The choir received a pleasant surprise last evening when Mrs. George W. Lewis, its president, reported that the choir had been made the recipient of a gift of $25 for the purchase of new music. The boys will make themselves heard, however, in the demonstration that is sure to follow the appearance of the four great statesmen who will deliver the addresses of the evening, and will loudly proclaim their belief in the Taft-Beveridge-Hemenway-Watson legislation of the coming four years.

The Tigers will meet the Whiting Athletics at Sawmill park tomorrow afternoon and expect to win, although a narrow margin is predicted by followers of the gridiron contests. The local team has been weakened by the losing of three good players, Sternberg, Nellis and Brown, who have affiliated themselves with an Indiana Harbor football organization. Rev. H. P. Ivey of the First Methodist church of this city officiated on Thursday evening at the baptism of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Eason of Olcott street. The child was given the name "Marion Elvira" and the ceremony performed in the presence of a company of invited relatives and guests. The full ritual of the Methodist Episcopal church in all its simple beauty and strength of meaning was used by the pastor, who ordained that the life of the little one should be guided along paths leading to the work in the church of God in Indiana Harbor and other cities.

SPORTING NOTES

NORTHWESTERN BACK IN FOLD

Although Chicago, Minnesota and Wisconsin, the three contenders for the western championship, will be idle today, there is a big interest in the Evanston field. The game today will mark the reappearance of the purples in the football arena after two years of inactivity. Just how Northwestern will perform is a matter of great uncertainty, as not a single player has ever competed in an intercollegiate game.

Michigan takes on its old-time foe Ohio State University, at Columbus. The Wolverines have not shown any special strength to date, but are likely to come back strongly, now that their captain, Schultz and the rest of the veterans will be in the lineup. Ohio has generally played Michigan a hard contest, and this season is expected to be no exception to the rule.

WOLGAST AND ATTELL SIGNED

San Francisco, Oct. 23.—Ad Wolgast and Abe Attell were matched today by Baron Long, matchmaker of the Jeffries club at Vernon, Cal., for a twenty round go Nov. 10. Abe followed his old tactics of refusing to meet any hard hitting man in a lengthy bout and declined to let Long set the route for forty-five rounds. Wolgast is still in Los Angeles, where he has remained since Long abruptly canceled his bout with Weeks last Monday. The pending encounter will probably be fought at night as Long says the roofing of Jeffries' arena has been completed.

Kline is accused of keeping his store in a filthy condition, and the two officers were accompanied on their trip of prosecution by Building Commissioner W. J. Kilver, also of Gary, who was scheduled to be a star witness for the state. Owing to the absence of Judge G. E. Reiland in New York city, the case was continued for another week.

The navy squad went through practice for the game today, confining themselves to the lightest work.

Lang, the fleet quarter-back, who had a stiff leg yesterday, was out and showed such improvement that there is no fear that he will not be in tomorrow's game. The others of the team are all in good shape and in their half hour's work today showed much enthusiasm.

DELAY FOR M'FARLAND

In spite of announcements from the east that promoters are trying to get Battling Nelson into the ring with Packer McFarland for a six-round bout, friends of the Battery in Chicago state that he will be unable to enter the squared circle again before next March. This is because of an injury to his right hand, received in his last bout with Joe Gans. One of the bones in the hand, just behind the knuckles, was fractured in the contest and has healed so slowly that it will keep him from using the member in any strenuous fashion for some time.

Nelson wired to promoters in the east that he would be willing to meet McFarland. He sent this word from the train on which he left Thursday night for Boston, via Albany. He did not specify the time, however, and promoters in New York were reported as falling over each other to get a bout which could not possibly be scheduled for the immediate future.

When Nelson displayed his hand in this city it was found that the fractured bone had risen from its normal position and made a ridge in the back of the hand just behind the knuckles. The member will have to be reset.

Distance—255.06 miles.

Laps—Eleven times around circuit of 23.46 Miles.

Start—About 6:30 a. m.

Course—Special highway and road circuit in Nassau county, Long Island.

Nations represented—America, Germany, France and Italy.

Betting favorites—Robertson, Locomobile, No. 16, and Lyttle, Isotta, No. 6. New York, Oct. 23.—Ready to the last bolt and nut and screw, the seventeen automobiles named for the Vanderbilt cup were placed in their quarters around the circuit tonight to await the early call for a move to the starting line tomorrow morning. The same number of drivers and mechanics tried to snatch a wink of sleep that would help to sustain them on the long journey that stretched out ahead.

The great race of 255 miles is scheduled to start tomorrow morning between daylight and 7 o'clock, the time depending on the weather. That part of Long Island in which the circuit was laid out began to fill up today at an early hour with persons who had learned by experience in previous Vanderbilt cup races the difficulty of getting where they wished when starting at the eleventh hour. Even the morning trains had more than their usual quota of passengers and the numbers increased as the day wore on.
