COMMUNICATIONS.

THE TIMES will print all communications on subjects of general interest to the people, when such communications are signed by the writer, but will not accept all communications not signed, no matter what their merits. This precaution is taken to avoid misrepresentation.

THE TIMES is published in the best interest of the people, and its utterances always intended to promote the general welfare of the public at large.

WHAT MARSHALL SAID IN CRAWFORDSVILLE.

IS THOMAS MARSHALL THE Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde of Indiana politics? The people of Lake county, both republicans and democrats, have a right to ask that question in view of the remarks which Mr. Marshall made at Crawfordsville last Wednesday.

The Crawfordsville Journal in a half page display asked Mr. Marshall the following question when he came to that city. "Could you, as a trustee of Wabash college, ask the people of Montgomery county to endorse you and your plans, which will keep the college, the city and the county under the blight of brewery saloons?"

Another question which Mr. Marshall was asked, was: "How can you ask the parents of these boys, for whose welfare you are in a degree responsible, to support you and your program of leaving the saloons in the third ward? (Notorious as a red light district)."

Now Mr. Marshall is crafty. It was an occasion for him to be a Mr. Hyde. He saw that if he appeared in his true or Jekyll role it would cost him many votes.

Now the democrats of Hammond, Whiting, East Chicago, Indiana Harbor and Gary have gone to the saloonkeepers and whispered, "Sh-sh-sh! Marshall's all right. He's backed by the breweries. No more blue laws for us."

Let every person in Lake county, whether he be liberal or for local option, read Mr. Marshall's answer and ponder over it. "Wabash college is not in the campaign."

But that was not a satisfactory answer to the people of that wealthy farming community, so he went a little farther. The farther he went the deeper he became imbedded in the quicksands of his own flimsy vote-getting convictions. Now mark you well.

"Temperance," said Mr. Marshall, "is no longer an issue because of the enactment of the county local option law by the special session of the legislature, which," he declared with pride, "was done with democratic assistance."

While the democrats and the saloonkeepers of this district are urging their friends to vote for Mr. Marshall, on the ground that he is friendly to their business, Mr. Marshall is going around in the southern part of the state, where he knows the sentiment against the saloon is strong, and he is saying: "The saloon is no longer an issue and the democrats assisted in passing the county local option law."

In other words Mr. Marshall is the smooth, cultured, patron of education, the Mr. Hyde, in Crawfordsville, but he is another person, the man who, according to his friends, will wink at the saloons when he gets into Hammond and becomes Dr. Jekyll.

Fortunately, on account of the fact that we have daily papers which follow these men, we are able to keep track of them. Mr. Marshall is silly to attempt to fool with the people of this community. He can't flirt with temperance in Crawfordsville and then come up to Hammond and make love to the saloons.

Mr. Marshall owes it to the people of Hammond and Lake county when he comes here to announce from the platform whether he is appearing as Dr. Jekyll or Mr. Hyde.

THE TIMES AS AN ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

THE ATTENTION OF THE THOUSANDS of Times readers is called to the advertising carried in this issue of The Times. It is the highwater mark for any paper in this part of Indiana. It beats all records even for The Times, which thereby beats its own records. Owing to the fact that no endeavor was made to place it until this morning, The Times advertising department was compelled to regretfully decline 140 more inches of advertising for this issue. The wide circulation of The Times and the quality of its circulation have caused a steady growth in its advertising patronage and demonstrated its value as an advertising medium. While its advertising rates are much lower than its circulation demands, as may be proven by inquiry of newspaper directory publishers, they are much higher than those of other newspapers published in the Calumet region, but merchants using The Times' columns have discovered that they bring results not obtained elsewhere.

A RADICAL MAY BECOME A TYRANT.

BECAUSE MR. BRYAN is good doesn't mean that he would make the right kind of a president. The will to do good and to be good is important, but it rests back on the fundamental question. What is the good? A man be so constituted to make a fine man, but a mighty poor chief executive. John Brown and Wendell Phillips were both good men, but what kind of presidents would they have made. The radical out of power becomes the tyrant in power as was illustrated by Savonarola in Florence. He had as much sincerity as Bryan and a breadth of ability and a practical knowledge that Bryan has never shown. A presidential candidate, Mr. Bryan, needs wisdom as well as goodness. Mr. Taft has both.

