MR. MARSHALL DID NOT TELL THEM.

MR. MARSHALL HAS LEFT Lake county. He spoke in Hammond, at Indiana Harbor, at Crown Point and at Whiting; behind him leaving a trail of disappointment and dissatisfaction. Mr. Watson had already in Lake county concisely stated his stand on the temperance question. Mr. Marshall did not state his. Fully 75 per cent of the voters who went to hear Marshall went to hear him because they wanted to know what he was going to do about the county option law.

They didn't need Marshall to tell them anything about Lincoln, the great Emancipator, the great republican. They were somewhat surprised to find that the Bryanites after claiming Roosevelt as one of theirs, were now claiming Lincoln. They didn't come to hear about the old soldier who was covered with graybacks; they didn't come to hear about the terrible revolution that was going to come, or about the clock of progress was going to stop. They came to hear what Marshall had to say on the question of county option, the question that he has ducked up and down the state of Indiana.

They wanted to know why the brewery trust is running the democratic campaign in Indiana? Mr. Marshall did not tell them.

They wanted to know why the word has gone forth to every brewery-saloon in the state that Mr. Watson, the republican candidate must be defeated? Mr. Marshall did not tell them.

They wanted to know why circulars have been issued declaring that the election of Mr. Marshall will be a "rebuke to the fanatics" who have put "the iniquitous law" on the statute books? Mr. Marshall did not tell them.

They wanted to know why the Indiana Federation of Labor was controlled by emissaries of the brewers and henchmen of the democratic organization? Mr. Marshall did not tell them.

They wanted to know why the fight now in state affairs is between the brewers and brewery saloons on one side and the law abiding friends of temperance on the other? Mr. Marshall did not tell them.

They wanted to know why Representative Burton Green, a democrat, was read out of his party by Tom Taggart because he heeded the voices of his democratic and republican constituents and voted for county option? Mr. Marshall did not tell them.

They wanted to know why the brewery combine sent its emissaries into Lake county to hold secret sessions with the brewery saloonkeepers and get them to work for the defeat of Watson? Mr. Marshall did not tell them.

They wanted to know how the millionaire brewery trust comes to think it can get the decent democrats and republicans to vote to keep the breweries and the brewery saloon in politics? Mr. Marshall did not tell them.

They wanted to know why, if Marshall is so much against trusts and predatory wealth, he is sleeping in the same bed as the insolent arrogant brewery trust of Indiana with millions in Cincinnati and Chicago to back it? Mr. Marshall did not tell them.

They wanted to know why the brewery trust is spending barrels of money and will spend barrels more in the next week to defeat Watson, when the people of Indiana want county option? Mr. Marshall did not tell them.

AND BECAUSE HE DID NOT TELL THEM THE PEOPLE OF LAKE COUNTY WILL REMEMBER MR. MARSHALL AT THE POLLS.

In Hammond and Crown Point and from one end of Indiana to the other during the past few days the decent democrats and republicans of the state have been insulted by the glaring posters which present the democratic side of the county option issue. They are brewery-saloon documents. The brewery saloons are fighting for their lives and expect the fathers of boys, the makers of homes and law-abiding people to vote for Marshall after reading them. Realizing that they can't appeal to the moral spirit of the people of the great commonwealth of Indiana, the glaring posters appeal to the business interests of the state.

Mind you the brewers have put up the posters to help elect Marshall and a democratic legislature—to influence voters. We have a right to answer the posters. They show pictures purporting to illustrate the ruin following abolition of the saloons in Kansas City. Governor Hoch, of Kansas was sent one of the posters asking if it was true. Listen to what he says:

