 to 0. Harvard defeated Williams, 10 to 0.

Turf.

Delirium, from Harry Payne Whiting's stable, equalled the track record for six furlongs at Belmont park.

John O'Hern won four cups at the Austin driving meet with two of his horses.

Three new records were set at Douglas park races.

Boxing.

Hugo Kelly was unable to make arrangements for another bout with Billy Papke.

Johnny Coulon signed to meet two men the same night in New York.

"JIGGS'" SOX WIN.

"Jiggs'" Donohue's edition of the white sox team defeated the Gunthers by the score of 4 to 3, at Gunther park, yesterday, before a crowd of almost world's series size, the north side fans ringing the entire field several deep. A rally in the sixth inning with the candy-makers were in the lead with a run that looked as big as a house, cost Nielsen's men the victory.

NO MORE GLOOM AT ANN ARBOR.

MICHIGAN STUDENTS NOT DOWNCAST OVER RESULT OF M. A. C. GAME.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 11.—When the 0-to-0 score was flashed into Ann Arbor last night from the Michigan Agricultural college, thousands of students could not, or refused to believe it. Michigan, for years the school that had only been satisfied with an overwhelming majority, had been virtually whipped by a state college. This feeling lasted until detailed reports were read this morning. Now the gloomy atmosphere has been nearly blown away.

"They clearly outplayed us," said Trainer Fitzpatrick, "and if they had had a better punter we should have been whipped." Allardice outkicked their man about thirty yards on each exchange, and this fact, together with the failure in the six attempts at the goal from the field, tells why M. A. C. did not score. Our line was a sieve on the left wing, and they went through it at will. The strong back field could not get away with the formations, and all of the new style of play was broken up.

Yost has not yet returned from Lansing, but it is known that there will not be a wholesale shaking of the squad for the Notre Dame game. The reason is that he now has all of the available material with the exception of Captain Schulz, Casey and Davison.

SHAKEUP NOW RESULTS.

"Big eight" football resolved itself into more definite lines as the result of Saturday's games, and the coaches will start the fourth week of the training season today with Chicago and Wisconsin tagged as the leaders. The badgers made a favorable entry into the 1908 field in their 25 to 0 defeat

ROBERT WARTENA

HURT IN GAME

Former Hammond Boy Suffers Dislocated Shoulder at East Chicago.

LIVINGSTON IS ALSO HURT

Chicago-East Chicago Football Game Is Productive of Second Accidents.

[Special to THE TIMES]

East Chicago, Ind., Oct. 12.—Two Hammond boys were hurt in a football game here yesterday. East Chicago played a fast game of football yesterday afternoon at Sawmill park, when they defeated the Oxford A. C. of Chicago organization, by a score of 2 to 0.

The score was made on a safety and was safely covered by the omnipresent ever-efficient East Chicago full-back, Pat McShane, who has proven himself hero in more than one local gridiron battle.

For when the Tigers fell in game No. 2 their great pitcher, "Wild Bill" Donovan—the man who carried all Michigan's hopes—went down in the crash, badly beaten and likely to rise no more in the series.

About all the satisfaction Detroit fans go out of the game was to see their star hitter, Cobb, drive in the losers' lone tally in the ninth inning.

"Wild Bill" was in his glory for seven innings. More than 1,000 Detroit roosters, who had followed the team from the City of Straits to see Donovan mow down the Cubs, found extreme delight in his bewildering speed and unhittable curves as long as they accomplished their purpose of humbling the Chicago standard-bearers.

Two straight for the Cubs!

Will even one smile adorn the face of the Tigers during this struggle for the world's baseball championship?

Can Chance's sparkling team rush unchecked to that rich prize with four straight victories as they did last year?

From the manner in which they swept the Tigers off their feet in a 6 to 1 skirmish yesterday at the West Side park it looks as though four tiger pelt would adorn the den of the National league champions at the end of the fourth contest.

For when the Tigers fell in game No. 2 their great pitcher, "Wild Bill" Donovan—the man who carried all Michigan's hopes—went down in the crash, badly beaten and likely to rise no more in the series.

About all the satisfaction Detroit fans go out of the game was to see their star hitter, Cobb, drive in the losers' lone tally in the ninth inning.

"Wild Bill" was in his glory for seven innings. More than 1,000 Detroit roosters, who had followed the team from the City of Straits to see Donovan mow down the Cubs, found extreme delight in his bewildering speed and unhittable curves as long as they accomplished their purpose of humbling the Chicago standard-bearers.

Two straight for the Cubs!

Will even one smile adorn the face of the Tigers during this struggle for the world's baseball championship?