THE REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET IS A GOOD ONE.

NOT A WORD HAS BEEN uttered against a candidate on the republican county ticket, save the effort made by a democratic organ to blacken a man's character by dragging his family into politics. This will, as it always does, make him votes however. As far as capability, capacity for doing things, for being men of their word; men tried in experience; men who can point to what they have done with pride, the republican county candidates cannot be equalled. There is no reason why a republican should not vote for them. There is no reason why a democrat should not vote for them. There are democrats who will vote for them. They are satisfied with the way the county's business is being conducted. There has been nothing slothful about their administrations. They are justified in asking for your support.

THE GENTLEMEN who met in Hammond yesterday from different parts of the Calumet region to discuss the sewage problem, will have the support of the people therein who hope that they will agree on a plan of action whereby the question of sanitation can be acted upon soon.

Heart to Heart Talks.

THE JUDGE AND THE WOMAN.
Woman, there is no help for you. If you can't do better you would better jump into the lake. And all of your kind had better follow your example. Judge Goings of Chicago to Mrs. Bertha Lazelle, a Fallen Woman.

Instinctively one turns to the account in the New Testament of "the woman taken in adultery," the man, as usual, escaping arrest. The Master looked at the men who had taken the woman and said, "Let him that is without sin cast the first stone." One by one these men slunk away from his presence. "Does no man condemn thee? Neither do I. Go and sin no more."

How hateful must sin have appeared to that Jewish woman after she had heard that voice!

Now—Of course this Chicago woman was a sinner. There can be no excuse for her bad life. And yet—who knows? It may be some "respectable" citizen who walks the streets of Chicago gave her the first impulse toward the broad road of ruin.

Moreover—Would it shock you were I to say—THIS WOMAN WAS JUDGE GOINGS'S SISTER?

Yes, he is her brother. Kipling tells us that Julia O'Grady and the colonel's lady are sisters under their skin. And it is so. Humanity is kin. And men and women are brothers and sisters. It would better have been this unjust judge to have defended this woman, against whom society seems leagued; to have helped her, to have spoken words of hope and sympathy.

But instead—He sent her weeping and wringing her hands to prison. Instead of helping her HE FINED HER FIVE TIMES THE USUAL SUM OF BLOOD MONEY. And when her tears are dried—

When she thinks of the hard words of the unjust judge, her heart will harden, and she may follow his advice and go over the verge, more sinned against than sinning.

Man, whoever you are—Be careful lest you help to thrust some weak and suffering sister down into the depths where there is no hope or rescue.

And as for this haughty judge, so is eternal justice that—

In the day of the great assembly it may be more tolerable for the poor Chicago woman than for him who cruelly condemned her.

THIS IS MY 50TH BIRTHDAY.

Samuel T. Dutton, distinguished as an educator and as a worker in the movement for peace and international arbitration, was born in Hillsboro, N. H., October 14, 1849. He received his education at the New London academy and at Yale university, graduating from the last named institution in 1873. During his earlier career as an educator he filled the positions of school superintendent in New Haven, Conn., and Brookline, Mass. He was also a lecturer in pedagogy at Harvard university, the University of Chicago and at Boston university. Since 1898 he has been professor of school administration in the Teachers' College of Columbia university. Dr. Dutton is secretary of the Peace Society of the City of New York and a former chairman of the executive committee of the National Arbitration and Peace Congress. He is the author of a number of works, dealing principally with the subject of school management, and he has been honored with membership in the leading educational and scientific societies of America.

For President

WILLIAM H. TAFT

"He is as strong as he is gentle. His reputation is simply spotless. In all the agitation of a heated campaign for the greatest office in the world, no one has ventured to intimate a doubt of the absolute honesty of this man who has been before the country for a quarter of a century. Nor can any one successfully dispute the simple proposition that in the whole history of the United States no one was ever named for the presidency who was so fitted by nature, by training and by experience for the duties, dignities and responsibilities of that unique office—CHARLES HOPKINS, in 'The Independent.'"