"As a matter of fact the enforcement of prohibition in Kansas City, Kan., has proven of untold value to the city, not only morally and educationally, but financially as well. I am inclosing you a copy of a circular gotten out by the Commercial club of Kansas City, Kan., refuting the statements made by this circular issued by the brewers. This circular shows that the city is prospering as it has never prospered before. I am also inclosing you a copy of a speech made by Assistant Attorney General C. W. Trickett, giving facts to show that the enforcement of the law has greatly benefited the city in every way. I call your especial attention to a statement made by Mr. C. L. Brokaw, cashier of the Commercial National bank, Kansas City, Kan. Mr. Brokaw's bank is the largest in the city and he is one of the prominent bankers of the west, being formerly president of the Kansas Bankers' association. Mr. Brokaw says that during the time since the saloons were closed they have had the largest increase of new business they have had in any equal period in the bank's history. He says that their bank holds the accounts of more than 50 per cent of the business houses of the city and that merchants say that business has been better than they have ever known before. He says further that during his residence of nearly seventeen years conditions were never so good as they are today. Crime has been greatly decreased, business in every legitimate line is better than it ever was and although at the beginning of the movement for law enforcement many of the business men were opposed to it because they thought it would hurt the city financially, there has been a wonderful change of sentiment there, and under no consideration would the citizens go back to the old conditions."

Now the brewers themselves precipitated this. The democrats have the brewers to thank for it. The question belonged to later campaigns, until the brewers interfered. Their unholy zeal will defeat Marshall. The rights of the saloon were not at issue—the only issue was the right of the people to say whether the saloons shall be allowed. As Mr. Watson said in Hammond, "It is your law, not mine." The law has been made. It is on the statute books. If the people of Indiana want the brewers ousted from ruling the state they will vote for James E. Watson. If they believe that the rights of Lieber-Bell-Fairbanks, millionaire brewery combine, aided by such fellows as the notorious Sol Van Praag, of Chicago, now a brewery agent who was an attraction at the Marshall meeting in Crown Point yesterday, are greater than the right of the respectable people of Indiana, then Marshall will be elected.

IT IS UP TO YOU, MR. VOTER—YOU WHO HAVE YOUR LITTLE HOME AND YOUR CHILDREN TO BRING UP TO BECOME LAW-ABIDING CITIZENS—IT IS UP TO YOU TO DECIDE WHICH NEXT TUESDAY WEEK—INDIANA RUN BY BREWERS OR INDIANA RUN BY THE PEOPLE!

"COFFIN NAILS."

Cigarettes—crime. The one is the accomplice of the other, says Inspector McCafferty of New York's headquarters detective bureau.

"Fully 85 per cent of the people we arrest," he says, "are cigarette fiends." Crime—cigarettes.

Harry Thaw, the degenerate who shot Stanford White, is a confirmed cigarette smoker.

Thaw sat at a table on Madison Square Garden just before the murder, brooding and smoking cigarette after cigarette. His first request behind the prison bars was for cigarettes. His nervous system is wrecked by the "papers."

Captain Hains, who shot Annis a few weeks ago, has for years been a slave to cigarette smoking. In describing the man, following his arrest, a reporter says:

"His complexion is yellow, his eyes amber hued and sunken, his lips puffed and cracked and his fingers blotched with the nicotine stains that betray the 'fiend' smoker. He is EXTREMELY NERVOUS and IRRITABLE."

Now—

The statements of the close connection between cigarettes and crime are not taken from any tract of an anti-tobacco society. They are not the statements of a crank reformer.

The testimony is from police officers, physicians, newspaper reporters—men who know.

Therefore, young man, the advice comes seriously: CUT OUT THE CIGARETTES!

The habit may not lead you directly to commit a crime. But will put you in a FRAME OF MIND to do it. You will lose control of your nerves. When you can no longer bridle that part of you, you are liable to do desperate things should occasion arise. Cut out the cigarettes.

If you MUST smoke, use a pipe or cigar.

You would be much better off without tobacco, but if you are determined to smoke do not use cigarettes.

Young man—

Already the slight tremor of your hand shows that the network of delicate nerves by which your feet and hands are wired to your brain is shattered and jangled.

Throw away the "coffin nails." Repair the telegraph lines.

Carlton.

