TIGERS DEFEAT CUBS IN BENEFIT GAME, 7-3.

Pitchers Take Matters Easy and the Hitting Becomes Terrific.

A few crumbs of comfort fell into the laps of American league rooters when the Tigers won yesterday's benefit exhibition game from the Cubs on the West Side grounds, 7 to 3.

Exactly 6,664 people paid to see the recent rivals for world's honors mix again, the players netting about $125 each. The coin was evenly divided—not 75 and 25. They saw a typical exhibition game—everybody working but the pitchers. The contest looked for all the world like the opening game of the season down south when all hands, except the fingers want to see how hard they can play. But, of course, when the pitching is not of the best there isn't much of a ball game to be seen.

It was the same on both sides. Neither Mullin nor Winter, who twirled for Detroit, threw a dozen curves; Reilbach and Overall all also refused to take chances with their arms and merely steamed the ball straight over the plate. Now and then when a pitcher was deep in the hole he would work hard to get out.

PLENTY OF FOOTBALL SURPRISES HANDED OUT.

Football enthusiasts had plenty of surprises handed to them in Saturday's games. Greatest of all perhaps was that at Marshall field, where the Maroons and Illinois held forth in their annual battle. Most of the rooters had picked Chicago by a big score owing to the previous work of the two squads. But the down-state men showed up wonderfully strong, holding the Maroons down to a 11 to 6 score and outplaying the local eleven in the second half.

Minnesota surprised even its most ardent admirers in the powerful fight it put up against the strong Nebraska bunch. With only four veterans on the team, and none of them behind the line, the Gophers literally walked all over the husky cornhuskers. Three times Minnesota was within the five-yard line, and it was owing to the greenness of its quarter back that the ball was not shoved across. The result of this game, in the actual playing, shows the Gophers entitled to considerable consideration this season in figuring out the championship dope.

WOLGAST REMAINS FAVORITE.

Los Angeles, Oct. 18.—Freddie Weeks and Ad Wolgast were somewhat at a loss as to what to do with themselves following the postponement of their bout from last Saturday until tomorrow. Neither wished to do any hard work, but each took a brisk walk, interspersed with sprints. Wolgast will be favorite when the boys step in the ring tomorrow. The new rover over Jeffries' arena had been constructed so hastily that it was found the drizzle of the day made the place untenable Saturday.

BADGERS ARE FULLY SATISFIED.

Content With Victory Over Hoosiers—Players Are Hurt.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 18.—Feeling deeply satisfied in being able to defeat the Indiana team yesterday, the Wisconsin university football squad arrived home from Bloomington, Ind., tonight. Some of the members of the team criticised the Hoosiers for rough treatment of "Keeble" Moll, the badger quarter back, who seemed to be marked for hard handling because of his goal killing ability.

He was all but knocked out at the end of the first half, and in the second half he became so groggy that he didn't realize what he was doing and had to be replaced by Cunningham.

"Jumbo" Stihm also came out of the contest in bad shape, having sustained a broken nose and developed a serious "charley horse." The other players came out of the game in fairly good condition. The game with Minnesota on Nov. 7 is not particularly feared, but that with Chicago Nov. 7 will be the hardest of the season.

YOUNG MAHONEY WINS.

Pugilist Who Fought in Hammond Successful in Missouri.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 18.—A damper was put in the pugilistic aspirations of Billy Rhodes this afternoon when Young Mahoney of Racine was given the decision over the Kansas City boy at the end of twenty rounds of milling. The fight was held in disputed territory, over which the jurisdiction of the authorities is not certain.

Mahoney's showing was remarkable in that he fought with an injured hand for sixteen rounds. The battle took place on an island in the Missouri river and was witnessed by 500 fight followers.

It was a slashing good bout for the first four rounds. Then the Racine boxer injured his hand, and from that time on it was good for defensive purposes only. Laboring under this disadvantage, Mahoney came out of the encounter without a scratch, while one of Rhodes' eyes was badly cut and his body was freely marked as a result of Mahoney's clever fighting.

CORNELL UPSETS RECKONINGS.

Defeat of Ames Puts Football in Iowa in a Big Mix-up.

Des Moines, Oct. 18.—All Iowa football dope was upset yesterday when Cornell college defeated the champion Ames team by 6 to 0. It was the biggest football sensation in four years. The Ames team, composed of veterans, was defeated by a surprising punting game played by Cornell.

Coppers' booting ability had never before been reckoned with in Iowa football, and it proved the undoing of the champions. Cornell has always been considered a third-rate team, but Coach Williams of Ames admits that it won on straight football and superior generalship.

Ames does not play Iowa this year, but does play Drake. Drake does not play Cornell. Grinnell and Drake play this week. Dopesters are hopelessly at sea.

GOOD OUTLOOK FOR HARVARD.

Rooters Take Courage Over Big Score Against Springfield.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 18.—The victory of Harvard over the Springfield Training school eleven of 44 to 0 yesterday has given the crimson supporters better courage than before this season. The Springfield team is composed of men who average older than Harvard's men by two years or more, and they are one of the most formidable eleven in the East. None of the varsity men suffered any injuries in yesterday's game.