For V-President

JAMES S. SHERMAN

"We certify to all the great electorate that when their votes in November shall have chosen James S. Sherman to be vice president of the United States, the senate will be sure of a presiding officer in character and competency worthy of the best traditions of that great deliberative body, and that which forbids—and contingency were to come which should for a fourth time call a vice president from New York to the executive office, the interests of the whole country would be safe in good hands, and the great office of the presidency would suffer no degradation from the high standard of dignity and honor and competency of which we are so justly proud."—ELIHU ROOT, at Sherman Notification Ceremonies.

UP AND DOWN IN INDIANA

GAS WELL ALIVE.
A gas well in the Majestic Spring park at Ellettsville, abandoned for several years, has returned to life. Today it showed ninety pounds pressure.

ROBBERED IN A SALOON.
Morton Conner of Rushville, Ind., reported to the police that he was robbed of $28.50 Wednesday evening in a saloon on South Capitol avenue, Indianapolis. He said that he went into the saloon with that much money, but that when he came out he did not have a cent.

REVIVAL CHANGED TO RALLY.
A revival meeting is being held at the Rock Creek Methodist church in Columbus, and Tuesday night the preacher dismissed the meeting that all might come to this city to hear James E. Watson.

DEMOCRATS INDORSE SOCIALIST.
The German Alliance of Peru, which consists of more than 300 democrats who are members of the Marshall club, has endorsed Robert Duderstadt, the socialist nominee for representative from Miami county. The action of the alliance is due to Burton Green, democratic nominee for re-election as representative, voting for county option at the extra session of the legislature.

GRIFFITHS PLUNGES IN.
John L. Griffiths, formerly of Indianapolis and now United States consul at Liverpool, England, came back to Indiana yesterday to aid in the republican campaign. No speaker in Indiana is more highly regarded.

MANUFACTURERS GET LETTERS.
Letters were mailed Wednesday to the members of the Manufacturers' Bureau of Indiana, calling attention to the importance to manufacturers of the outcome of the election. The letters are signed by Winfield T. Durbin, president of the bureau, and were authorized by the executive committee.

NEAL REFUSES K. O. P.'S.

MOST OF THE MEN WHO ARE NOW DOING TIME BEHIND THE BARS THOUGHT AT ONE TIME THEY WERE VERY CLEVER.

What befell at Concordia. That certainly was a mixed up affair at Concordia. While at Camp Tomorrow, or rather yesterday, Miss Wrong, a Blade reporter, and Ralph Fell had quite an experience. The boat tipped and to say that Ralph fell is wrong. For it was Miss Wrong who fell and Fell who saved her. He was right in saving Wrong, and when she fell it was Fell who saved her. All this happened at Camp Tomorrow, and it happened at camp yesterday.—Salina (Kan.) Union.

Pride may be a vain thing. So, for that matter, is the back of a chair, but each has its uses.

MONON CONTINUES IMPROVEMENTS.
The Monon, despite the hard times, has not ceased to push its improvements to completion. On the southern end of the line it has put in five new steel girders over important streams which in years past have given the road more or less trouble. Many miles of ballasting has been done and the laying of the entire main line with new steel completed, and its trains run safely over it at a high speed.

HANLY CANCELS DATES.
Governor Hanly has canceled all of his lecture and speaking engagements for this month and will remain in Indiana to give all of his available time to the republican campaign. The governor was to have spoken in Pennsylvania and at points in other states.

VETERAN MURDERS A VETERAN.
William Dreisman of Marion, 62 years old, a civil war veteran, must spend the remainder of his life in prison for having murdered George W. Reep, another soldier. After deliberating six hours this evening the jury found Dreisman guilty of second degree murder.

FOREST FIRES DESTRUCTIVE.
Wabash is clouded with smoke from the forest fires of the north and west today. Fifty acres on the Ambrose Klinger farm, just south of the city, are being swept by flames, and several residences are in danger.

MRS. TAFT REMEMBERS GIRLS.
Mrs. W. H. Taft, wife of the republican presidential nominee, has remembered the working girls of Evansville by sending a handsome hand-made handkerchief to be auctioned at the bazaar of the Working Girls' Auxiliary Nov. 11, 12 and 13.

IN POLITICS
Richard Schaaf Sr., candidate for county commissioner, is doing some good work over the county, for the republican county ticket. He is making speeches in German and the farmers in the Hanover township prairies who heard him the other night say that he made a big hit with them.