Will Carlton, the noted poet and lecturer, was born Oct. 21, 1845, in Hudson, Mich. He received his education in Hillsdale college and after his graduation from that institution in 1869 he did newspaper work in Detroit and Chicago. A few years later his ballads began to attract attention and in the early 90's New York society became interested in the poet and for a time his readings were the rage throughout the country. During these years he appeared with much success upon the lecture platform through the United States, Great Britain and continental Europe. In recent years he has been employed chiefly as a magazine editor. Of the many poems Mr. Carlton has written by far the best known are "Betsy and I Are Out" and "Over the Hill to the Poorhouse."

MUST SAVE RURALITES, SAYS EPISCOPAL BISHOP

"Church Neglects County People," Declares the Rt. Rev. White.

The Rt. Rev. John Hazen White, Bishop of Michigan City, declared at the closing session of the missionary council of the fifth department in St. James Episcopal church that the Episcopal church does not make an effort to reach people outside the cities.

"The Episcopal church," said the Bishop, "is the church of the city alone. We must bring the church to the rural districts." Bishop White also criticized the conduct of the council.

The Rev. John Henry Hopkins will resign as rector of the Church of the Epiphany to become departmental secretary to the rural district work.

The following men were elected officers of the "big" speakers by the state republican and democratic committees and between now and election will have James E. Watson, candidate for governor; William Jennings Bryan, democratic candidate for president; William H. Taft, republican candidate for president; and Senator Albert J. Beveridge.

RANDOM THINGS AND FLINGS

We don't feel sorry for Sam Abelman if the only charge against him is that he wears silk underwear. It would be different if he didn't wear any.

The saddest words of tongue or pen are these: "He was too lazy to begin."

Wonder where Wellman is sewed up with a bunch of highballs today giving straw votes to a stenographer?

Hubbs and His Levy.

For President WILLIAM H. TAFT

"He is as strong as he is gentle. His reputation is simply spotless. In all the agitation of a heated campaign for the greatest office in the world, no one has ventured to intimate a doubt of the absolute honesty of this man who has been before the country for a quarter of a century. Nor can any one successfully dispute the simple proposition that in the whole history of the United States no one was ever named for the presidency who was so fitted by nature, by training and by experience for the duties, dignities and responsibilities of that unique office—CHARLES HOPKINS, in 'The Independent'."

For V-President JAMES S. SHERMAN

"We certify to all the great electors that when their votes in November shall have chosen James S. Sherman to be vice president of the United States, the senate will be sure of a presiding officer in character and competency worthy of the best traditions of that great deliberative body, and that which God forbid—the sad contingency were to come which should for a fourth time call a vice president from New York to the executive office, the interests of the whole country would be safe in good hands, and the great office of the presidency would suffer no decadence from the high standard of dignity and honor and competency of which we are so justly proud—EDWARD ROOT, at Sherman Notification Ceremonies."

UP AND DOWN IN INDIANA

TAUGHT BOYS GAMBLING.

Convicted of conducting a gaming room in a barn, provided with padded doors, deadened walls and floor covered with sawdust, his patrons boys in their teens, Noah Massey of Kokomo, arrested by Patrolman Meeker, was sent to jail for thirty days by Judge Cooper and fined $25.

DEEDS VS. PROMISES.

Deeds versus promises were contrasted by John L. Griffiths, consul to Liverpool, in a speech at Evans hall, in Evansville, tonight, where he answered the speech of Samuel Gompers on Sunday.

OFFICER'S HAT SHOT OFF.

Justice Charles Glenn of Decker attempted to arrest John McKinley near the Wabash river last night and a pistol duel followed, in which the officer's hat was shot from his head.

100 PASSENGERS THREATENED.

One hundred passengers on Chicago & Erie train No. 9, westbound, were imperiled near Wilders, Laporte county, today, when the train narrowly escaped dropping into the Kankakee river because of the burning of the bridge. The structure was ignited by the forest fires.

TO BREAK PIANO RECORD.

Roy E. Harding of Indianapolis, who is playing in one of the electric theaters in Shelbyville, began this morning an attempt to break the world's record at piano playing. He commenced at 10 o'clock and will try and play until 10 o'clock Tuesday night.

TRACTION MEN RETURN.

