

FROM NEIGHBORING TOWN AND CITY

NEWS OF THE COUNTY SEAT

MISHAP TO LADY ON WAY TO MEETING.

Thrown From Buggy and Is Badly Injured Near Town.

Mrs. Kelsey and three children of Lowell, were quite badly hurt while driving to town on Saturday to attend the Watson rally, by their horse becoming frightened and overturning the buggy throwing the occupants to the ground. Mrs. Kelsey suffered painful bruises and it was thought at first that her hip was broken, but on better examination it was discovered that such was not the case.

Ruth Williams, a young girl from the same town, fell off one of the seats while the buggy was driving to Crown Point and had her foot smashed by the wheel running over it. These are the only accidents that happened during the day that were of any importance.

CROWN POINT TEAM NOSED OUT OF VICTORY.

Rensselaer Wins Its Game By a Score of 12 to 11 on Saturday.

The Crown Point high team and the Rensselaer high aggregation had an exciting game of football at the latter town on Saturday. The Rensselaer boys being victorious by a score of 12 to 11. The rooters that accompanied the team report that Crown Point ought to have won but for a foul by one of its members. A return game is being arranged for in the near future and the local eleven are confident they can win. About 15 players and rooters composed the Crown Point delegation.

EVERYBODY IS FOR J. E. WATSON.

Crown Point Does Herself Proud As You Can Plainly See.

He came, he saw, and he conquered. Rather he came, he saw and he won, for there was little to conquer in Crown Point, the crowd with one mighty accord taking Jim Watson to their hearts without the least protest or show of resistance and what a mighty jostling, good natured, friendly gathering it was. What a hungry mob it was, hungry for food, hungry for ideas, hungry to show where and how it stood, long before the time necessary to show the last. And right well did Jimmy Watson fulfill the last three requirements, and if the republicans in charge did not satisfy the desires of the host in the way of food, it was only because Crown Point was cleaned up slick as a platter and to quote a participant in the day's events, "nothing left in town but a few tooth picks and most of them had the edges well chewed off." It wasn't a hungry-looking mob that came to town either, few hoboes were seen in the gathering, and it was composed mostly of men that wore vests that looked two sizes too small in girth for them. But eat, gosh, you should have seen them. Cheer, gosh, you should have heard them. That's the way the whole affair was. Nothing half-hearted about it, nothing of doubt, nothing of uncertainty.

Everything was gone through with a republican dash and vim, from the very minute that the cannon boomed, the day's awakening in the morning until the orchestra had played the last strains of Home, Sweet, Home, late Saturday night and the tired but satisfied throng wended their way homeward to dream of Watson, barbecues, hands, noises, cheers, speeches and good fellowship until they awoke next morning wishing they could do it all over again. It is hard to describe the magnitude of the big event, that far exceeded the expectations of the most sanguine member of the arrangement committee, and to do it all justice would like more space than could be allowed in these columns, but probably the best way of informing those who were not present that the day was a

EVER WATCHFUL

A Little Care Will Save Many Hammond Readers Further Trouble.

Watch the kidney secretions. See that they have the amber hue of health.

The discharges not excessive or infrequent. Contains no "brick-dust like" sediment.

Doan's Kidney Pills will do this for you.

They watch the kidneys and cure them when they're sick.

Mrs. F. W. Nimon, formerly living at 22 Plummer avenue, Hammond, Ind., says: "For a year my daughter suffered continually from kidney disease. Her kidneys had been weak from babyhood and she had no control over the secretions especially at night. This caused us considerable worry and extra work. She was run down in health, pale and delicate looking, and in a nervous condition. Having often read of the cures brought about by Doan's Kidney Pills, I purchased a box at Bicknell & Co's drug store, deciding to give them a trial. They were given to the girl according to directions and they took immediate effect. Within a week, the secretions became less frequent and the headaches disappeared, and after taking the contents of four boxes, her condition was excellent. This was over a year ago, and today she is in the best of health."

mightily success from beginning to end, is to tell them that even the democrats had to admit the fact, and the potency and importance of the meeting as a vote-getter for the county and state ticket was shown on the smiling faces of the republican candidates and workers and a corresponding expression of dismay from the democratic adherents. To give the latter credit it is to be said that with a few exceptions every courtesy and respect was shown. Watson and his followers and the few overt-acts were shown by one or two narrow minded and biased partisans by placing Watson's picture in their windows with the back to the street. Watson was met at Lowell about nine o'clock in the morning by a delegation in automobile.

Accident On Main Street.