Gompers' visit to Hammond and to Gary hardly provoked a ripple in the political excitement. The great labor leader was visibly disappointed. To be greeted with a handful of laboring men in a hot-bed of union labor was certainly discouraging.

Crown Point will do herself proud tomorrow and the enterprising republicans of the county seat will "show" the rest of the county what it means to have a political rally and demonstration. North and Calumet township republicans should remember that the train leaves Hammond at 1:30 on the Erie.

Wadena.—The republicans of Union township held an enthusiastic meeting in the town hall at this place last night. Will R. Wood of Lafayette was the principal speaker. Daniel Frasier of Fowler also spoke. All the county candidates were present.

Tipton.—The brewers are putting up a strong fight to maintain their business, and the town and county have been flooded with literature giving statistics and citing instances which are calculated to prove the damage done to business on account of the "dry" condition of the county.

Bethford.—Attorney General James Ringham addressed an audience of republicans at the courthouse last night, while on a stand erected at the opening of the campaign a hundred feet from the courthouse, C. C. Daniels, a democratic politician from North Carolina, addressed an audience of democrats. Both speakers had good crowds.

Muncie.—An echo of the contest between the "wets" and the "drys" at the special election for state representative here last month was heard yesterday when George R. Bullard, an old man who was taking a poll of a precinct for the republicans, was badly cast down a flight of stairs by Thomas Hoey. Bullard was a pollbook holder for the republicans at the special election and when Hoey attempted to vote, challenged him because Hoey's name was not on the pollbook. Yesterday Bullard went to the place of residence given by Hoey to find if the latter really lived there and found out that he did. Bullard had Hoey arrested for assault.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 15.—The reception accorded Senator James A. Hemenway last evening was enthusiastic. The senator spoke before a large audience in the Oliver opera house and the speech was preceded by a parade

SPORTING NOTES

THE CUBS AT HOME.

Chicago's two-time world's champions returned to their own yesterday and received the congratulations of the city. The Cubs, fresh from their wonderful victory over the Tigers, and bearing their proud title ahead of them, reached home at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. Despite the early hour over 300 friends had gathered at the Michigan Central station to greet the team, and as the players emerged from their sleepers the crowd cheered each in succession.

The marks of the "joy club" night on the train still were visible, but most of the players were in great shape. They had escaped the enthusiasts who had made the night hideous and left a trail of noise from Detroit to Chicago, and secured at least some sleep.

It was a jolly party that celebrated the end of the most desperate season of the National League ever has known that disembarked from the train and hurried homeward.

LATONIA OFFICIALS

TO START TURF WAR.

Defy State Racing Commission by Inviting Bookmakers to Coming Meeting.

Cincinnati, O., 15.—The board of directors of the Latonia Jockey club met and invited a fight with the Racing Commission of Kentucky by adopting a resolution inviting reputable bookmakers to book at the Latonia meeting, which opens Monday. This move will start a big turf war.

When asked if the invitation to the bookies would not invite a legal battle with the racing commission, Henry Myers, vice president and attorney of the Jockey club, smiled and said: "Well, that is up to the commission."

Immediately after the directors drew up the resolution, Joseph Rhinock handed in his resignation as president of the Latonia Jockey club. His action was no surprise to the other directors. Rhinock's reason for resigning the office was that he could not give Latonia affairs the attention it needed because of his own campaign for re-election to congress.

NO MATINEE TODAY.
There was no matinee at the Washington Park speedway this afternoon, the South Speedway club having made arrangements to have their annual cup races over the course Saturday. There will be six classes for pacers with silver cups for first prize, and the season's cups will also be presented to the various winners during the afternoon. Judge James C. Dooley will make the presentation, and Magnus Flaws will officiate as starter. The park commissioners have decided to open the speedway an hour earlier so as to give plenty of time for the races.

No races will be held at the West Chicago Driving park at Austin, as to give the west riders a chance to witness the races on the south side.

The classes announced for Saturday at Washington park will be a 2:20 pace, free-for-all pace, 2:20 pace, 2:25 pace pace and green pace.

CAPTAIN BURCH TAKES COUNT.
Yale's Gridiron Leader Knocked Out in Scrimmage for Army Game.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 15.—Captain Bobby Burch of the Yale eleven received such a bump in practice this afternoon that he was stretched out unconscious in the field for several minutes, but he revived, and said tonight that he would be right on tip-toe for the game at West Point on Saturday. Neither Cooper nor Hobbs was able to play, and neither will get into the clash with the army mule.