Can Chance's sparkling team rush unchecked to that rich prize with four straight victories as they did last year?

From the manner in which they swept the Tigers off their feet in a 6 to 1 skirmish yesterday at the West Side park it looks as though four tiger pelt would adorn the den of the National league champions at the end of the fourth contest.

For when the Tigers fell in game No. 2 their great pitcher, "Wild Bill" Donovan—the man who carried all Michigan's hopes—went down in the crash, badly beaten and likely to rise no more in the series.

About all the satisfaction Detroit fans go out of the game was to see their star hitter, Cobb, drive in the losers' lone tally in the ninth inning.

"Wild Bill" was in his glory for seven innings. More than 1,000 Detroit roosters, who had followed the team from the City of Straits to see Donovan mow down the Cubs, found extreme delight in his bewildering speed and unhittable curves as long as they accomplished their purpose of humbling the Chicago standard-bearers.

Two straight for the Cubs!

Will even one smile adorn the face of the Tigers during this struggle for the world's baseball championship?

Can Chance's sparkling team rush unchecked to that rich prize with four straight victories as they did last year?

From the manner in which they swept the Tigers off their feet in a 6 to 1 skirmish yesterday at the West Side park it looks as though four tiger pelt would adorn the den of the National league champions at the end of the fourth contest.

For when the Tigers fell in game No. 2 their great pitcher, "Wild Bill" Donovan—the man who carried all Michigan's hopes—went down in the crash, badly beaten and likely to rise no more in the series.

About all the satisfaction Detroit fans go out of the game was to see their star hitter, Cobb, drive in the losers' lone tally in the ninth inning.

"Wild Bill" was in his glory for seven innings. More than 1,000 Detroit roosters, who had followed the team from the City of Straits to see Donovan mow down the Cubs, found extreme delight in his bewildering speed and unhittable curves as long as they accomplished their purpose of humbling the Chicago standard-bearers.

Two straight for the Cubs!

Will even one smile adorn the face of the Tigers during this struggle for the world's baseball championship?

Can Chance's sparkling team rush unchecked to that rich prize with four straight victories as they did last year?

From the manner in which they swept the Tigers off their feet in a 6 to 1 skirmish yesterday at the West Side park it looks as though four tiger pelt would adorn the den of the National league champions at the end of the fourth contest.

For when the Tigers fell in game No. 2 their great pitcher, "Wild Bill" Donovan—the man who carried all Michigan's hopes—went down in the crash, badly beaten and likely to rise no more in the series.

About all the satisfaction Detroit fans go out of the game was to see their star hitter, Cobb, drive in the losers' lone tally in the ninth inning.

"Wild Bill" was in his glory for seven innings. More than 1,000 Detroit roosters, who had followed the team from the City of Straits to see Donovan mow down the Cubs, found extreme delight in his bewildering speed and unhittable curves as long as they accomplished their purpose of humbling the Chicago standard-bearers.

Two straight for the Cubs!

Will even one smile adorn the face of the Tigers during this struggle for the world's baseball championship?

Can Chance's sparkling team rush unchecked to that rich prize with four straight victories as they did last year?

From the manner in which they swept the Tigers off their feet in a 6 to 1 skirmish yesterday at the West Side park it looks as though four tiger pelt would adorn the den of the National league champions at the end of the fourth contest.

For when the Tigers fell in game No. 2 their great pitcher, "Wild Bill" Donovan—the man who carried all Michigan's hopes—went down in the crash, badly beaten and likely to rise no more in the series.

About all the satisfaction Detroit fans go out of the game was to see their star hitter, Cobb, drive in the losers' lone tally in the ninth inning.

"Wild Bill" was in his glory for seven innings. More than 1,000 Detroit roosters, who had followed the team from the City of Straits to see Donovan mow down the Cubs, found extreme delight in his bewildering speed and unhittable curves as long as they accomplished their purpose of humbling the Chicago standard-bearers.

Two straight for the Cubs!

Will even one smile adorn the face of the Tigers during this struggle for the world's baseball championship?

Can Chance's sparkling team rush unchecked to that rich prize with four straight victories as they did last year?

From the manner in which they swept the Tigers off their feet in a 6 to 1 skirmish yesterday at the West Side park it looks as though four tiger pelt would adorn the den of the National league champions at the end of the fourth contest.

For when the Tigers fell in game No. 2 their great pitcher, "Wild Bill" Donovan—the man who carried all Michigan's hopes—went down in the crash, badly beaten and likely to rise no more in the series.