While turning the corner on Main and Clark streets Saturday night the horse, driven by two girls and a young man, whose names it was impossible to procure, slipped and fell and dragged the girl who was driving over the sidewalk into the pavement. The young man in the buggy jumped to the rescue and stopped the horse as soon as the animal got up or the consequence might have been serious to the girl considering the position she was in. Several bruises to the young woman and a pair of broken shafts and dash-board was the extent of the injuries.

Praise of Candidate.

A politician from Chicago, who heard Watson speak on Saturday was heard in his praises of the man as a man and an orator and said that he had heard Bryan and all the rest of the noted speakers but that none of them could touch Watson for oratory and sound logic and his remarkable ability is holding a crowd.

Many Autos Visit City.

Automobiles from Chicago and Hammond were out in force yesterday taking advantage of the beautiful weather and many parties from both places were noticed on our streets. No accidents were reported except a collision of one of the machines with an electric light pole near Opal's farm on the Cedar Lake road in which the pole and the machine were both damaged to quite an extent. The machine hailed from Valparaiso. The pole was cracked in two while the glass wind shield of the machine was broken into splinters.

Considering the nature of the gathering on Saturday it was remarkable that no fights or quarrels resulted from the day's celebration as party feeling is running at high speed and no breaks just at present. Nothing happened to mar the day and even mother nature lined up on the republican side and handed out a beautiful day.

Nearly every body and his neighbor in Lake and Porter counties were here Saturday and they were all unanimous in their praises of the celebration and the way it was considered. Walter Wellman's dope on the Indiana situation politically, as appeared in the Record-Herald the last two days looks like he got his information at St. John's. Wellman should have visited Lake county on Saturday and he would have seen nearly all the forces that he says are working in Bryan's favor, doing just the same thing for Taft and Watson. The laboring man shoulder to shoulder with the man of money, preaches saloonkeeper, etc., all in a good big crowd cheering Watson in a republican speech doesn't seem like Indiana for Bryan. No the people from Indiana are reputed as people with brains and the merchant and manufacturer isn't ready to take out Bryan insurance and furthermore the laboring man isn't going to jeopardize his own and employer's changes of more prosperous times. Guess again Wellman.

Fortunately no one was hurt and none of the cars left the track, except the coal car.

Yew Trees in Churchyards.

Yew trees were originally planted in churchyards to protect them from cattle, and so preserve them for the making of bows and arrows.

WHITING NEWS

Gets Bad News.

Mrs. Mike Harr of New York avenue received a message Friday evening from Point Richmond, Cal., stating that the condition of her father, Maurice Hartnett had shown such a rapid decline that it was necessary for her to come there at once. Mrs. Harr left for the California city Saturday.

The illness of Maurice Hartnett, formerly a most respected citizen of this city, is extremely sad. His health has been failing him for the past year and a half. After spending some weeks in the hospital in Point Richmond he thought a trip would benefit him, so he came to Whiting in company with his daughter, Miss Jane, and then they went on to Washington, where they resided before coming to Whiting. After coming back here from Washington he not being satisfied they soon returned to California. As soon as he reached home he was again compelled to return to the hospital, where he was told that an operation would be the only means of saving his life.

Once more he returned to Whiting for the purpose of consulting Dr. Billings, the noted Chicago physician, at the Presbyterian hospital. After undergoing an examination at the hands of Dr. Billings, and being in the hospital two weeks Mr. Hartnett was informed that the cancers with which he was suffering had gained such a headway that he was absolutely powerless in the case, and they would just have to take their course. After a cross country chase in the hopes of being cured, this news proved to be much more than Mr. Hartnett could stand, and he left the Presbyterian hospital not only broken in health but also broken in spirits.

Returning to Whiting again he spent two weeks with his daughter, Mrs. Harr, but was very dissatisfied. Miss Jane of Indiana, his daughter, spent Friday visiting friends in South Chicago.

While going to the republican rally at Crown Point Saturday two of Lowell's ladies met with quite serious accidents. Mrs. Merit Kelsey was driving their faithful family horse when it took fright at an automobile, throwing her in a ditch at the side of the road, spraining her hip and rendering her in a helpless condition. The automobile party stopped their machine and brought her back to her home in Mill street. The other accident happened to Miss Ruth Williams. She was one who composed a hayrack party of young ladies. The box on which Miss Williams was seated broke precipitating her to the ground under the heavily-laden wagon, one of the wheels running over her foot, smashing all her toes and spraining her ankle. Both Mrs. Kelsey and Miss Williams are under a physician's care, and it is hoped by their many friends that their recovery will be rapid.