TO FORM A NEW LEAGUE.
Laporte, Ind., Oct. 15.—Fred Dresch of Goshen has taken the preliminary steps for the organization of a northern Indiana baseball league for the through the business district. The Jim Watson club and the Young Voters' club participated in the march. A delegation of republicans from Elkhart, including the Taft and Sherman club, accompanied by the Conn Trumpet Note band and another crowd from Mishawaka, were on hand and took part in the parade. The Huntington Young Ladies' Quartet entertained the audience before and after the speech.

New York, Oct. 15.—John W. Kern, the democratic nominee for vice president, made an address before the Commercial Travelers' Association of New York today, speaking briefly on the issues of the presidential campaign and their relation to the business interests of the country. He will speak tonight at Tammany hall.

THE CREAM OF THE Morning News

Canvass taken among 3,000 members of National Manufacturers' association shows unanimous opinion that election of Taft will bring increase of trade.

City officials order West Pullman season of 1909. The league is to be composed of the cities of Laporte, Michigan City, South Bend, Goshen, Kendallville and Benton Harbor. These cities are located on interurban lines, and a schedule covering four months will be played. A permanent organization will be effected within a few days.

MCCOY GETS BACK IN THE RING TONIGHT.

Veteran Will Try His Corkscrew Punch on Jim Stewart in New York Ring.

New York, Oct. 15.—Kid McCoy, one of the greatest fighters of his inches that ever lived, will re-enter the ring tomorrow night at the National A. C. in this city. His opponent will be Jim Stewart, the big local heavyweight, who was touted as coming champion until Jim Barry stopped him in a fierce bout a few months ago. The bout will be watched with the greatest interest by the fans of the country over. It will give McCoy a chance to show whether he still can lay an opponent low with the corkscrew punch which he made famous.

McCoy has been training steadily for six months and is in the best condition possible for him. He looks as good as ever, but it remains for the fight itself to show whether the Kid still retains all his old cleverness, speed and stamina.

WOLGAST 10-6 CHOICE FOR FIGHT WITH WEEKS.

Milwaukee Featherweight Makes Good Impression on Los Angeles Fans.

Los Angeles, Oct. 15.—Freddie Weeks resents the popular belief that he will be defeated by Al Wolgast at Vernon Saturday afternoon.

"There's only one man of my weight in the world who has anything on me, and he is Al Wolgast," said the Cripple Creek boxer tonight. "I'll slip over a surprise party on some of these wise guys Saturday afternoon."

At the betting stands tonight 10 to 6 was being offered on Wolgast to win, while even money was on tap that Weeks would not last twenty rounds.

The Milwaukee man made a favorable impression here by the vicious manner in which he fought Webster, and Wolgast's talk of wanting to fight Attell or Moran is being taken seriously.

IMPROVED HOOSIER TEAM EXPECTS TO BEAT BADGERS.

Indiana Eleven Awaits Coming of Wisconsin With Confidence.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 15.—After a third hard night of scrimmaging, the Indiana varsity is in excellent shape for Wisconsin Saturday, and Sheldon says he has no fears of the result. The Hoosiers are 50 per cent better than they were at the Chicago game as regards endurance, steadiness and speed in pulling off their plays. Cunningham is playing quarter and Bend right half back. The shift in these positions is considered a wise move and is getting the ginger into the back field which it lacked in the Chicago game.

At scrimmaging tonight the playing was ragged, but a long signal practice tomorrow night with a good talk from Sheldon is expected to get the men in trim. Trimble, right tackle, is suffering with two boils on his right leg and may not be able to play Saturday.

JOHN L. ON WATER WAGON FOR FIFTY YEARS MORE.

Celebrates Birthday by Spurring Drinks and Renewing Pledge.

Hot Springs, Ark., Oct. 15.—John L. Sullivan celebrated his fiftieth birthday here today by pledging himself to remain on the water wagon for fifty years more. This declaration was made in the presence of a large circle of admirers. The ex-champion spurned an invitation to partake of a mixture which had been especially prepared for him containing ten drops of whiskey with a quantity of seizer.