Officers of the Indiana Union Traction company of Anderson, who were in attendance at the annual meeting of the American Street and Interurban Railway association, held at Atlantic City, have returned.

TALK OF STATE CHARITIES.

Many questions of deep importance to those interested in organized charities were taken up at the seventeenth annual session of the Indiana state conference of charities and corrections in session at South Bend.

MISSIONARIES TO MEET.

The sixth annual convention of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church will be in session in the College Avenue Methodist church of Bloomington Tuesday and Wednesday.

LABOR DEFIES GOMPERS.

Samuel Gompers' appearance in Anderson this morning was embarrassed by the refusal of local labor leaders to mount the special platform when the report was circulated that it had been constructed by non-union workmen. Mr. Gompers' address was a general resume of previous speeches.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

William Thornton of Richmond, colored, who was shot Saturday night by Sherman Kellar, also colored, died tonight at Reid hospital. Kellar will be charged with murder. Mrs. Thornton is also held.

MAY DIE OF WOUND.

Marshall Hollowell of Rushville, who shot himself and his sweetheart, Miss Mary Kirtle, last spring following a jealous estrangement, and who regained the girl's affections when both recovered, was operated on today for the old wound and likely will die.

IN POLITICS

The Taft banner which was strung across Hoffman street in Hammond yesterday, attracts a good deal of attention and will undoubtedly fill its purpose.

County Chairman F. R. Schaaf is visiting the different townships in Lake county this week to warn the republicans to be on the lookout for tricks and democratic dodges next week.

County Treasurer Albert Maack was in Hammond yesterday, and says that Marshall had a fair crowd in Crown Point, but he failed to see where the democratic candidate for governor made any votes.

North Vernon—This city will be visited by two presidential candidates this week, Debs in his "Red Special" Wednesday, and Taft Thursday morning. There are few socialists in this county, but they will endeavor to work up a big crowd for their candidate, who is scheduled to arrive here at 1 p. m.

The republicans are preparing to give Taft a warm welcome. A band will greet him at the station and other speakers will be present to discuss issues should the Taft train be late in arriving.

Greenfield—Saturday will be another big political day in this city. Four speakers besides the governor are advertised. The oratory will begin early. It is expected that several thousand will be at the Pennsylvania station at 7:30 to hear and see Mr. Taft.

Charles B. Case of Oklahoma will speak at 9:30 and Judge Barnard will close in the evening. Among the features of the day will be the life and drum corps of twenty pieces, the New-castle Glee club of forty members, the ladies' mandolin club from Knights-town, the McCordville drum corps and five bands.

Muncie—The local republican party leaders are concentrating their energies in an effort to make the rally here on Taft day, which is next Friday, the biggest celebration given by any party in eastern Indiana in the campaign. The republican county committee expects to have between 1,500 and 2,000 horsemen in the parade to be given in the morning. The various townships are to send to Muncie gaily decorated floats, and a large silk flag is to be waved at the township sending the most beautiful float. A feature of the mounted section of the parade will be a delegation of fifty to one hundred women on horseback.

Newcastle—Henry county seems to be especially favored in the assignment of the "big" speakers by the state republican and democratic committees and between now and election will have James E. Watson, candidate for governor; William Jennings Bryan, democratic candidate for president; William H. Taft, republican candidate for president; and Senator Albert J. Beveridge.

Shelbyville—Clarence T. Fraker, who is making the race on the republican ticket for joint senator of Shelby and Johnson counties, yesterday announced that he is in favor of the recent county local option bill passed by the legislature and will neither vote for its repeal nor for amendments to make it township or ward option. He asks the democratic candidate, W. H. Yearling, to make a statement by Thursday.

Indianapolis, Oct. 20.—John Mitchell, for years president of the United Mine Workers, gave out a statement today in which he said he had sent out no posters, with picture of himself, advising union men how to vote in the coming election. Such posters, it is said, have been received by many unions. He also denied the authenticity of a dispatch printed in a Buffalo paper and purporting to come from him, in the interests of one of the presidential candidates.