About all the satisfaction Detroit fans go out of the game was to see their star hitter, Cobb, drive in the losers' lone tally in the ninth inning.

"Wild Bill" was in his glory for seven innings. More than 1,000 Detroit roosters, who had followed the team from the City of Straits to see Donovan mow down the Cubs, found extreme delight in his bewildering speed and unhittable curves as long as they accomplished their purpose of humbling the Chicago standard-bearers.

Two straight for the Cubs!

Will even one smile adorn the face of the Tigers during this struggle for the world's baseball championship?

Can Chance's sparkling team rush unchecked to that rich prize with four straight victories as they did last year?

From the manner in which they swept the Tigers off their feet in a 6 to 1 skirmish yesterday at the West Side park it looks as though four tiger pelt would adorn the den of the National league champions at the end of the fourth contest.

For when the Tigers fell in game No. 2 their great pitcher, "Wild Bill" Donovan—the man who carried all Michigan's hopes—went down in the crash, badly beaten and likely to rise no more in the series.

About all the satisfaction Detroit fans go out of the game was to see their star hitter, Cobb, drive in the losers' lone tally in the ninth inning.

"Wild Bill" was in his glory for seven innings. More than 1,000 Detroit roosters, who had followed the team from the City of Straits to see Donovan mow down the Cubs, found extreme delight in his bewildering speed and unhittable curves as long as they accomplished their purpose of humbling the Chicago standard-bearers.

Two straight for the Cubs!

Will even one smile adorn the face of the Tigers during this struggle for the world's baseball championship?

Can Chance's sparkling team rush unchecked to that rich prize with four straight victories as they did last year?

From the manner in which they swept the Tigers off their feet in a 6 to 1 skirmish yesterday at the West Side park it looks as though four tiger pelt would adorn the den of the National league champions at the end of the fourth contest.

For when the Tigers fell in game No. 2 their great pitcher, "Wild Bill" Donovan—the man who carried all Michigan's hopes—went down in the crash, badly beaten and likely to rise no more in the series.

About all the satisfaction Detroit fans go out of the game was to see their star hitter, Cobb, drive in the losers' lone tally in the ninth inning.

"Wild Bill" was in his glory for seven innings. More than 1,000 Detroit roosters, who had followed the team from the City of Straits to see Donovan mow down the Cubs, found extreme delight in his bewildering speed and unhittable curves as long as they accomplished their purpose of humbling the Chicago standard-bearers.

Two straight for the Cubs!

Will even one smile adorn the face of the Tigers during this struggle for the world's baseball championship?

Can Chance's sparkling team rush unchecked to that rich prize with four straight victories as they did last year?

From the manner in which they swept the Tigers off their feet in a 6 to 1 skirmish yesterday at the West Side park it looks as though four tiger pelt would adorn the den of the National league champions at the end of the fourth contest.

For when the Tigers fell in game No. 2 their great pitcher, "Wild Bill" Donovan—the man who carried all Michigan's hopes—went down in the crash, badly beaten and likely to rise no more in the series.

About all the satisfaction Detroit fans go out of the game was to see their star hitter, Cobb, drive in the losers' lone tally in the ninth inning.

"Wild Bill" was in his glory for seven innings. More than 1,000 Detroit roosters, who had followed the team from the City of Straits to see Donovan mow down the Cubs, found extreme delight in his bewildering speed and unhittable curves as long as they accomplished their purpose of humbling the Chicago standard-bearers.

Two straight for the Cubs!

Will even one smile adorn the face of the Tigers during this struggle for the world's baseball championship?

Can Chance's sparkling team rush unchecked to that rich prize with four straight victories as they did last year?

From the manner in which they swept the Tigers off their feet in a 6 to 1 skirmish yesterday at the West Side park it looks as though four tiger pelt would adorn the den of the National league champions at the end of the fourth contest.

For when the Tigers fell in game No. 2 their great pitcher, "Wild Bill" Donovan—the man who carried all Michigan's hopes—went down in the crash, badly beaten and likely to rise no more in the series.

About all the satisfaction Detroit fans go out of the game was to see their star hitter, Cobb, drive in the losers' lone tally in the ninth inning.

"Wild Bill" was in his glory for seven innings. More than 1,000 Detroit roosters, who had followed the team from the City of Straits to see Donovan mow down the Cubs, found extreme delight in his bewildering speed and unhittable curves as long as they accomplished their purpose of humbling the Chicago standard-bearers.

Two straight for the Cubs!

Will even one smile adorn the face of the Tigers during this struggle for the world's baseball championship?

Can Chance's sparkling team rush unchecked to that rich prize with four straight victories as they did last year?