Young Couple Wed Last Night

SCOTT-CRUMPACKER WEDDINGS.

One of the most brilliant weddings to take place in Hammond occurred last evening at 8 o'clock at the pretty residence of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Crumpacker, in Hammond, when their eldest daughter, Miss Harriett Crumpacker and Clarence A. Scott were married. The wedding, which was one of unusual beauty, was witnessed by 200 or more relatives and friends of the bridal couple. The beautiful nuptial service of the Episcopal church was read by the rector, Rev. Charles Albert Smith. The ring ceremony was used.

Mrs. Nellie Bicknell Dunham played the wedding march, and as the bride entered the parlor it was softly changed to the prelude of "Beloved It Is Morn," which was sweetly sung by Mrs. L. L. Bomberger. The Rev. Smith entered with the groom, who came from the large hall upstairs down to the parlor, where he was met by the bride, who came on the arm of her father. Directly preceding the bride was little Miss Dorothy Crumpacker, a sister of the bride, who served as ring bearer. She wore a dainty white dress and carried the ring on a white satin pillow. An aisle was formed through the home by garlands of smilax and flowers held by Estelle Russell, Mildred McElis, Dorothy Edwards, Margaret Turner, Clara Wiley and Beatrice Thomas, each of whom were prettily gowned in white. Little Elene Reiter and Julia Lawrence served as flower girls and carried white chrysanthemums and carnations tied with green foliage. After the bride and groom reached the altar, Mrs. Bomberger sang "I Love You Truly," and the wedding service was said.

The ceremony took place in the front parlor of the beautiful Crumpacker home before an altar made of flowers and ferns. The altar was made in a bay window, which was banked with ferns and potted plants. A canopy was also arranged with white chrysanthemums and carnations lined around festoons of foliage and trailing vines. Among the ferns and flowers and above the heads of the bride and groom were the letters C. and S. in miniature electric lights. As Miss Crumpacker and Mr. Scott were pronounced man and wife the lights in the letter C. were slowly turned out and left only S. burning.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of white satin fashioned in a semi-princess style and empire back. The dress had trimmings of real duchess and silk lace. She wore a long tulle veil, caught with lilies-of-the-valley, and carried an immense shower bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley tied with white satin streamers. The bride going away gown was a tailored suit of blue cloth, and she wore a large picture hat to match.

After the congratulations of the young couple the guests were served with a buffet luncheon in the diningroom. The luncheon was served in three courses and was carried out in the prevailing colors of green and white as far as possible. The rooms of the entire home had beautiful decorations of flowers and ferns. The table in the diningroom had an immense centerpiece of chrysanthemums and vines and green shaded tapers were also used. The library, music-room and reception hall had the windows prettily banked with foliage, and the chandeliers had garlands of the green vines. The lights had pretty shades of green tissue paper. Barnie Young's orchestra was stationed in the library and played a program of pretty wedding music during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott left during the evening for the east, where they will spend two weeks and then return to their home in Warren street, Homewood. The "at home" cards read Dec. 1.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Crumpacker, and has made her home here since girlhood. She is a graduate of the Hammond high school, later attending a fashionable young ladies' boarding school in Washington, D. C. She also spent one year at the Northwestern university at Evanston, leaving there to take a course in kindergarten work at the Chicago university. She graduated in this department and secured a position as teacher of kindergarten in the Washington school on the south side. Her work in the schools will be greatly missed, as she was a favorite among all the teachers with whom she came in contact and also with the children of her school. Mrs. Scott is one of Hammond's accomplished young ladies, having graduated from the Chicago Conservatory of Music, and is very popular in social circles here and throughout this and Porter counties. She is a member of the Hammond Women's club and also of the Embroidery club. Mr. Scott is one of the superintendents of the Inland Steel company at Indiana Harbor and has made his home in Hammond for several years, during which time he has won a valuable circle of friends. Mr. Scott is a graduate of the St. Louis college. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Scott, one of the old families in St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott received an elegant collection of gifts, including many beautiful pieces of old glass, silver, china and linen.

About 200 guests witnessed the ceremony and among those from out-of-town were: Mr. William Scott and three daughters, the Misses Cornelia, Mary Porter and Margaret, of St. Louis; Mr. George Scott of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Lamont of Evanston; Mr. Skinner of Chicago; Mr. George Wright of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Murray of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Hummel of Chicago; Miss Miller of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Merie of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Smith of Windsor Park; Mr. and Mrs. Kelly of Chicago; Mr. Ripley of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard of Chicago; Mrs. Luther of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. John Crumpacker of Laporte, Ind. and Mrs. Edgar D. stage director. As the characters are types taken from the people the author knew in the west, the costumes in many instances are the clothes worn by the originals, while in others they were made after the manner of the clothes of the originals of the characters. The scenery, too, has been built to represent the real place where the action of the piece is laid. At the Town Opera House tonight.

The presenting cast is headed by Walter Wilson, a comedian, who needs no introduction to the theater-going public of this city. He has been surrounded by a competent cast of fifteen principals and a male and female chorus of twenty, all of which have been selected because of their ability to sing and dance. A big evening of great fun and amusement can be expected at this house.

Voice of the People

NOTE FOR CRUMPACKER.

Editor, TIMES: I am particularly anxious to impress upon all of my friends the great importance of voting for Judge Edgar D. Crumpacker for re-election to congress. I know some felt "sore" because he did not see his way clear to grant their petition asking for his reappointment as postmaster, but after he had made a public promise he could not go back on his word. My conscience is clear that I did the best I could under the circumstances with the poor equipment and little help furnished by the government, and I am as loyal a supporter today as ever. Our able and honored representative in congress, I had the office for six years, unfortunately for me, when the town and its postal service were in the embryo state, and in a representative government, such as ours, it is no more than right to give all of our able and honored representatives the change, as I told our representative that, under the same conditions I did not want the office again after my term expired. Of course, with the better equipment and increased allowances I certainly should have liked the office again, but the generous treatment of Mr. Lundquist in appointing me his assistant has given me a better position than I ever had while postmaster. Mr. Crumpacker stands closer to the powers that be than any other man we could send to congress, and it is to your interest and mine—to the interest of every man, woman and child in the Calumet region—that we re-elect him.