In a speech at Nashua, N. H., last night, Eugene W. Chaffin, prohibition candidate for president said: "If one-third of the prohibitionists in the country vote for me I shall be elected."

In an address last night before the Detroit chapter of the American Institute of Banking, Henry Clews of New York strongly opposed government guaranty of bank deposits as too paternalistic and "uncalled for interference with legitimate banking."

The windstorm last night finished the destruction of the large Taft banner which has occupied a conspicuous place on one of the prominent business streets of Lincoln, Neb. The stringing of the banner by the republican committee just about the time Mr. Bryan was nominated caused a considerable political commotion.

The two branches of the Vermont legislature, voting separately, yesterday re-elected United States Senator William P. Dillingham for another term of six years and elected former Governor Carroll S. Page to fill the remainder of the unexpired term of the late United States Senator Redfield Proctor. Both are republicans.

Democrats of Kansas are hopeful of carrying two congressional districts in that state. They are contesting their fight on the fifth and sixth districts where W. A. Calderhead and W. A. Reeder are the republican candidates for re-election.

Olney Arnold, the democratic nominee for governor of Rhode Island, is a prominent business man of that state. He is a warm admirer of William J. Bryan and has always supported the Nebraskan in his fight for the presidency.

Webster Davis, former mayor of Kansas City, who bolted the republican ticket in 1906 to take the stump for William J. Bryan, is now living in Los Angeles, and according to a recent report he has returned to the republican fold.

George E. Cole of Chicago, known throughout Illinois as a militant reformer, has become a prohibitionist and will vote for Eugene W. Chaffin, for president. Mr. Cole is head of the legislative voters league in Chicago.

The campaign of Eugene V. Debs for the presidency has received a notable recruit in the person of W. C. Cronmeyer of McKeesport, Pa. Known as the father of the tin plate industry, and who assisted in the framing of the McKinley tariff bill.

The action of the yearly meeting of the Friends' church of Oklahoma, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri, in passing resolutions condemning Speaker Cannon on account of his attitude on the temperance question, is somewhat remarkable in view of the fact that Mr. Cannon was reared in the Quaker faith.

James H. Vahey, whom the democrats of Massachusetts have nominated for governor, is a resident of Watertown, that state, and a lawyer by profession. His first spring into prominence as counsel for Charles J. Tucker, the youth who was electrocuted several years ago for the Mabel Page murder. Mr. Vahey's memorable struggle to save his client from the death chair attracted attention throughout the country.

THE CREAM OF THE Morning News

Straw ballot indicates that Taft will carry both North and South Dakota by pluralities of 14,000.

W. H. Taft speaks at many towns in western Maryland and West Virginia, winding up a strenuous day with two addresses in Parkersburg.

Senator Knox of Pennsylvania in an address at Philadelphia condensed an effort to stir up class feeling among workmen and deliver their votes to Bryan.

Republican campaign managers, owing to alarming reports from Ohio, decide to take no risks and will rush many prominent speakers into Taft's home state.

Doctrine of large families promulgated by President Roosevelt is applied to members of the Episcopal church and clergy by Rev. C. T. Brady.

Bribery and free-for-all fight figure in the day's developments in the Rhode Island case.

High school fraternities are denounced and the use of the rod is advocated at a meeting of the Illinois Congress of Mothers held in Evanston.

Four men are sealed to death in the engine room of the barge Maggie Marshall off Kenosha, Wis., and the survivors on the crippled vessel narrowly escape death in the lake.

Resolution denouncing Speaker Cannon introduced at State Federation of Labor meeting at Peoria.

Hains brothers are arraigned at Flushing, L. I., on an indictment for murder in the first degree and the case will probably be tried Nov. 2.

Enchanted by the eyes of a girl whom he secretly knew, Henry Muller stabs a passenger on an Atlantic liner and jumps overboard.

A Tramp's Dream

[Copyright, 1908, by T. C. McClure.]

One summer's day when Farmer Bingham was washing his hands at the kitchen door preparatory to the noonday meal a tramp turned in from the highway and asked for a bite to eat. He was asked if he would work for it, and after a look in the direction
